Counsel for Indirect Purchaser Plaintiffs

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT

NORTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

OAKLAND DIVISION

IN RE: LITHIUM ION BATTERIES ANTITRUST LITIGATION	Case No. 13-MD-02420 YGR (DMR) MDL NO. 2420
This Document Relates to: ALL INDIRECT PURCHASER ACTIONS	DECLARATION OF ATTORNEY KENNETH L ("KEN") MANN IN SUPPORT OF INDIRECT PURCHASER PLAINTIFFS' MOTION FOR AN AWARD OF ATTORNEYS' FEES AND REIMBURSEMENT OF EXPENSES ON BEHALF OF ADR OFFICE OF ATTORNEY KEN MANN fka ADR OFFICE OF KENNETH L MANN, ESQ.

I, Kenneth L. Mann, aka Ken Mann, declare:

1. At all relevant times herein since his involvement in this litigation in 2013, I have been Counsel for Christopher Hunt, individually and as a Class Representative for the Arizona Indirect Purchaser Plaintiffs ("IPPs" or "Plaintiffs") in this action . During that time, I have practiced law (as well as served as an arbitrator, mediator, and court special master) as a sole proprietor, with no partners, associates, paralegals, etc., and I currently practice as "ADR Office of Attorney Ken Mann"("my firm"). I submit this declaration in support of IPPs' Motion for an Award of Attorneys' Fees and Reimbursement of Expenses. I make this declaration based on my personal knowledge, and if called as a witness, I could and would competently testify to the matters stated herein.

2. The updated background and experience of the undersigned is summarized in the curriculum vitae attached hereto as Exhibit A.

3. My firm has prosecuted this litigation solely on a contingent fee basis and has been at risk that it would not receive any compensation for prosecuting claims against the defendants. While my firm has devoted substantial time and resources to this matter, it has foregone other legal work for which it would have been compensated.

4. During the pendency of the litigation, my firm performed the following work: As more particularly described in my firm's invoices previously submitted herein (ECF No. 1813-3). and updated this date to April 1, 2019, as discussed below and on Exhibit B-1 hereto, I have monitored these proceedings since my retention in this case, kept Arizona IPP Class Representative, Christopher Hunt, advised thereof, and otherwise communicated with him and with IPP Co-Lead counsel as needed -- including, without limitation, assisting Christopher Hunt in responding to requests for information and documents from Co-Lead counsel, defendants' requests for production, responses to defendants' interrogatories, preparing Christopher Hunt for his deposition, attending his deposition, reviewing the transcript of his deposition, conferring with him regarding errata thereon, reviewing and discussing with him and Co-Lead Counsel regarding proposed settlements and the status of this litigation as needed, communicating with Co-Lead counsel as requested, etc. Attached hereto as Exhibit B-2 is a billing summary of my firm's total hours and lodestar rate from March 1, 2017 to present -- of 4.3 hours at $300 per hour, respectively = $1,290.00 -- which rate is identical both to my current and my historical billing rate on this litigation since 2013 (as previously shown in Exhibit C of ECF No. 1813-3). This summary and the attached invoice at Exhibit B-1 reflecting the details thereof were prepared by me from contemporaneous emails, letters, court filings, conferences, etc., that were regularly received, reviewed, prepared, sent, or participated in with client and/or Co-Lead counsel, as applicable, and the relevant documents maintained by my firm; and the invoices only include my services rendered in connection with and in response to requests for said services from Co-Lead counsel.

5. A summary of work performed by my firm, and detailed billing records from June 1, 2013 to February 28, 2017, were previously submitted to the Court with my Declaration in Support of Indirect Purchaser Plaintiffs' Motion for an Award of Attorneys' Fees and Reimbursement of Expenses on behalf of my firm, and filed on May 26, 2017. (ECF No. 1813-3). My firm did not and does not seek attorneys' fees for any time prior to the appointment of Co-Lead counsel. See Order dated May 17, 2013 (ECF No. 198).

6. In summary, the total number of billable hours on this matter spent by the ADR Office of Attorney Ken Mann since June 1, 2013 to date is 103.8 hours [99.5 hours + 4.3 hours] with a corresponding lodestar based on current rates of $300 per hour is$31,140 [$29,850.00 + $1,290.00 = $31,140].

7. Attached hereto is a true copy of my Exhibit E that was filed herein as ECF #1813-3, page 39 on May 26, 2017, which sets forth $48.75 of unreimbursed costs and expenses incurred by my firm as of that date on behalf of the IPPs in connection with the prosecution of this case, and which remain unreimbursed to date. This amount is being reduced to $24.00 as explained in Exhibit E. The expenses reflected in Exhibit E were prepared from expense reports, vouchers, receipts, and bank records, and thus represent an accurate recordation of the expenses incurred. I have reviewed the time and expenses reported herein by the ADR Office Of Attorney

Ken Mann in this case which are included in this declaration, and I affirm that they are true and accurate.

I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the United States that the foregoing is true and correct.

Executed on April 8, 2019 at Scottsdale, Arizona.

/s/ Ken Mann

Kenneth L. ("Ken") Mann

*This Amended total as of April 16, 2019 is due to my discovery last week -- in connection with the current filing -- that I have misplaced the proof of payment on my September 30, 2014 overnight shipment via Federal Express of important relevant documents herein to IPP Class Counsel at Cotchett , Pitre & McCarthy, LLP; and FedEx has failed to respond to my request to search for and provide another copy. My September 30, 2014 services , cover letter, and shipment that day via FedEx for next day (October 1, 2014) delivery were reflected in my September 30, 2014 time entry on October 10, 2014 Invoice (# 177 Amended), previously filed herein.

However, lead counsel have advised me that under the Court's guidelines for reimbursement of expenditures, they understand my September 30, 2014 time entry on my October 10, 2014 invoice #177 is insufficient substantiation of my $24.75 payment to FedEx -- and even if I were to also provide a copy of that portion of my September 30, 2014 cover letter addressed to the Cotchett firm that corroborates my shipment of documents for this litigation via FedEx for next day delivery regarding Arizona IPP Class Representative Chris Hunt.

Counsel for Indirect Purchaser Plaintiffs

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT

NORTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

IN RE: LITHIUM ION BATTERIES ANTITRUST LITIGATION	Case No. 13-MD-02420 YGR (DMR) MDL NO. 2420
This Document Relates to: ALL INDIRECT PURCHASER ACTIONS	DECLARATION OF KENNETH L. MANN, ON BEHALF OF THE ADR OFFICE OF KENNETH L. MANN, AS ARIZONA COUNSEL FOR CHRISTOPHER HUNT, AZ PROPOSED IPP CLASS REPRESENTATIVE, IN SUPPORT OF INDIRECT PURCHASER PLAINTIFFS' MOTION FOR AN AWARD OF ATTORNEYS' FEES AND REIMBURSEMENT OF EXPENSES

I, Kenneth L. Mann, declare:

1. I am a sole practitioner doing business as ADR Office of Kenneth L. Mann ("I" or "the Declarant"). Aside from this litigation and a few pro bono matters, my legal practice has primarily focused since November 2012 on serving as a neutral – more specifically, as an arbitrator, mediator, and discovery special master in disputes pending or threatened before the American Arbitration Association, FINRA, or the Superior Court in and for Maricopa County, respectively. Herein, I am Arizona Counsel for Christopher Hunt, one of the two proposed Arizona Indirect Purchaser Plaintiffs' ("IPPs" or "Plaintiffs") Class Representatives in this action. I submit this declaration in support of the IPPs' Motion for an Award of Attorneys' Fees and Reimbursement of Expenses. I make this declaration based on my personal knowledge, and if called as a witness, I could and would competently testify to the matters stated herein.

2. The Declarant has served as counsel to Christopher Hunt in his above representative capacity and as counsel for the IPPs throughout the course of this litigation since late June 2013. My background and experience are summarized in the curriculum vitae attached hereto as Exhibit A.

3. The Declarant has prosecuted this litigation solely on a contingent-fee basis, and has been at risk that it would not receive any compensation for prosecuting claims against the defendants.

4. During the pendency of the litigation, the Declarant has performed the following work:

(i) He educated himself and Christopher Hunt about the nature and scope of the antitrust violations alleged herein; and, in keeping with his ethical obligations to his client as an Arizona IPP proposed class representative, he sought to stay reasonably informed and abreast of the progress of the litigation by reviewing filings herein that had or reasonably appeared to have a potential positive or negative impact upon the IPP's -- while at the same time, not "piling on" or "churning" unnecessary and unproductive hours.

(ii) He worked with Christopher Hunt and co-lead counsel to develop the facts substantiating Chris Hunt's qualifications to be an IPP class representative herein, including but not limited to establishing: Mr. Hunt's educational background and communication skills; his standing; his proof of purchase as an indirect purchaser of items containing one or more lithium ion batteries or battery cells; Mr. Hunt's diligence and conscientiousness in fulfilling his duties as a class representative in: cooperating in a timely fashion with the Declarant and with plaintiffs' lead counsel herein in discovery of records, in preparation for and availability for his deposition, in reviewing the transcript of his all-day deposition, attending and actively participating in conferences with the Declarant, lead counsel and their technology consultants as needed, etc.

5. Attached hereto as Exhibit B is a billing summary of the Declarant's 99.5 net billable hours,[1] and a lodestar of $300 per hour for the entire period of my representation, for a total lodestar fee of $29,850.00 before any enhancement, if any. The lodestar rate was determined using the Declarant's historical rate of $300 per hour during the period from the undersigned's retention in this litigation in June 2013 after this Court's Order dated May 17, 2013 (ECF No. 194)) to February 28, 2017.[2] A detailed time compilation is attached as Exhibit D.

[1] /after deduction of hours by co-lead counsel for services deemed unnecessary.

[2] /The undersigned recognizes his billing rate is much lower than his background and legal experience since 1973 would suggest. Indeed, more than ten years ago, during 2005-2008, and even though a newcomer to Arizona at the time, his billing rate was $350 per hour while primarily litigating securities fraud disputes as a new Arizonan and non-equity member of Beus Gilbert, PLLC, Scottsdale, AZ). However, the ADR field has been exceedingly competitive in metropolitan Phoenix, especially for relative newcomers, following the Great Recession. Accordingly, because one's overhead is typically lower and more controllable when focusing on serving as a neutral versus a (footnote continued)

6. The lodestar amount reflected in Exhibit B is primarily for work assigned by Lead Counsel and secondarily includes minimal, intermittent legal services the Declarant deemed necessary and appropriate in order to be able to fulfill in good faith my professional and ethical responsibilities to my client, Christopher Hunt, in his capacity as a proposed Arizona IPP Class Representative from the time of our involvement in this litigation in June 2013 to the current date. This billing summary was prepared from invoices this Declarant generated and maintained from time records regularly prepared by the Declarant, as amended to eliminate hours that co-lead counsel deemed unnecessary.

7. Attached as Exhibit C is your Declarant's schedule of hourly rates billed by the ADR Office of Kenneth L. Mann herein for all timekeepers from June 2013 through February 28, 2017

8. Attached as Exhibit D is a compilation of the invoices summarized on Exhibit B.

9. Attached hereto as Exhibit E is a summary of the expenses the ADR Office of Kenneth L. Mann has incurred during this litigation in connection with the prosecution of this case, in the aggregate amount of $48.75, none of which are ordinary and necessary routine copying or similar overhead expenses. Specifically, they consist of:

(a) $24.75 the Declarant paid on a FedEx shipment to co-lead counsel in October 2014 (of a lengthy cover letter from the Declarant and key documents produced by his client, IPP Arizona putative class action representative, Christopher Hunt); and

(b) $24 the Declarant paid for parking at the office building where Mr. Hunt's all-day deposition occurred. on February 4, 2016. This office incurred these expenses on behalf of the IPPs on a contingent basis and has not been.reimbursed. The expenses reflected in Exhibit D were prepared from expense vouchers, receipts, invoices, and/or bank records, and thus represent an accurate recordation of the expenses incurred.

primarily litigation or transactional practice, the Declarant has chosen to maintain a highly competitive billing rate and to let some of that overhead savings inure to those who utilize his services.

10. The Declarant has reviewed the time and expenses reported by the ADR Office of Kenneth L. Mann in this case which are included in this declaration, and the Declarant affirms that they are true and accurate.

I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the United States that the foregoing is true and correct.

Executed on the 26th day of May, 2017 at Scottsdale, Arizona.

Counsel for Indirect Purchaser Plaintiffs

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT

NORTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

OAKLAND DIVISION

IN RE: LITHIUM ION BATTERIES ANTITRUST LITIGATION	Case No. 13-MD-02420 YGR (DMR) MDL NO. 2420
This Document Relates to: ALL INDIRECT PURCHASER ACTIONS	DECLARATION OF JENNIE LEE ANDERSON IN SUPPORT OF INDIRECT PURCHASER PLAINTIFFS' MOTION FOR AN AWARD OF ATTORNEYS' FEES AND REIMBURSEMENT OF EXPENSES ON BEHALF OF ANDRUS ANDERSON LLP

I, Jennie Lee Anderson, declare:

1. I am a Partner of Andrus Anderson LLP and Liaison Counsel for Indirect Purchaser Plaintiffs ("IPPs" or "Plaintiffs") in this action. I submit this declaration in support of IPPs' Motion for an Award of Attorneys' Fees and Reimbursement of Expenses. I make this declaration based on my personal knowledge and if called as a witness, I could and would competently testify to the matters stated herein.

2. My firm has served as court-appointed Liaison Counsel for IPPs throughout the course of this litigation. The background and experience of Andrus Anderson LLP and its attorneys are summarized in the curriculum vitae attached hereto as Exhibit A.

3. Andrus Anderson LLP has prosecuted this litigation solely on a contingent-fee basis and has been at risk that it would not receive any compensation for prosecuting claims against the defendants. While Andrus Anderson LLP devoted its time and resources to this matter, it has foregone other legal work for which it would have been compensated.

4. During the pendency of the litigation, Andrus Anderson LLP performed the following work:

a. Serving as IPP Liaison Counsel, my firm and I worked closely with Co-Lead Counsel, this Court, other IPP supporting counsel, and all other plaintiff and defense counsel on a number of tasks. Specific Liaison Counsel tasks included coordinating newly related cases into the MDL and assisting counsel not familiar with the Northern District's practices and procedures; coordinating with all parties regarding stipulations and responding to inquiries from the Court; preparing pleadings, discovery, and deposition preparation materials as directed by Co-Lead Counsel; attending court hearings as needed; auditing time and expenses submitted by supporting IPP counsel to insure compliance with this Court's orders and Co-Lead Counsel's protocols regarding compensable time and expenses for the benefit of the class; coordinating with Co-Lead Counsel and other IPP supporting counsel regarding timekeeping and expense guidelines throughout the litigation, and consolidation and verification of time and expense reports for communication with the Court on a quarterly basis.

b. In addition to Liaison Counsel duties, my firm also performed significant substantive work on the case such as participating in the preparation and taking of a multi-day deposition with the direct purchaser plaintiffs, conducting extensive foreign language and English document review at both first and second tier level, and high-level evaluation and organization of potential class certification evidence at the direction of co-lead counsel.

5. Attached hereto as Exhibit B is a billing summary of Andrus Anderson LLP's total hours and lodestar, computed at current billing rates, from March 1, 2017 to present. This summary was prepared from contemporaneous, daily time records regularly prepared and maintained by Andrus Anderson LLP. Attached hereto as Exhibit C is a compilation of my firm's detailed time records for the period of March 1, 2017 to present at historical billing rates. The lodestar amount is for work assigned by Co-Lead Counsel and was performed by professional staff at my law firm.

6. A summary of work performed by Andrus Anderson LLP and detailed billing records from June 1, 2013 to February 28, 2017 were submitted with the Declaration of Jennie Lee Anderson in Support of Indirect Purchaser Plaintiffs' Motion for an Award of Attorneys' Fees and Reimbursement of Expenses on Behalf of Andrus Anderson LLP and filed on May 26, 2017. (ECF No. 1813-4). Counsel for Plaintiffs did not and do not seek attorneys' fees for any time billed prior to the appointment of lead counsel. See Order dated May 17, 2013 (ECF No. 198).

7. In summary, the total number of hours spent by Andrus Anderson LLP since June 1, 2013 was 1,966 hours, with a corresponding lodestar of $945,567.50 based on current rates.

8. Attached hereto as Exhibit D is a summary of the expenses Andrus Anderson LLP has incurred from June 1, 2013 to present, plus applicable case filing fees. Andrus Anderson LLP expended a total of $52,275.17 in unreimbursed costs and expenses in connection with the prosecution of this case. These expenses were incurred on behalf of IPPs by Andrus Anderson

LLP on a contingent basis and have not been reimbursed. The expenses reflected in Exhibit D were prepared from expense reports, vouchers, receipts, and bank records, and thus represent an accurate recordation of the expenses incurred. I have reviewed the time and expenses reported by Andrus Anderson LLP in this case which are included in this declaration, and I affirm that they are true and accurate.

I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the United States that the foregoing is true and correct.

Executed on this 18th day of April, 2019 at San Francisco, California.

In addition to Liaison Counsel duties, my firm also performed significant substantive work on the case such as participating in the preparation and taking of a multi-day deposition with the direct purchaser plaintiffs, conducting extensive foreign language and English

This Document Relates to: ALL INDIRECT PURCHASER ACTIONS	DECLARATION OF LESLEY E. WEAVER IN SUPPORT OF INDIRECT PURCHASER PLAINTIFFS' MOTION FOR AN AWARD OF ATTORNEYS' FEES AND REIMBURSEMENT OF EXPENSES ON BEHALF OF BLEICHMAR FONTI AND AULD LLP

I, Lesley E. Weaver, declare:

1. I am Partner of Bleichmar Fonti and Auld LLP ("BFA"), Counsel for Indirect Purchaser Plaintiffs ("IPPs" or "Plaintiffs") in this action. I submit this declaration in support of IPPs' Motion for an Award of Attorneys' Fees and Reimbursement of Expenses. I make this declaration based on my personal knowledge and if called as a witness, I could and would competently testify to the matters stated herein.

2. My firm has served as counsel to City of Palo Alto and City of Richmond and as counsel for IPPs throughout the course of this litigation. The background and experience of BFA and its attorneys are summarized in the curriculum vitae attached hereto as Exhibit A.

3. BFA has prosecuted this litigation solely on a contingent-fee basis and has been at risk that it would not receive any compensation for prosecuting claims against the defendants. While BFA devoted its time and resources to this matter, it has foregone other legal work for which it would have been compensated.

4. During the pendency of the litigation, BFA performed the following work: Settlement related research and conferring with leadership and clients regarding settlement negotiations and obtaining approvals.

5. Attached hereto as Exhibit B is a billing summary of BFA's total hours and lodestar, computed at current billing rates, from March 1, 2017 to present. This summary was prepared from contemporaneous, daily time records regularly prepared and maintained by BFA. Attached hereto as Exhibit C is a compilation of my firm's detailed time records at historical billing rates. The lodestar amount is for work assigned by Co-Lead Counsel and was performed by professional staff at my law firm.

6. A summary of work performed by BFA and detailed billing records from June 1, 2013 to February 28, 2017 were submitted with the Declaration of Lesley E. Weaver in Support of Indirect Purchaser Plaintiffs' Motion for an Award of Attorneys' Fees and Reimbursement of Expenses on Behalf of BFA and filed on May 26, 2017. (ECF No. 1813-6). Counsel for Plaintiffs did not and do not seek attorneys' fees for any time billed prior to the appointment of lead counsel. See Order dated May 17, 2013 (ECF No. 198).

7. In summary, the total number of hours spent by BFA since June 1, 2013 was 38.9, with a corresponding lodestar of $24,593.5 based on current rates.

8. Attached hereto as Exhibit D is a summary of the expenses BFA has incurred from June 1, 2013 to present, plus applicable case filing fees. BFA expended a total of $126.75 in unreimbursed costs and expenses in connection with the prosecution of this case. These expenses were incurred on behalf of IPPs by BFA on a contingent basis and have not been reimbursed. The expenses reflected in Exhibit D were prepared from expense reports, vouchers, receipts, and bank records, and thus represent an accurate recordation of the expenses incurred. I have reviewed the time and expenses reported by BFA in this case which are included in this declaration, and I affirm that they are true and accurate.

I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the United States that the foregoing is true and correct.

OVERVIEW

Bleichmar Fonti & Auld LLP ("BFA" or the "Firm") is a boutique law firm founded in 2014 with offices in New York City, Oakland, California, and Toronto, Canada. The Firm's strength is in plaintiff-side complex litigation, including the prosecution of antitrust, consumer, and securities actions on behalf of consumers, governmental entities, and institutional investors.

Since 2014, BFA has recovered over $17.6 billion for its clients. The cartel allowed the car manufacturers to reduce research and development costs amongst themselves, while charging customers premiums for their supposed "quality and innovation" and suppressing alternatives that would have been provided by real competition.

BFA's Role: Judge Chhabria of the Northern District of California appointed Ms. Weaver as Co-Lead Counsel for Plaintiffs.

In re Volkswagen "Clean Diesel" Marketing, Sales Practices, and Products Liability Litigation • MDL No. 2672 • Lead BFA Attorney: Lesley Weaver	Total Settlements: $17 Billion

Background: The case involves claims against Volkswagen, Audi and Porsche in connection with the widely-reported news that the companies had installed emission systems created to avoid regulator detection and defraud customers who believed they were buying Volkswagen and Audi vehicles with "clean diesel" engines. VW admitted that it installed these "defeat devices," which eliminated the emissions reduction during normal driving, and only allowed for reduced fuel emissions when the automobiles were being tested. More than 500 federal lawsuits have been filed and consolidated into one complaint against the automaker for its "dirty diesel" vehicles.

BFA's Role: Judge Charles R. Breyer appointed Ms. Weaver to the Plaintiffs' Steering Committee, which, along with lead counsel, has been described as the "dream team" prosecuting this high-profile emissions scandal. Judge Breyer selected Ms. Weaver from a field of 150 of the nation's finest attorneys. Ms. Weaver's leadership position in the case included spearheading the investigation that ultimately uncovered German auto supplier Robert Bosch GmbH's significant role in multiple schemes to place software in vehicles purposefully designed to evade emissions laws.

Result: Lead Counsel and the Plaintiffs' Steering Committee have achieved settlements for Plaintiffs worth a total of $17 billion, the largest automotive class action recovery in history. This includes a $14.7 billion dollar settlement on behalf of eligible owners of Volkswagen and Audi 2.0-liter TDI cars, who were offered a buyback of their cars. In accordance with the consent decree, $2.7 billion of the settlement will be allocated to projects to reduce nitrogen oxides emissions, with a focus on improving air quality in areas that "bear a disproportionate share of the air pollution burden within their jurisdiction." As the Justice Department's top environmental attorney John Cruden has highlighted, this focus on remediation in low income and minority communities is "unique," and a significant response to the disproportionate pollution burden felt by these communities.

In re Chrysler-Dodge-Jeep EcoDiesel Marketing, Sales Practices and Products Liability • MDL No. 2777 • Lead BFA Attorney: Lesley Weaver	Case Status: Pending

Background: The class alleges that Fiat Chrysler Automobiles deliberately cheated on emission testing of 2014-2016 model Dodge and Jeep trucks marketed and sold as environmentally friendly "eco-diesel" vehicles.

In re Twitter Inc. Securities Litigation • Northern District of California, No. 3:16-CV-05314 • Lead BFA Attorney: Lesley Weaver	Case Status: Pending

Background: Investors allege that Twitter executives omitted key metrics about daily active users ("DAU")—the type of users who actually drive advertising revenues for the company. In October 2017, Judge Jon Tigar denied Twitter's motion to dismiss. The judge held that "a strong inference arises [Twitter] knowingly misled the public [about] what was really happening with user engagement at Twitter," and that "[i]n the absence of DAU data, investors interpreted defendants' statements as reassurances that the Company had experienced and would continue to experience positive growth and engagement trends." Twitter's motion to dismiss also sought to excuse ex-CEO Dick Costolo and current COO and CFO Anthony Noto from the case, but Judge Tigar found that both men made misleading statements on earnings calls and in interviews.

BFA's Role: On December 22, 2016, Judge Tigar appointed BFA as liaison counsel to the class.

Ontario Teachers' Pension Plan Board, et al v. Teva Pharmaceutical Industries Ltd. et al. • District of Connecticut, No. 17-cv-00558 • Clients: Ontario Teachers' Pension Plan Board and Anchorage Police and Fire Retirement System • Lead BFA Attorneys: Joseph Fonti, Wilson Meeks, III	Case Status: Pending

Background: Plaintiffs allege that the company and its senior management made materially false and misleading statements that concealed the fact that Teva was conspiring with other drug manufacturers to fix drug prices, in violation of United States antitrust law.

BFA's Role: BFA is sole Lead Counsel for Court-appointed Lead Plaintiff Ontario Teachers' and named plaintiff Anchorage Police and Fire Retirement System.

In re MF Global Holdings Ltd. Securities Litigation • Southern District of New York, No. 11-cv-07866 • Client: Alberta Investment Management Corp. (AIMCo) • Lead BFA Attorneys: Javier Bleichmar, Dominic Auld	Total Settlements: $234.3 Million

Background: This litigation arose from MF Global's dramatic bankruptcy in October 2011. Plaintiffs alleged that Defendants misrepresented the company's risk controls, liquidity position, and exposure to European sovereign debt, and failed to properly account for its deferred tax assets.

BFA's Role: BFA represented Court-appointed Co-Lead Plaintiff AIMCo.

Result: Lead Counsel achieved five partial settlements worth a total of just over $234 million on behalf of investors: (1) a $74 million settlement with Goldman Sachs and certain other underwriters of the company's securities; (2) a $64.5 million settlement with former officers and directors, including MF Global's former CEO Jon Corzine; (3) a $65 million settlement with auditor PricewaterhouseCoopers; (4) a $29.825 million settlement with Jefferies and other underwriters of the final bond offering issued during the Class Period; and (5) a separate $932,828 settlement with another underwriter defendant associated with that last offering. These settlements represent a recovery of approximately 35% of the alleged damages—an excellent result, particularly in light of the issuer's bankruptcy.

These settlements were achieved after years of hard fought litigation. Following the Court's ruling sustaining the Complaint and denying Defendants' six motions to dismiss in their entirety, Co-Lead Counsel reviewed millions of documents produced by Defendants and third-parties, and conducted more than 50 depositions of former employees of MF Global and other key witnesses, including four days of testimony from former CEO Jon Corzine. The Court granted Plaintiffs' motion for class certification on October 14, 2015, which assisted in achieving the settlements.

In re Genworth Financial Inc. Securities Litigation

- Eastern District of Virginia, No. 14-cv-00682
- Client: Alberta Investment Management Corp. (AIMCo)
- Lead BFA Attorneys: Joseph Fonti, Wilson Meeks, III

Total Settlement: $219 Million

Background: Plaintiffs alleged that Defendants misrepresented the profitability of the company's core business and reported false financial results by grossly understating long-term care insurance reserves. When Genworth announced a $531 million charge to its reserves, the company's stock price fell more than 55%—wiping out billions in market capitalization—and credit rating agencies downgraded the company and its corresponding debt to "junk" status.

BFA's Role: BFA represented Court-appointed Co-Lead Plaintiff AIMCo. On March 10, 2016, Genworth announced a proposed settlement of $219 million, the largest ever securities class action recovery achieved in Virginia, and as much as 44% of recoverable damages available at trial. BFA and AIMCo sought and achieved a significant contribution from the company beyond available insurance; despite significant liquidity issues, the company paid $69 million, and the remaining $150 million was funded by insurance.

Result: The settlement was reached after 15 months of intense and complex litigation. The Eastern District of Virginia is known as the "rocket docket" for its rapid disposition of cases and strict adherence to scheduled deadlines. In December 2014, Lead Plaintiffs filed a consolidated complaint and, in February 2015, Defendants filed a motion to dismiss. Partner Joseph Fonti successfully argued against the motion on April 28, 2015, and the securities fraud claims were sustained on May 1, 2015. Lead Plaintiffs filed their motion for class certification on December 3, 2015; fact discovery closed on January 15, 2016; and expert discovery closed on February 11, 2016. In effect, BFA conducted two to four years of litigation in just 15 months. This effort included more than 20 depositions, extensive trial preparation, and full briefing on motions for class certification and summary judgment.

In re Weatherford International Securities Litigation

- Southern District of New York, No. 12-cv-02121
- Client: Anchorage Police and Fire Retirement System
- Lead BFA Attorneys: Javier Bleichmar, Wilson Meeks, III

Total Settlement: $120 Million

Background: Plaintiffs alleged that Weatherford, one of the world's largest oil and gas servicing companies, issued false financial statements that misled investors about its tax structure and internal controls. The company allegedly overstated its earnings by more than $900 million and was forced to issue three restatements due to its failure to comply with Generally Accepted Accounting Principles.

BFA's Role: BFA represented Court-appointed Co-Lead Plaintiff Anchorage.

Result: In June 2015, Weatherford agreed to settle all claims for $120 million of out-of-pocket cash, with no available insurance, or approximately 30% of recoverable damages. Achieving this settlement required more than three years of intense litigation, including defeating Defendants' motion to dismiss in its entirety; obtaining class certification; completing fact discovery, after more than 20 depositions and the review of more than eight million pages of documents; filing four expert reports; and preparing for expert discovery and summary judgment.

Javier Bleichmar leads BFA's U.S. Case Evaluation and U.S. Securities Litigation teams. He brings a long career of litigation success to his prosecution of large-scale fraud class actions on behalf of investors. Mr. Bleichmar has nearly two decades of experience and has been "recommended" in the field of securities litigation by The Legal 500.

Mr. Bleichmar was the lead attorney on the team that litigated In re MF Global Holdings Ltd. Securities Litigation on behalf of Her Majesty the Queen in Right of Alberta and MF Global investors, in connection with the company's dramatic collapse on October 31, 2011. Judge Marrero in the Southern District of New York sustained the complaint in its entirety, and the plaintiffs secured several settlements totaling more than $234 million, resolving claims against MF Global's former officers and directors, several underwriter defendants, and MF Global's outside auditor.

Mr. Bleichmar similarly led the team that prosecuted In re Weatherford International Securities Litigation on behalf of the Anchorage Police & Fire Retirement System and Weatherford investors. The case alleged that Weatherford, which made three restatements of its audited financial statements totaling approximately $1 billion, misled investors about the company's tax accounting. After more than three years of intense litigation, including 22 depositions and complex expert testimony, the plaintiffs secured a $120 million settlement.

In addition to driving daily litigation, Mr. Bleichmar is a successful appellate advocate. After Mr. Bleichmar argued before the Eighth Circuit in *Public Pension Fund Group v. JOSEPH A. FONTI Partner	New York	• Email: jfonti@bfalaw.com • Tel: +1 212 789 1342 • www.bfalaw.com/joseph-fonti

Joseph A. Fonti leads the Firm's U.S. Securities Litigation and Claims Filing teams. He has nearly twenty years of experience in prosecuting complex litigations on behalf of institutional investors. His commitment to clients, advocacy skills, and litigation results have earned him recognition as a Law360 "Rising Star." He also has been "recommended" in the field of securities litigation by The Legal 500.

Mr. Fonti served as co-lead counsel in In re Genworth Financial Inc. Securities Litigation, in the notoriously fast-paced jurisdiction of the Eastern District of Virginia, known as the "rocket docket." In defeating the defendants' motion to dismiss, he secured one of the first opinions favorable for investors following the Supreme Court's recent decision in the Omnicare matter. Mr. Fonti led the litigation to a remarkable recovery for the class, securing a settlement of $219 million, the largest ever securities class action recovery in Virginia.

Mr. Fonti previously achieved notable success in the Eastern District of Virginia as the lead lawyer in a fraud litigation on behalf of Computer Science Corp. shareholders. After prevailing at class certification, and only four weeks before trial, Mr. Fonti and his team secured a $97.5 million settlement—at the time, the second largest cash securities settlement in that court's history.

Mr. Fonti's career also is marked by significant successes in the area of auditor liability and stock options backdating. While representing investors in a class action against HealthSouth Corp., which settled for $671 million, Mr. Fonti played a significant role in recovering $109 million from outside auditor Ernst & Young LLP—one of the largest ever recoveries against an auditing firm. He also contributed to securing a $173.5 million settlement in a class action against Broadcom Corp. relating to options backdating—at the time the second-largest cash settlement in such a case. That also was the only such case in which claims against the auditors were sustained.

Mr. Fonti has achieved notable success as an appellate advocate. His argument in In re Celestica Inc. Securities Litigation resulted in the Second Circuit's reversal of an earlier dismissal, turning the tide of then-recent decisions by realigning pleading standards in favor of investors. He also was instrumental in the advocacy before the Ninth Circuit in In re Broadcom Corp. Securities Litigation, where the appellate victory marked the first occasion a court sustained allegations against an outside auditor related to options backdating.

Mr. Fonti represents several of Canada's largest pension systems and asset managers. He led the prosecution of securities class action against NovaGold Resources Inc., which resulted in the largest class settlement under Canada's securities laws at the time. He also provides thought leadership on issues particularly relevant to these clients. For example, he recently co-authored "Cross-Listed Securities Cases Present Challenges" in the National Law Journal, addressing interpretations of the Supreme Court's Morrison decision in light of modern financial markets.

Prior to founding the Firm, Mr. Fonti was a Partner of Labaton Sucharow LLP. He also practiced securities litigation at Bernstein Litowitz Berger & Grossmann LLP and began his legal career at Sullivan & Cromwell LLP, where he represented Fortune 100 corporations and financial institutions in complex securities litigation and in multifaceted SEC investigations and trials. He also is a member of the National Association of Public Pension Attorneys (NAPPA).

Mr. Fonti earned a B.A., cum laude, from New York University and a J.D. from New York University School of Law (1999), where he was a member of the Marden Moot Court. He is admitted to practice in New York (2000), the U.S. Supreme Court (2007), and the U.S. Courts of Appeals for the Second Circuit (2010), Ninth Circuit (2007), and Tenth Circuit (2013). He also is admitted in the U.S. District Courts for the Southern and Eastern Districts of New York (2001).

Mr. Meeks played a significant role prosecuting In re Genworth Financial Inc. Securities Litigation, on behalf of Her Majesty the Queen in Right of Alberta and Genworth investors, in the notoriously fast-paced jurisdiction of the Eastern District of Virginia, known as the "rocket docket." The case alleged that Genworth, the largest seller of long-term care insurance in the United States, misled investors about the true state of the company's deteriorating long-term care business. Mr. Meeks spearheaded the Firm's prosecution and discovery efforts, helping to secure a $219 million settlement for investors—the largest ever securities class action recovery in Virginia.

He similarly played a key role in prosecuting In re Weatherford International Securities Litigation on behalf of the Anchorage Police & Fire Retirement System and Weatherford investors. The case alleged that Weatherford, which made three restatements of its audited financial statement totaling approximately $1 billion, misled investors about the company's tax accounting. After more than three years of intense litigation, including 22 depositions and complex expert testimony, the plaintiffs secured an outstanding recovery of $120 million.

Prior to joining the Firm, Mr. Meeks was an associate at Labaton Sucharow LLP, where he prosecuted financial litigation matters on behalf of institutional investors. APPOINTMENTS AND REPRESENTATION

- N.D. Cal. No. 18-cv-00198
- Lead BFA Attorney: Lesley Weaver

Case Status: Pending

Background: Plaintiffs allege that Defendants, leading Japanese manufacturers of inductors such as Murata and Panasonic Corp., colluded to fix, inflate, or stabilize the price of inductors from at least 2003 until the summer of 2014, in violation of Section 1 of the Sherman Antitrust Act. Inductors are electronic components that work to regulate and store energy in a circuit and are found in thousands of products that rely on electronic circuits for power, such as computers, cars, and televisions.

BFA's Role: Judge Edward J. In re German Automotive Manufacturers Antitrust Litigation

- MDL No. 2796
- Lead BFA Attorney: Lesley Weaver

Case Status: Pending

Background: BFA was one of the first law firms to file suit against German automobile manufacturers and supplier Bosch, alleging the largest known single automobile cartel in U.S. and European history. The action claims that Audi, BMW, Daimler/Mercedes-Benz, Porsche, and Volkswagen engaged in a 20-year cartel to suppress the development of technology in their automobiles from 1996 until at least 2015, as admitted by Daimler and VW to European regulators. The cartel allowed the car manufacturers to reduce research and development costs amongst themselves, while charging customers premiums for their supposed "quality and innovation" and suppressing alternatives that would have been provided by real competition.

BFA's Role: Judge Charles R. Breyer appointed partner Ms. Weaver from a field of 38 applicants to the Plaintiffs' Steering Committee.

In re Disposable Contact Lens Antitrust Litigation

Plaintiffs have settled for $15 million with Defendant Southwest Airlines and $45 million with Defendant American Airlines.

BFA's Role: BFA is a key part of Plaintiffs' nonparty discovery committee and has led meet and confer negotiations with dozens of nonparties, resulting in the production of some of Plaintiffs' best evidence.

In re LIBOR-Based Financial Instruments Antitrust Litigation	Case Status: Pending
• MDL No. 2262 • Lead BFA Attorney: Lesley Weaver

Background: Plaintiffs allege that defendants' manipulation of U.S. Dollar LIBOR allowed them to pay unduly low interest rates to purchasers of U.S. Dollar LIBOR-based financial instruments, allowing defendants to reap hundreds of millions, if not billions, of dollars in ill-gotten gains. Plaintiffs have secured settlements of $120 million from Barclays Bank PLC, $130 million from Citigroup Inc., $240 million from Deutsche Bank AG, and $100 million from HSBC, for a total of $590 million.

BLEICHMAR FONTI & AULD LLP

BFA's Role: Judge Chhabria of the Northern District of California appointed Ms. Weaver as Co-Lead Counsel for Plaintiffs.

In re Volkswagen "Clean Diesel" Marketing, Sales Practices, and Products Liability Litigation • MDL No. 2672 • Lead BFA Attorney: Lesley Weaver	Total Settlements: $17 Billion

Background: The case involves claims against Volkswagen, Audi and Porsche in connection with the widely-reported news that the companies had installed emission systems created to avoid regulator detection and defraud customers who believed they were buying Volkswagen and Audi vehicles with "clean diesel" engines. VW admitted that it installed these "defeat devices," which eliminated the emissions reduction during normal driving, and only allowed for reduced fuel emissions when the automobiles were being tested. More than 500 federal lawsuits have been filed and consolidated into one complaint against the automaker for its "dirty diesel" vehicles.

BFA's Role: Judge Charles R. Breyer appointed Ms. Weaver to the Plaintiffs' Steering Committee, which, along with lead counsel, has been described as the "dream team" prosecuting this high-profile emissions scandal. Judge Breyer selected Ms. Weaver from a field of 150 of the nation's finest attorneys. Ms. Weaver's leadership position in the case included spearheading the investigation that ultimately uncovered German auto supplier Robert Bosch GmbH's significant role in multiple schemes to place software in vehicles purposefully designed to evade emissions laws.

Result: Lead Counsel and the Plaintiffs' Steering Committee have achieved settlements for Plaintiffs worth a total of $17 billion, the largest automotive class action recovery in history. This includes a $14.7 billion dollar settlement on behalf of eligible owners of Volkswagen and Audi 2.0-liter TDI cars, who were offered a buyback of their cars. In accordance with the consent decree, $2.7 billion of the settlement will be allocated to projects to reduce nitrogen oxides emissions, with a focus on improving air quality in areas that "bear a disproportionate share of the air pollution burden within their jurisdiction." As the Justice Department's top environmental attorney John Cruden has highlighted, this focus on remediation in low income and minority communities is "unique," and a significant response to the disproportionate pollution burden felt by these communities.

In re Chrysler-Dodge-Jeep EcoDiesel Marketing, Sales Practices and Products Liability • MDL No. 2777 • Lead BFA Attorney: Lesley Weaver	Case Status: Pending

Background: The class alleges that Fiat Chrysler Automobiles deliberately cheated on emission testing of 2014-2016 model Dodge and Jeep trucks marketed and sold as environmentally friendly "eco-diesel" vehicles.

BFA's Role: Judge Edward Chen of the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of California appointed Ms. Weaver as one of nine members of the Plaintiffs' Steering Committee.

In re Twitter Inc. Securities Litigation • Northern District of California, No. 3:16-CV-05314 • Lead BFA Attorney: Lesley Weaver	Case Status: Pending

Background: Investors allege that Twitter executives omitted key metrics about daily active users ("DAU")—the type of users who actually drive advertising revenues for the company. In October 2017, Judge Jon Tigar denied Twitter's motion to dismiss. The judge held that "a strong inference arises [Twitter] knowingly misled the public [about] what was really happening with user engagement at Twitter," and that "[i]n the absence of DAU data, investors interpreted defendants' statements as reassurances that the Company had experienced and would continue to experience positive growth and engagement trends." Twitter's motion to dismiss also sought to excuse ex-CEO Dick Costolo and current COO and CFO Anthony Noto from the case, but Judge Tigar found that both men made misleading statements on earnings calls and in interviews.

BFA's Role: On December 22, 2016, Judge Tigar appointed BFA as liaison counsel to the class.

Ontario Teachers' Pension Plan Board, et al v. Teva Pharmaceutical Industries Ltd. et al. • District of Connecticut, No. 17-cv-00558 • Clients: Ontario Teachers' Pension Plan Board and Anchorage Police and Fire Retirement System • Lead BFA Attorneys: Joseph Fonti, Wilson Meeks, III	Case Status: Pending

Background: Plaintiffs allege that the company and its senior management made materially false and misleading statements that concealed the fact that Teva was conspiring with other drug manufacturers to fix drug prices, in violation of United States antitrust law.

BFA's Role: BFA is sole Lead Counsel for Court-appointed Lead Plaintiff Ontario Teachers' and named plaintiff Anchorage Police and Fire Retirement System.

In re MF Global Holdings Ltd. Securities Litigation • Southern District of New York, No. 11-cv-07866 • Client: Alberta Investment Management Corp. (AIMCo) • Lead BFA Attorneys: Javier Bleichmar, Dominic Auld	Total Settlements: $234.3 Million

Background: This litigation arose from MF Global's dramatic bankruptcy in October 2011. Plaintiffs alleged that Defendants misrepresented the company's risk controls, liquidity position, and exposure to European sovereign debt, and failed to properly account for its deferred tax assets.

BFA's Role: BFA represented Court-appointed Co-Lead Plaintiff AIMCo.

Result: Lead Counsel achieved five partial settlements worth a total of just over $234 million on behalf of investors: (1) a $74 million settlement with Goldman Sachs and certain other underwriters of the company's securities; (2) a $64.5 million settlement with former officers and directors, including MF Global's former CEO Jon Corzine; (3) a $65 million settlement with auditor PricewaterhouseCoopers; (4) a $29.825 million settlement with Jefferies and other underwriters of the final bond offering issued during the Class Period; and (5) a separate $932,828 settlement with another underwriter defendant associated with that last offering. These settlements represent a recovery of approximately 35% of the alleged damages—an excellent result, particularly in light of the issuer's bankruptcy.

These settlements were achieved after years of hard fought litigation. Following the Court's ruling sustaining the Complaint and denying Defendants' six motions to dismiss in their entirety, Co-Lead Counsel reviewed millions of documents produced by Defendants and third-parties, and conducted more than 50 depositions of former employees of MF Global and other key witnesses, including four days of testimony from former CEO Jon Corzine. The Court granted Plaintiffs' motion for class certification on October 14, 2015, which assisted in achieving the settlements.

In re Genworth Financial Inc. Securities Litigation

- Eastern District of Virginia, No. 14-cv-00682
- Client: Alberta Investment Management Corp. (AIMCo)
- Lead BFA Attorneys: Joseph Fonti, Wilson Meeks, III

Total Settlement: $219 Million

Background: Plaintiffs alleged that Defendants misrepresented the profitability of the company's core business and reported false financial results by grossly understating long-term care insurance reserves. When Genworth announced a $531 million charge to its reserves, the company's stock price fell more than 55%—wiping out billions in market capitalization—and credit rating agencies downgraded the company and its corresponding debt to "junk" status.

BFA's Role: BFA represented Court-appointed Co-Lead Plaintiff AIMCo. On March 10, 2016, Genworth announced a proposed settlement of $219 million, the largest ever securities class action recovery achieved in Virginia, and as much as 44% of recoverable damages available at trial. BFA and AIMCo sought and achieved a significant contribution from the company beyond available insurance; despite significant liquidity issues, the company paid $69 million, and the remaining $150 million was funded by insurance.

Result: The settlement was reached after 15 months of intense and complex litigation. The Eastern District of Virginia is known as the "rocket docket" for its rapid disposition of cases and strict adherence to scheduled deadlines. In December 2014, Lead Plaintiffs filed a consolidated complaint and, in February 2015, Defendants filed a motion to dismiss. Partner Joseph Fonti successfully argued against the motion on April 28, 2015, and the securities fraud claims were sustained on May 1, 2015. Lead Plaintiffs filed their motion for class certification on December 3, 2015; fact discovery closed on January 15, 2016; and expert discovery closed on February 11, 2016. In effect, BFA conducted two to four years of litigation in just 15 months. This effort included more than 20 depositions, extensive trial preparation, and full briefing on motions for class certification and summary judgment.

In re Weatherford International Securities Litigation

- Southern District of New York, No. 12-cv-02121
- Client: Anchorage Police and Fire Retirement System
- Lead BFA Attorneys: Javier Bleichmar, Wilson Meeks, III

Total Settlement: $120 Million

Background: Plaintiffs alleged that Weatherford, one of the world's largest oil and gas servicing companies, issued false financial statements that misled investors about its tax structure and internal controls. The company allegedly overstated its earnings by more than $900 million and was forced to issue three restatements due to its failure to comply with Generally Accepted Accounting Principles.

BFA's Role: BFA represented Court-appointed Co-Lead Plaintiff Anchorage.

Result: In June 2015, Weatherford agreed to settle all claims for $120 million of out-of-pocket cash, with no available insurance, or approximately 30% of recoverable damages. Achieving this settlement required more than three years of intense litigation, including defeating Defendants' motion to dismiss in its entirety; obtaining class certification; completing fact discovery, after more than 20 depositions and the review of more than eight million pages of documents; filing four expert reports; and preparing for expert discovery and summary judgment.

JAVIER BLEICHMAR Partner	New York	• Email: jbleichmar@bfalaw.com • Tel: +1 212 789 1341 • www.bfalaw.com/javier-bleichmar

Javier Bleichmar leads BFA's U.S. Case Evaluation and U.S. Securities Litigation teams. He brings a long career of litigation success to his prosecution of large-scale fraud class actions on behalf of investors. Mr. Bleichmar has nearly two decades of experience and has been "recommended" in the field of securities litigation by The Legal 500.

Mr. Bleichmar was the lead attorney on the team that litigated In re MF Global Holdings Ltd. Securities Litigation on behalf of Her Majesty the Queen in Right of Alberta and MF Global investors, in connection with the company's dramatic collapse on October 31, 2011. Judge Marrero in the Southern District of New York sustained the complaint in its entirety, and the plaintiffs secured several settlements totaling more than $234 million, resolving claims against MF Global's former officers and directors, several underwriter defendants, and MF Global's outside auditor.

Mr. Bleichmar similarly led the team that prosecuted In re Weatherford International Securities Litigation on behalf of the Anchorage Police & Fire Retirement System and Weatherford investors. The case alleged that Weatherford, which made three restatements of its audited financial statements totaling approximately $1 billion, misled investors about the company's tax accounting. After more than three years of intense litigation, including 22 depositions and complex expert testimony, the plaintiffs secured a $120 million settlement.

In addition to driving daily litigation, Mr. Bleichmar is a successful appellate advocate. After Mr. Bleichmar argued before the Eighth Circuit in Public Pension Fund Group v. KV Pharmaceutical, Co., the Eighth Circuit reversed an earlier dismissal and clarified the standard governing pharmaceutical companies' disclosures relating to notifications by the Food and Drug Administration.

Mr. Bleichmar is active in educating investors on developing trends in the law, particularly the ability of global investors to participate in securities matters outside the United States. Through these efforts, many of his clients were able to join the organization representing investors in the first ever securities class action settlement, under then-recently enacted Dutch law, against Royal Dutch Shell. He also provides thought leadership as a regular contributor on securities law issues in the New York Law Journal. He most recently co-authored "IndyMac Leaves Uncertain Landscape for Opt-Out Litigation" and "The Evolving Legacy of Fait v. Regions Financial."

Prior to founding the Firm, Mr. Bleichmar was a Partner of Labaton Sucharow LLP. He previously practiced at Bernstein Litowitz Berger & Grossmann LLP, where he was actively involved in In re Williams Securities Litigation, which resulted in a $311 million settlement for investors, as well as significant securities matters involving Lucent Technologies, Inc.; Conseco, Inc.; and Biovail Corp. Mr. Bleichmar began his legal career at Kirkland & Ellis LLP. He also is an active member of the National Association of Public Pension Attorneys (NAPPA).

Mr. Bleichmar earned a B.A. from the University of Pennsylvania and a J.D. from Columbia University School of Law (1998), where he was a Harlan Fiske Stone Scholar. During law school, he served as an intern to the Honorable Denny Chin, U.S. District Court Judge for the Southern District of New York. Mr. Bleichmar is a native Spanish speaker and fluent in French.

Mr. Bleichmar is admitted to practice in New York (1998), the U.S. Supreme Court (2010), and the U.S. Courts of Appeals for the Second Circuit (2010), Eight Circuit (2010), Ninth Circuit (2010), Tenth Circuit (2013), and Eleventh Circuit (2011). He is also admitted in the U.S. District Courts for the Southern and Eastern Districts of New York (1999).

JOSEPH A. FONTI Partner	New York	• Email: jfonti@bfalaw.com • Tel: +1 212 789 1342 • www.bfalaw.com/joseph-fonti

Joseph A. Fonti leads the Firm's U.S. Securities Litigation and Claims Filing teams. He has nearly twenty years of experience in prosecuting complex litigations on behalf of institutional investors. His commitment to clients, advocacy skills, and litigation results have earned him recognition as a Law360 "Rising Star." He also has been "recommended" in the field of securities litigation by The Legal 500.

Mr. Fonti served as co-lead counsel in In re Genworth Financial Inc. Securities Litigation, in the notoriously fast-paced jurisdiction of the Eastern District of Virginia, known as the "rocket docket." In defeating the defendants' motion to dismiss, he secured one of the first opinions favorable for investors following the Supreme Court's recent decision in the Omnicare matter. Mr. Fonti led the litigation to a remarkable recovery for the class, securing a settlement of $219 million, the largest ever securities class action recovery in Virginia.

Mr. Fonti previously achieved notable success in the Eastern District of Virginia as the lead lawyer in a fraud litigation on behalf of Computer Science Corp. shareholders. After prevailing at class certification, and only four weeks before trial, Mr. Fonti and his team secured a $97.5 million settlement—at the time, the second largest cash securities settlement in that court's history.

Mr. Fonti's career also is marked by significant successes in the area of auditor liability and stock options backdating. While representing investors in a class action against HealthSouth Corp., which settled for $671 million, Mr. Fonti played a significant role in recovering $109 million from outside auditor Ernst & Young LLP—one of the largest ever recoveries against an auditing firm. He also contributed to securing a $173.5 million settlement in a class action against Broadcom Corp. relating to options backdating—at the time the second-largest cash settlement in such a case. That also was the only such case in which claims against the auditors were sustained.

Mr. Fonti has achieved notable success as an appellate advocate. His argument in In re Celestica Inc. Securities Litigation resulted in the Second Circuit's reversal of an earlier dismissal, turning the tide of then-recent decisions by realigning pleading standards in favor of investors. He also was instrumental in the advocacy before the Ninth Circuit in In re Broadcom Corp. Securities Litigation, where the appellate victory marked the first occasion a court sustained allegations against an outside auditor related to options backdating.

Mr. Fonti represents several of Canada's largest pension systems and asset managers. He led the prosecution of securities class action against NovaGold Resources Inc., which resulted in the largest class settlement under Canada's securities laws at the time. He also provides thought leadership on issues particularly relevant to these clients. For example, he recently co-authored "Cross-Listed Securities Cases Present Challenges" in the National Law Journal, addressing interpretations of the Supreme Court's Morrison decision in light of modern financial markets.

Prior to founding the Firm, Mr. Fonti was a Partner of Labaton Sucharow LLP. He also practiced securities litigation at Bernstein Litowitz Berger & Grossmann LLP and began his legal career at Sullivan & Cromwell LLP, where he represented Fortune 100 corporations and financial institutions in complex securities litigation and in multifaceted SEC investigations and trials. He also is a member of the National Association of Public Pension Attorneys (NAPPA).

Mr. Fonti earned a B.A., cum laude, from New York University and a J.D. from New York University School of Law (1999), where he was a member of the Marden Moot Court. He is admitted to practice in New York (2000), the U.S. Supreme Court (2007), and the U.S. Courts of Appeals for the Second Circuit (2010), Ninth Circuit (2007), and Tenth Circuit (2013). He also is admitted in the U.S. District Courts for the Southern and Eastern Districts of New York (2001).

Mr. Meeks spearheaded the Firm's prosecution and discovery efforts, helping to secure a $219 million settlement for investors—the largest ever securities class action recovery in Virginia.

He similarly played a key role in prosecuting In re Weatherford International Securities Litigation on behalf of the Anchorage Police & Fire Retirement System and Weatherford investors. BLEICHMAR FONTI & AULD LLP

FIRM RESUME

BLEICHMAR FONTI & AULD LLP

OVERVIEW

Founded in August 2014, Bleichmar Fonti & Auld LLP ("BFA" or the "Firm") is a boutique law firm based in New York, New York with an office in Oakland, California. The Firm focuses on evaluating and prosecuting complex securities fraud class actions and other investment-related matters on behalf of a wide range of domestic and international clients, including some of the largest institutional investors and asset managers in the world.

BFA has recovered over $600 million since the Firm's formation less than three years ago. This track record is reflective of what distinguishes BFA from other securities litigation boutiques: the collective experience of the Firm's litigators rivals that of older peer firms, while the Firm's lean operations and its outcome-driven litigation strategy allows us to focus on achieving the best possible result in each case. BFA's founding partners worked together for over a decade prior to launching BFA, recovering billions of dollars for investors while at other nationally-recognized firm. In just the last five years, BFA's founding partners have represented the lead plaintiffs in nearly two dozen securities class actions, including five since the Firm's founding. Our founders are supported by a team recruited for their excellence and dedication to our practice, having carefully built a talented team who have collaborated for years, ensuring a wealth of experience to draw on for our clients. Our Firm regularly challenges the top defense firms in the country, and our philosophy is central to the reputation we have built as tough adversaries.

Our attorneys are nationally recognized as leading litigators in the field of securities litigation, and our achievements have been profiled in a variety of national publications, including The Wall Street Journal, The New York Times, Law 360, the National Law Journal's Plaintiffs' Hot List, and the Legal 500. We are also frequently asked to comment on breaking developments in financial fraud, securities, and other investment-related issues.

BFA further distinguishes itself by not making any political contributions to government officials who have any role in the Firm's retention or selection as counsel.

LITIGATION HIGHLIGHTS

BFA has represented lead plaintiffs in the following five major securities class actions.

In re MF Global Holdings Ltd. Securities Litigation

- No. 11-cv-07866, Southern District of New York
- Client: Her Majesty the Queen in Right of Alberta
- Lead Attorneys: Javier Bleichmar, Dominic Auld, Cynthia Hanawalt

Total Settlements: $234 Million

Background: This case arose from MF Global's dramatic bankruptcy in October 2011. Plaintiffs alleged that defendants misrepresented the company's risk controls, liquidity position, and exposure to European sovereign debt, and failed to properly account for its deferred tax assets.

BLEICHMAR FONTI & AULD LLP

BFA Role: BFA represented Court-appointed Co-Lead Plaintiff Alberta in this case. BFA partners Javier Bleichmar, Dominic J. Auld, and Cynthia Hanawalt, represented Alberta in this case since its inception in November 2011, and served as Court-appointed Co-Lead Counsel for the putative class since January 2012. When BFA launched in August 2014, the United States District Court approved Alberta's selection of BFA to serve as Co-Lead Counsel for the putative class continuing the core litigation team's representation.

Status: Lead Counsel achieved five partial settlements worth just over $234 million on behalf of investors: (1) a $74 million settlement with Goldman Sachs & Co. and certain other underwriters of the company's securities; (2) a $64.5 million settlement with former officers and directors, including former CEO Jon S. Corzine; (3) a $65 million settlement with the company's external auditor, PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP; (4) a $29.825 million settlement with Jefferies and other underwriters of the final bond offering issued during the Class Period, and (5) a separate $932,828 settlement with another underwriter defendant associated with the last offering. These settlements represent a recovery of approximately 35% of damages, an excellent result, particularly in light of the bankruptcy of the issuing entity.

These settlements were achieved after years of hard fought litigation. Following the Court's ruling sustaining the Complaint and denying defendants' six motions to dismiss in their entirety, Co-Lead Counsel reviewed millions of documents from defendants and third parties, and conducted over 50 depositions of former MF Global employees and other key witnesses, including four days of testimony from MF Global's former CEO Jon Corzine. The Court granted Plaintiffs' motion for class certification on October 14, 2015, which assisted in achieving the settlements.

In re Genworth Financial Inc. Securities Litigation

- No. 14-cv-00682, Eastern District of Virginia
- Client: Her Majesty the Queen in Right of Alberta
- Lead Attorneys: Joseph A. Fonti, Wilson Meeks

Total Settlement: $219 Million

Background: Plaintiffs alleged that defendants misrepresented the profitability of the company's core business and reported false financial results by grossly understating its long-term care insurance reserves. When Genworth announced a $531 million charge to its reserves, the company's stock price fell more than 55% – wiping out billions in market capitalization – and credit rating agencies downgraded the company and its corresponding debt to "junk" status.

BFA Role: BFA represented Court-appointed Co-Lead Plaintiff Alberta in this case. In November 2014, the United States District Court approved Alberta's selection of BFA to serve as Co-Lead Counsel for the putative class.

Status: On March 10, 2016, Genworth announced a proposed settlement of $219 million, the largest securities class action recovery ever achieved in Virginia. This result represents as much as 44% of the recoverable damages available at trial, many multiples of the average recoveries in securities class actions. BFA and Alberta sought and achieved a significant contribution from the company beyond available insurance: the Company funded $69 million of the settlement, while the remaining $150 million was funded by insurance.

This settlement came after 15 months of intense and rapid litigation. In December 2014, Lead Plaintiffs filed a consolidated complaint against the company and two of its former officers. In February 2015, defendants filed a motion to dismiss. BFA partner Joseph A. Fonti successfully argued against the motion in federal court on April 28, 2015, and the securities fraud claims were sustained on May 1, 2015.

BFA secured one of the most thoroughly-reasoned, investor-oriented decisions on the Supreme Court's then-recent Omnicare decision. The Court ruled that Lead Plaintiffs had sufficiently pled that defendants' statements were intended to mislead investors and to provide false assurances regarding the company's reserves. The Court also largely sustained allegations that defendants falsely certified that the company's internal controls were adequate.

The Eastern District of Virginia is known as the "rocket docket" for its rapid disposition of cases and strict adherence to scheduled deadlines. Plaintiffs filed their motion for class certification on December 3, 2015, fact discovery closed on January 15, 2016, and expert discovery ended on February 11, 2016. In effect, BFA conducted 30-48 months of litigation in 15 months. This effort included extensive trial preparation, over twenty depositions, and full briefing on class certification and summary judgment. At the time of settlement, BFA attorneys were preparing for trial, which was scheduled to begin on May 9, 2016.

Freedman et al. v. Weatherford International, Ltd.

- No. 12-cv-02121, Southern District of New York
- Client: Anchorage Police and Fire Retirement System
- Lead Attorney: Javier Bleichmar

Total Settlement: $120 Million

Background: Plaintiffs alleged that Weatherford, one of the world's largest oil and gas servicing companies, issued false financial statements that misled investors about its tax structure and internal controls. The company is alleged to have overstated its earnings by more than $900 million and was forced to issue three restatements pertaining to its failure to comply with Generally Accepted Accounting Principles ("GAAP").

BFA Role: BFA represented Court-appointed Co-Lead Plaintiff Anchorage in this case, and BFA partner Javier Bleichmar has represented Anchorage continuously since the case was filed in March 2012. BFA attorneys Joseph A. Fonti, Cynthia Hanawalt, and Wilson Meeks, also played key roles in the prosecution of this action.

Status: In September 2013, the team defeated defendants' motion to dismiss in its entirety. Class certification was granted in September 2014, fact discovery concluded in May 2015, after more than 20 depositions and the review of more than eight million pages of documents, and expert reports were exchanged in May 2015. Counsel announced the settlement in June 2015.

BLEICHMAR FONTI & AULD LLP

The company agreed to settle all claims for $120 million out of pocket cash, with no available insurance, or approximately 30% of recoverable damages. The settlement approval hearing was held on November 3, 2015, and the judge filed his order approving the settlement the following day. Achieving this settlement required more than three years of intense litigation, including defeating defendants' motion to dismiss in its entirety, obtaining class certification, completing fact discovery, filing four expert reports, and preparing for expert discovery and summary judgment.

In re Computer Sciences Corp. Securities Litigation

- No. 11-cv-00610, Eastern District of Virginia
- Client: Ontario Teachers' Pension Plan Board
- Lead Attorney: Joseph A. Fonti

Total Settlement: $97.5 Million

Background: Plaintiffs alleged that the company and two of its officers misrepresented (i) a multi-billion dollar contract with the United Kingdom's National Health Service, and (ii) that the company's internal controls were adequate.

Lead Plaintiff: Ontario Teachers' Pension Plan Board ("OTPP").

BFA Role: BFA partners Javier Bleichmar, Joseph A. Fonti, and Dominic J. Auld represented Lead Plaintiff OTPP at all stages of this case. Partner Cynthia Hanawalt was also instrumental in prosecuting the action, prevailing at class certification and achieving the outstanding settlement. In August 2014, the United States District Court approved OTPP's selection of BFA as its counsel, continuing the team's representation.

At the time of the settlement, the settlement was the second-largest all cash recovery in the Eastern District of Virginia, and represented as much as 38% of recoverable damages at trial.

In re Celestica Inc. Securities Litigation

- No. 07-cv-00312, Southern District of New York
- Client: New Orleans Employees' Retirement System
- Lead Attorney: Joseph A. Fonti

Total Settlement: $30 Million

Background: Plaintiffs alleged false and misleading statements relating to a significant corporate restructuring plan, earnings, profitability, and financial outlook. When the company ultimately disclosed the truth, its stock price dropped 50%, reducing market capitalization by $1.3 billion.

Lead Plaintiffs: New Orleans Employees' Retirement System; Drywall Acoustic Lathing & Insulation Local 675 of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America (Ontario, Canada).

BFA Role: BFA partner Joseph A. Fonti and Of Counsel Erin Rump represented Lead Plaintiffs in this case. Notably, Joseph successfully argued before the United States Court of

BLEICHMAR FONTI & AULD LLP

Appeals for the Second Circuit, securing an investor-oriented interpretation of the pleading standard for scienter. Joseph also successfully argued class certification and summary judgment motions before the United States District Court, securing the first decision post-Halliburton Co. v. Erica P. John Fund, Inc., 134 S. Ct. 2398 (2014), in favor of investors on the issue of class-wide reliance.

Status: In April 2015, plaintiffs filed a motion for preliminary approval of a proposed $30 million settlement resolving all claims against the company and officer defendants. After the final settlement approval hearing was held on July 28, 2015, Judge George B. Daniels approved the $30 million settlement.

BFA attorneys have also played key roles in some of the most significant investor protection litigation in recent history, helping shareholders recover significant losses caused by financial misconduct in various industries across the marketplace. Select cases include:

In re Broadcom Corp. Class Action Litigation, Civ. No. 06-cv-5036 (C.D. Cal.).

The class action against Broadcom was based on allegations that the company inflated its stock price by intentionally backdating its stock option grants for over five years. Ultimately, the company was forced to issue a $2.2 billion restatement of its financial statements for the period spanning from 1998 through 2005, which became the largest restatement ever due to options backdating.

The company acknowledged the "substantial evidence" of backdating, and lead plaintiffs secured a $173.5 million settlement, which, at the time, was the second largest cash settlement ever involving a company accused of options backdating. This was also the only such case in which claims against the auditors were sustained.

In re HealthSouth Corp. Securities Litigation, Civ. No. 03-cv-1501-S (N.D. Ala.).

This case involved the largest securities fraud ever arising out of the healthcare industry, and ultimately resulted in a total settlement amount of $804.5 million for the class. The class action involved claims against HealthSouth for falsifying its revenues and conducting a series of acquisition transactions in order to effectuate a massive fraud against the Medicare system.

False statements by the company and its officers led to the inflation of HealthSouth's stock price, while at the same time company executives were amassing significant personal wealth by selling their own shares of HealthSouth stock.

Significantly, the litigation also resulted in the recovery of $109 million from HealthSouth's outside auditor Ernst & Young LLP, one of the largest recoveries to date against an auditing firm.

BLEICHMAR FONTI & AULD LLP

In re Schering-Plough Corp. / ENHANCE Securities Litigation, Civ. No. 08-397 (D.N.J.).

Lead Plaintiffs brought litigation in the District of New Jersey against Schering-Plough Corporation and Merck/Schering-Plough Pharmaceuticals, and certain company officers, in In re Schering-Plough Corp. / ENHANCE Securities Litigation, alleging that they failed to disclose material information about the prospects of cholesterol-lowering drugs.

After nearly six years of litigation, Defendants agreed to pay $473 million to settle the matter on the eve of trial. This marked the largest securities class action recovery in history obtained from a pharmaceutical company. Together with a related securities class action against Merck, the ENHANCE litigation settled for $688 million.

Javier Bleichmar brings a long career of litigation success to his prosecution of large-scale securities fraud class actions on behalf of institutional investors. Javier has been "recommended" in the field of securities litigation by the Legal 500.

Javier was the lead attorney on the team that litigated In re MF Global Holdings Limited Securities Litigation on behalf of Her Majesty the Queen in Right of Alberta and MF Global investors, in connection with the company's dramatic collapse on October 31, 2011. Judge Marrero in the Southern District of New York sustained the complaint in its entirety, and plaintiffs secured several settlements totaling over $234 million, resolving claims against MF Global's former officers and directors, several underwriter defendants, and MF Global's outside auditor.

Javier similarly led the team that prosecuted Freedman v. Weatherford International Ltd., et al. on behalf of the Anchorage Police & Fire Retirement System. The case alleged that Weatherford, which made three restatements of audited financials totaling approximately $1 billion, misled investors about the Company's tax accounting. After more than three years of intense litigation, including 22 depositions and complex expert testimony, the parties announced a $120 million settlement on June 30, 2015.

In addition to driving daily litigation, Javier is also a successful appellate advocate. After Javier argued before the Eighth Circuit in Public Pension Fund Group v. KV Pharmaceutical, Co., the Eighth Circuit reversed an earlier dismissal and clarified the standard governing pharmaceutical companies' disclosures relating to FDA notifications.

BLEICHMAR FONTI & AULD LLP

Javier is also active in educating international institutional investors on developing trends in the law, particularly the ability of international investors to participate in securities class actions in the United States. Through these efforts, many of Javier's non-U.S. clients were able to join the organization representing investors (i.e., the Foundation) in the first securities class action settlement under the then-recently enacted Dutch statute against Royal Dutch Shell. He also provides thought leadership as a regular contributor on securities issues in the New York Law Journal. He most recently co-authored "IndyMac Leaves Uncertain Landscape for Opt-Out Litigation" and "The Evolving Legacy of Fait v. Regions Financial." Javier is an active member of the National Association of Public Pension Plan Attorneys (NAPPA).

Prior to founding the Firm, Javier was a Partner of Labaton Sucharow LLP. He previously practiced at Bernstein Litowitz Berger & Grossmann LLP, where he was actively involved in the Williams Securities Litigation, which resulted in a $311 million settlement, as well as significant securities matters involving Lucent Technologies, Inc., Conseco, Inc. and Biovail Corp. He began his legal career at Kirkland & Ellis LLP. During his time at Columbia Law School, Javier served as a law clerk to the Honorable Denny Chin, United States District Court Judge for the Southern District of New York. Javier is a native Spanish speaker and fluent in French.

Javier is admitted to the New York Bar, the Supreme Court of the State of New York, the United States Supreme Court, the U.S. Courts of Appeals for the Second, Eighth, Ninth, Tenth, and Eleventh Circuits, and the U.S. District Courts for the Southern and Eastern Districts of New York.

Joseph A. Fonti concentrates his practice on prosecuting complex securities and investment-related matters on behalf of institutional investors. Joseph's client commitment, advocacy skills, and litigation results have earned him recognition as a Law360 "Rising Star." He was one of only five securities lawyers in the country—and the only investor-side securities litigator—to receive the distinction. Joe was also "recommended" in the field of securities litigation by the Legal 500.

Joseph served as co-lead counsel in In re Genworth Financial Inc. Securities Litigation, in the Eastern District of Virginia, widely known as the "rocket docket." In defeating defendants' motion to dismiss, Joseph secured one of the first pro-investor opinions after the Supreme Court's recent decision in the Omnicare matter. Joseph led the litigation to a remarkable recovery for the class in the amount of $219 million, the largest securities class action recovery ever achieved in that jurisdiction.

Joseph previously achieved notable success in the high-pressure environment of the Eastern

BLEICHMAR FONTI & AULD LLP

District of Virginia. In 2013, Joseph was the lead trial lawyer litigating on behalf of shareholders of Computer Science Corp. After prevailing at class certification, and only four weeks before trial, Joseph and his team secured a $97.5 million settlement – what was then the second-largest cash securities settlement in the court's history.

With over a dozen years of experience in investor litigation, Joseph's career is also marked by significant successes in the area of auditor liability and stock options backdating. While representing shareholders in the In re HealthSouth Securities Litigation, which settled for $671 million, Joseph played a significant role in recovering $109 million from HealthSouth's outside auditor Ernst & Young LLP, one of the largest recoveries to date against an auditing firm. He also contributed to securing a $173.5 million settlement in In re Broadcom Corp. Securities Litigation, which, at the time, was the second-largest cash settlement involving a company accused of options backdating. This was the only such case in which claims against the auditors were sustained.

In addition to representing several significant U.S. institutional investors, Joseph has represented a number of Canada's significant pension systems and asset managers. He led the prosecution of In re NovaGold Resources Inc. Securities Litigation, which resulted in the largest settlement under Canada's securities class action laws. He also provides thought leadership on issues particularly relevant to these clients. For example, he recently co-authored "Cross-Listed Securities Cases Present Challenges" for the National Law Journal, which addresses recent Morrison interpretations in light of modern financial markets.

Joseph has also achieved notable success as an appellate advocate. His argument in In re Celestica Inc. Securities Litigation resulted in the Second Circuit's reversal of an earlier dismissal, turning the tide of then-recent decisions by realigning pleading standards in favor of investors. Joseph was also instrumental in the advocacy before the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals in the In re Broadcom Corp. Securities Litigation. This appellate victory marked the first occasion a court sustained allegations against an outside auditor related to options backdating.

Prior to founding the Firm, Joseph was a Partner of Labaton Sucharow LLP. He also practiced securities litigation at Bernstein Litowitz Berger & Grossmann LLP, and began his legal career at Sullivan & Cromwell LLP, where he represented Fortune 100 corporations and financial institutions in complex securities litigation and in multifaceted SEC investigations and trials. Joseph is a member of the ABA, the NY State Bar Association and the Bar of the City of New York.

Joseph is admitted to the New York Bar, the U.S. Courts of Appeals for the First, Second, Ninth, and Tenth Circuits, and the U.S. District Courts for the Southern and Eastern Districts of New York.

Firm Resume

BLOCK & LEVITON LLP

FIGHT FOR A LEVEL PLAYING FIELD.

Block & Leviton believes investors, pensioners, consumers and employees deserve an advocate who will take a stand to protect their rights. We value our role not only in recovering our clients' immediate losses, but in protecting their long-term interests by helping to shape corporate policy. We genuinely enjoy our work, which each day offers an opportunity to tackle novel problems and unique challenges in a continuously evolving economy. We concur with Aristotle's observation that pleasure in the job puts perfection in the work. We believe this is reflected in our track record, which includes our ability to take a case to trial and win, as well as our appointment as lead or co-lead counsel in many dozens of high profile matters, including:

In re BP Securities Litig., Case No. 4:10-MD-02185 (S.D. Tex.) (settled for $175 million), In re Google Class C Shareholder Litig., Case No. 7469-CS (Del. Ch.) (settled for $522 million), In re: Drywall Antirust Litig., Case No. 13-md-02437 (E.D. Pa.) (settled for approximately $17 million), and In re: Volkswagen "Clean Diesel" Marketing, Sales Practices and Products Liability Litig., Case No. 3:15-md- 02672 (N.D. Cal.) (settlement valued at approximately $15 billion). Our attorneys have successfully recovered billions for our clients and class members and have done so even under adverse conditions, including successfully litigating against bankrupt and foreign-based corporations.

DEFY CONVENTION.

Instrumental to our philosophy is the willingness to embrace new ways of seeing, and solving, our clients' problems. For example, we challenged Google Inc.'s plan to issue a new class of non-voting stock that threatened to diminish the value of minority investors' holdings in the company. With trial set to begin in less than two days, Block & Leviton brokered a settlement with Google Inc. and its directors that provided for a forwardlooking payment ladder (valued at up to $7.5 billion) to protect minority investors against future diminution in their stock value. As a result of the payment ladder, shareholders ultimately recovered $522 million in cash and stock in May 2015. Appreciation of the fact that each of our clients has a unique viewpoint allows us to tailor our advice and representation accordingly to achieve superior results, and to do so with maximum efficiency.

SURROUND YOURSELF WITH THE BEST.

The Firm credits its success to its entire team of extremely talented, dedicated attorneys, the majority of whom have significant litigation experience. An in-depth curriculum vitae highlighting each attorney's areas of expertise, unique experience, recognition in the field and education credentials follows.

Jeffrey Block is a co-founding partner of Block & Leviton. With a career spanning thirty years, Jeff is recognized as one of the nation's preeminent class action attorneys and is recognize as a "Super Lawyer" by Massachusetts Super Lawyers. Jeff currently represents the Ohio Public Employees Retirement System in In re BP Sec. Litig., No. 4:10-MD-02185 (S.D. Tex.), charging that BP misled investors as to the amount of oil leaking from the Macondo well after the explosion aboard the Deepwater Horizon oil rig in the Gulf of Mexico in 2010. Jeff, on behalf of the plaintiffs, successfully argued against defendants' motions to dismiss, in favor of class certification, in opposition to summary judgment, and helped secure a settlement of $175 million for the class, which represents more than 60% of the class' actual losses. Jeff also represented the Brockton Retirement System in an action challenging Google's attempt to split its stock into voting and non-voting shares. See In re Google, Inc. Class C S'holder Litig., Case No. 7469-CS (Del. Ch. Ct.). Two days before the start of trial, the action settled for significant corporate governance changes and a payment ladder valued up to $7.5 billion, which was designed to protect shareholders against any diminution in the value of their shares during the first year of trading. Because of the payment ladder, shareholders ultimately recovered $522 million in cash and stock in May 2015.

In addition, Jeff represents some of the country's largest institutional investors, including the Massachusetts Pension Reserves Investment Management Board (PRIM), the Ohio Public Employees Retirement System, the Ohio State Teachers Retirement System, the Washington State Investment Board, the New Mexico Educational Retirement Board, the New Mexico Public Employees Retirement System, the New Mexico State Investment Council and the Oklahoma Police Pension and Retirement System.

Some of the major class actions that Jeff has either led, or played a significant role in, include: In re First Executive Corp. Securities Litig., 89-cv-7135 (C.D. Cal.) (settled for $100 million); In re Xerox Corp. Sec. Litig., 3:00-cv- 01621 (D. Co11nn.) (settled for $750 million); In re Bristol Myers Squibb Sec. Litig., 02-cv-2251 (S.D.N.Y.) (settled for $300 million); In re Lernout & Hauspie Sec. Litig., 1:00-cv-11589 (D. Mass.) (settled for $180 million); In re Symbol Technologies Sec. Litig., 2:02-cv-1383 (E.D.N.Y.) (settled for $127 million); In re Prison Realty Corp. Sec. Litig., 3:99-cv-0452 (M.D. Tenn.) (settled for over $100 million); In re Philip Services Corp. Sec. Litig., 98-cv-835 (S.D.N.Y.) (settled for $79.75 million); In re American Home Mortgage Sec. Litig., 07-MD-1898 (E.D.N.Y.) (settled for $50.5 million); In re Force Protection Sec. Litig., 2:08-cv-845 (D.S.C.) ($24 million settlement); In re Swisher Hygiene, Inc., Securities and Derivative Litig., 3:12-md-2384 GCM (W.D.N.C.) ($5.5 million settlement).

Jeff has a proven record of overcoming significant challenges to obtain substantial recoveries on behalf of his clients. For example, in the Philip Services securities litigation, Jeff persuaded the United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit to reverse the District Court's dismissal of the action on the grounds of forum non conveniens. See Dirienzo v. Philip Services Corp., 294 F.3d 21 (2d. Cir. 2002).

Upon reversal, Jeff led the team of attorneys in taking more than 40 depositions and, upon the eve of trial, the action settled for $79.50 million, among the largest recoveries ever in a securities action from a Canadian accounting firm. Jeff's skills were discussed in great lengths by the court, specifically noting that counsel:

> pursued this fact-intensive and legally complex litigation vigorously over a nine-year period, rejected offers of settlement for amounts inferior to the amounts upon which the parties ultimately agreed, and assumed significant risks of non-recovery. Co-Lead Counsel had to overcome the disclaimers and uncertainties of insurance coverage, and vigorous advocacy of extremely able and deeply-staffed defense counsel. … And they did their work efficiently, with minimal duplication, and maximum effectiveness.

> I was careful to choose attorneys who have great ability [and] great reputation… And I think you've undertaken the representation of these people, you've done an excellent job, you've reached a settlement that I think is fair and in their benefit .

Honorable C. Weston Houck

In re Force Protection Sec. Litig., 2:08-cv-845 CWH (D.S.C.)
($24 million settlement)

In re Philip Servs. Corp. Sec. Litig., 2007 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 101427, 13-14 (S.D.N.Y. Mar. 27, 2007) (Honorable Alvin K. Hellerstein). Similarly, in Lernout & Hauspie Sec. Litig., Jeff was the lead attorney in securing over $180 million for defrauded investors. The action involved an accounting fraud of a company headquartered in both the United States and Belgium.

Recently, Jeff led a team of litigators, private investigators and a forensic accountant through a complex accounting fraud case. Jeff settled the case on terms extremely beneficial to the class, as recognized by the court. See In re Swisher Hygiene, Inc., Securities and Derivative Litig., 3:12-md-2384 GCM (W.D.N.C.).

Mr. Jason Leviton is a co-founding partner of Block & Leviton and focuses his practice on investor protection and shareholder rights matters. He serves as Co-Chair of the Firm's New Case Investigation and Monitoring Team and Chair of the Merger and Acquisition Litigation Team. In 2011 and each year thereafter, Jason was named a Super Lawyer or Rising Star by Massachusetts Super Lawyers, an honor given to only 3% of all lawyers in the Commonwealth. Jason also has a Martindale-Hubbell AV Preeminent Rating. In 2014, Jason was named as a Top 100 Trial Lawyer by the National Trial Lawyer Association. After receiving his law degree, Jason attended the Georgetown University Law Center and received a Master of Laws (LL.M.) in Securities and Financial Regulation (Dean's Award, 1 of 6). During that time, he was the inaugural LL.M. student selected for an externship with the S.E.C., Enforcement Division. Jason is now a member of the Association of Securities and Exchange Commission Alumni.

Currently, Jason represents several Ohio Pension Funds against BP following the largest oil spill in United States history. See In re BP plc Securities Litigation, Case No. 10-cv-2185 (S.D. Tex.) (settled for $175 million). He also served as co-lead counsel in In re Onyx Pharmaceuticals Inc. Shareholder Litigation, Case No. CIV523789 (Cal. Sup. Ct) (settled for $30 million).

Jason has been named lead or co-lead counsel in numerous class actions, including: In re Plains Exploration & Production Co. Stockholder Litig., Case No. 8090-VCN (Del. Ch.) (litigation led to an increase of approximately $400 million to the original merger amount); In re Rentrak Shareholders Litig., No. 15CV27429 (Ore. Sup.) ($19 million settlement); In re Cybex Int'l Shareholders Litig., Case No. 653794/2012 (N.Y. Sup. Ct) (settlement involved substantial dividend payment to shareholders)

Jason has achieved significant recoveries on behalf of class members, including but not limited to: In re Empire State Realty Trust, Inc. Investor Litigation, Case No. 650607/2012 (settled for $55 million); In re KIT Digital, Inc. Securities Litigation, Case No. 12-04199 (S.D.N.Y.) (settled for more than $6 million following the company's voluntary petition for bankruptcy); In re Swisher Hygiene, Inc. Sec. and Deriv. Litig., MDL No. 3:12-MD-2384-GCM (W.D.N.C) (settled for nearly 40% of all cognizable damages); and Brockton Retirement Board and City of Quincy Contributory Retirement Systems v. Oppenheimer Global Resource Private Equity Fund I, L.P., et al., Case No. 1:12-cv-10552 (D. Mass.) (settled for numerous improvements to Oppenheimer's corporate governance structure regarding the valuation of assets).

In addition to his class action experiences, Jason has litigated other forms of complex litigation. For instance, he worked with a former State of New York Attorney General in the defense of an attorney accused of insider trading, which included a criminal referral to the United States Department of Justice.

He was also heavily involved in the representation of four detainees being held at the Guantánamo Bay Naval Station in Cuba. Moreover, Jason has represented former employee whistleblowers before the S.E.C. where, in one instance, he successfully argued that his clients should receive the maximum whistleblower award of 30% pursuant to the Dodd-Frank Act, which equated to nearly $1 million. He also represented the same whistleblower in a retaliation claim against several Oppenheimer-related entities. See John Doe v. Oppenheimer Asset Management, Inc., et al., Case No. 1:14-cv-00779-LAP (S.D.N.Y.).

Jason also has considerable experience litigating consumer class action cases involving deceptive business practices. For example, Jason, as co-lead counsel, successfully recovered 100% of the class's alleged damages stemming from the overcharging of scooped coffee beans at Starbucks stores throughout the country. See In re Starbucks Consumer Litig., Case No. 2:11-cv-01985-MJP (W.D. Wa.).

Prior to forming Block & Leviton, Jason was an attorney at three other preeminent class action firms. There, he was instrumental in recovering $10.5 million in the Welmon v. Chicago Bridge & Iron, Case No. 06-cv- 01283, securities class action litigation. In that case, Jason represented Fortis Investments, a major European asset management company and, in addition to the monetary settlement, was able to institute several corporate governance changes at the company. In granting the Chicago Bridge & Iron settlement, the Honorable John Sprizzo stated that "Plaintiffs' counsel have conducted the litigation and achieved the settlement with skill, perserversance and diligent advocacy." Chicago Bridge & Iron (June 3, 2008).

Moreover, in the Ong v. Sears Roebuck & Co., Case No. 03 C 4142 (N.D. Ill.), securities class action, Jason represented the State Universities Retirement System of Illinois (SURS) and helped settle the action for $15.5 million. He also represented the Iowa Public Employees' Retirement System, the Policemen's Annuity & Benefit Fund of Chicago, the Central States, Southeast and Southwest Areas Pension Fund in the securities class action against MF Global that settled for $90.0 million. Rubin v. MF Global, LTD., et al., Case No. 08-cv- 02233 (S.D.N.Y.). Likewise, he was a member of the In re VeriSign Securities Litigation, Case No. C-02-2270 (N.D. Cal.) team that recovered more than $78.0 million for investors.

> The settlement is – gosh. . . . the fact that it's occurring within the context of a securities case, which is very difficult for plaintiffs to win, is extremely impressive to me. . . . [T]his is a matter which has been fairly litigated by people.

Notable ERISA Cases

Over the last 15 years, Joe has handled a wide variety of employee benefit (i.e. ERISA) cases. He has been trial counsel in four ERISA cases. He was lead trial counsel in a case challenging a complex transaction involving the Trachte ESOP and the Alliance ESOP on behalf of a class of employees of Trachte, Chesemore v. Alliance Holdings, Inc., No. 3:09-cv-00413 (W.D. Wis.). In that case, Joe obtained a favorable trial decisions on a liability and remedies of $17.2 million (plus prejudgment interest) for the Class which was affirmed by the Seventh Circuit. Notable Cases Involving Veterans & Servicemembers

Block & Leviton Partner Joel Fleming has significant experience in shareholder litigation. Since graduating with honors from the Harvard Law School, Joel has spent his entire career practicing shareholder litigation and has been recognized as a "Rising Star" in securities litigation by Super Lawyers magazine for four years in a row.

Joel was a lead attorney for Block & Leviton in In re Rentrak Corporation Shareholders Litigation, No. 15CV27429, which resulted in a $19 million settlement for a class of former shareholders of Rentrak Corporation. This is believed to be largest settlement of merger litigation in Oregon state court history. It was also one of the top five largest settlements, since 2010, of merger litigation arising from transactions valued at less than $1 billion.

Joel was also the lead associate in Vladimir Gusinsky Living Trust v. Berman, No. 2:14-01420-JAK (C.D. Cal.), a derivative action on behalf of Jakks Pacific, Inc., which resulted in a settlement that imposed significant corporate governance reforms, valued by expert testimony as worth $20 to $40 million to the company.

Joel is currently serving as one of the lead attorneys in litigation challenging a conflicted transaction between Reynolds American and its largest shareholder, British American Tobacco: a $4.7 billion share issuance to British American Tobacco at a below-market price. In December 2016, in a question of first impression, the North Carolina Court of Appeals held in favor of the putative class represented by Block & Leviton, finding that Plaintiffs had adequately pled that British American Tobacco was a controlling shareholder and owed a fiduciary duty to public shareholders. Corwin v. British Am. Tobacco PLC, 796 S.E.2d 324, 327 (N.C. Ct. App. 2016).

Joel also serves as a lead attorney for a putative class of Charter Communications shareholders, challenging an unfair share issuance to Charter's controlling shareholders, Liberty Broadband and John Malone, in connection with Charter's purchase of Time Warner Cable and Bright House Networks. Fight for a level playing field. Block & Leviton believes investors, pensioners, consumers and employees deserve an advocate who will take a stand to protect their rights. We value our role not only in recovering our clients' immediate losses, but in protecting their long-term interests by helping to shape corporate policy. We genuinely enjoy our work, which each day offers an opportunity to tackle novel problems and unique challenges in a continuously evolving economy. We concur with Aristotle's observation that pleasure in the job puts perfection in the work. We believe this is reflected in our track record, which includes our ability to take a case to trial and win, as well as our appointment as lead or co-lead counsel in many dozens of high profile matters, including: In re BP Securities Litig,, Case No. 4:10-MD-02185 (S.D. Tex.) (settled for $175 million), In re Google Class C Shareholder Litig., Case No. 7469-CS (Del. Ch.) (settled for $522 million) and In re: Drywall Antirust Litigation, Case No. 13-md-02437 (E.D. Pa.) (to date, settlements with 2 of 6 defendants totaling more than $10 million), and In re: Volkswagen "Clean Diesel" Marketing, Sales Practices and Products Liability Litig., Case No. 3:15-md-02672 (N.D. Cal.) (settled for approximately $15 billion). Our attorneys have successfully recovered billions for our clients and class members and have done so even under adverse conditions, including successfully litigating against bankrupt and foreign-based corporations.

Defy convention. Instrumental to our philosophy is the willingness to embrace new ways of seeing, and solving, our clients' problems. For example, we challenged Google Inc.'s plan to issue a new class of non-voting stock that threatened to diminish the value of minority investors' holdings in the company. With trial set to begin in less than two days, Block & Leviton brokered a settlement with Google Inc. and its directors that provided for a forward-looking payment ladder (valued at up to $7.5 billion) to protect minority investors against future diminution in their stock value. As a result of the payment ladder, shareholders ultimately recovered $522 million in cash and stock in May 2015. Appreciation of the fact that each of our clients has a unique viewpoint allows us to tailor our advice and representation accordingly to achieve superior results, and to do so with maximum efficiency.

Surround yourself with the best. The Firm credits its success to its entire team of extremely talented, dedicated attorneys, the majority of whom have significant litigation experience. An in-depth curriculum vitae highlighting each attorney's areas of expertise, unique experience, recognition in the field and education credentials follows.

Mr. Block currently represents the Ohio Public Employees Retirement System in In re: BP Sec. Litig., No. 4:10-MD-02185 (S.D. Tex.), charging that BP misled investors as to the amount of oil leaking from the Macondo well after the explosion aboard the Deepwater Horizon oil rig in the Gulf of Mexico in 2010. Mr. Block, on behalf of the plaintiffs, successfully argued against defendants' motions to dismiss, in favor of class certification, in opposition to summary judgment, and helped secure a settlement of $175 million for the class, which represents more than 60% of the class' actual losses. Mr. Block also represented the Brockton Retirement System in an action challenging Google's attempt to split its stock into voting and non-voting shares. See In re Google, Inc. Class C S'holder Litig., case no. 7469-CS (Del. Ch. Ct.). Two days before the start of trial, the action settled for significant corporate governance changes and a payment ladder valued up to $7.5 billion, which was designed to protect shareholders against any diminution in the value of their shares during the first year of trading. Because of the payment ladder, shareholders ultimately recovered $522 million in cash and stock in May 2015.

In addition, Mr. Block represents some of the country's largest institutional investors, including the Massachusetts Pension Reserves Investment Management Board (PRIM), the Ohio Public Employees Retirement System, the Ohio State Teachers Retirement System, the Washington State Investment Board, the New Mexico Educational Retirement Board, the New Mexico Public Employees Retirement System, the New Mexico State Investment Council and the Oklahoma Police Pension and Retirement System.

Some of the major class actions that Mr. Block has either led, or played a significant role in, include: In re First Executive Corp. Securities Litig., 89-cv-7135 (C.D. Cal.) (settled for $100 million); In re Xerox Corp. Sec. Litig., 3:00-cv-01621 (D. Conn.) (settled for $750 million); In re Bristol Myers Squibb Sec. Litig., 02-cv-2251 (S.D.N.Y.) (settled for $300 million); In re Lernout & Hauspie Sec. Litig., 1:00-cv-11589 (D. Mass.) (settled for $180 million); In re Symbol Technologies Sec. Litig., 2:02-cv-1383 (E.D.N.Y.) (settled for $127 million); In re Prison Realty Corp. Sec. Litig., 3:99-cv-0452 (M.D. Tenn.) (settled for over $100 million); In re Philip Services Corp. Sec. Litig., 98-cv-835 (S.D.N.Y.) (settled for $79.75 million); In re American Home Mortgage Sec. Litig., 07-MD-1898 (E.D.N.Y.) (settled for $50.5 million); In re Force Protection Sec. Litig., 2:08-cv-845 (D.S.C.) ($24 million settlement); In re Swisher Hygiene, Inc., Securities and Derivative Litig., 3:12-md-2384 GCM (W.D.N.C.) ($5.5 million settlement).

"I was careful to choose attorneys who have great ability [and] great reputation... And I think you've undertaken the representation of these people, you've done an excellent job, you've reached a settlement that I think is fair and in their benefit ...".

Honorable C. Weston Houck, In re Force Protection Sec. Litig., 2:08-cv-845 CWH (D.S.C.) ($24 million settlement)

Mr. Block has a proven record of overcoming significant challenges to obtain substantial recoveries on behalf of his clients. For example, in the Philip Services securities litigation, Mr. Block persuaded the United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit to reverse the District Court's dismissal of the action on the grounds of forum non conveniens. See Dirienzo v. Philip Services Corp., 294 F.3d 21 (2d. Cir. 2002). Upon reversal, Mr. Block led the team of attorneys in taking more than 40 depositions and, upon the eve of trial, the action settled for $79.50 million, among the largest recoveries ever in a securities action from a Canadian accounting firm. Mr. Block's skills were discussed in great lengths by the court, specifically noting that counsel:

> "pursued this fact-intensive and legally complex litigation vigorously over a nine-year period, rejected offers of settlement for amounts inferior to the amounts upon which the parties ultimately agreed, and assumed significant risks of non-recovery. Co-Lead Counsel had to overcome the disclaimers and uncertainties of insurance coverage, and vigorous advocacy of extremely able and deeply-staffed defense counsel. … And THEY DID THEIR WORK EFFICIENTLY, WITH MINIMAL DUPLICATION, AND MAXIMUM EFFECTIVENESS."

In re Philip Servs. Corp. Sec. Litig., 2007 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 101427, 13-14 (S.D.N.Y. Mar. 27, 2007) (Honorable Alvin K. Hellerstein). Similarly, in Lernout & Hauspie Sec. Litig., Mr. Block was the lead attorney in securing over $180 million for defrauded investors. The action involved an accounting fraud of a company headquartered in both the United States and Belgium.

Recently, Mr. Block led a team of litigators, private investigators and a forensic accountant through a complex accounting fraud case. Mr. Block settled the case on terms extremely beneficial to the class, as recognized by the court. See In re Swisher Hygiene, Inc., Securities and Derivative Litig., 3:12-md-2384 GCM (W.D.N.C.).

"The settlement is – gosh. . . . the fact that it's occurring within the context of a securities case, which is very difficult for plaintiffs to win, is extremely impressive to me. . . . [T]his is a matter which has been fairly litigated by people who know what they're doing."

Honorable Graham C. Mullen, In re Swisher Hygiene, Inc., Securities and Derivative Litig., 3:12-md-2384 GCM (W.D.N.C.) ($5.5 million settlement)

Mr. Leviton is a co-founding partner of Block & Leviton and focuses his practice on investor protection and shareholder rights matters. He serves as Co-Chair of the Firm's New Case Investigation and Monitoring Team and Chair of the Merger and Acquisition Litigation Team. In 2011 and each year thereafter, Mr. Leviton was named a "Rising Star" by Massachusetts Super Lawyers, an honor given to only 3% of all lawyers in the Commonwealth. In 2014, Mr. Leviton was named as a Top 100 Trial Lawyer by the National Trial Lawyer Association. After receiving his law degree, Mr. Leviton attended the Georgetown University Law Center and received a Master of Laws (LL.M.) in Securities and Financial Regulation (Dean's Award, 1 of 6). During that time, he was the inaugural LL.M. student selected for an externship with the S.E.C., Enforcement Division. Mr. Leviton is now a member of the Association of Securities and Exchange Commission Alumni.

Currently, Mr. Leviton represents several Ohio Pension Funds against BP following the largest oil spill in United States history. See In re BP plc Securities Litigation, Case No. 10-cv-2185 (S.D. Tex.) (settled for $175 million). Mr. Leviton also serves as co-lead counsel in In re Onyx Pharmaceuticals Inc. Shareholder Litigation, Case No. CIV523789 (Cal. Sup. Ct) (settled for $30 million). In addition, Mr. Leviton has been named lead or co-lead counsel in numerous class actions, including: In re Plains Exploration & Production Co. Stockholder Litig., Case No. 8090-VCN (Del. Ch.) (litigation led to an increase of approximately $400 million to the original merger amount); In re MIPS Technologies, Inc. Stockholder Litig., Case No. 8103-VCN (Del. Ch.) (settled for numerous material disclosures and amendments to the merger agreement); In re Cybex Int'l Shareholders Litig., Case No. 653794/2012 (N.Y. Sup. Ct) (settlement involved substantial dividend payment to shareholders); and In re Sunoco, Inc., Case No. 1204-03894 (settlement required Sunoco to publish an update to its Proxy Statement to correct for material omissions).

Mr. Leviton has achieved significant recoveries on behalf of class members, including but not limited to: In re Empire State Realty Trust, Inc. Investor Litigation, case no. 650607/2012 (settled for $55 million); In re KIT Digital, Inc. Securities Litigation, Case No. 12-04199 (S.D.N.Y.) (settled for more than $6 million following the company's voluntary petition for bankruptcy); In re Swisher Hygiene, Inc. Sec. and Deriv. Litig., MDL No. 3:12-MD-2384-GCM (W.D.N.C) (settled for nearly 40% of all cognizable damages); and Brockton Retirement

Board and City of Quincy Contributory Retirement Systems v. Oppenheimer Global Resource Private Equity Fund I, L.P., et al., Case No. 1:12-cv-10552 (D. Mass.) (settled for numerous improvements to Oppenheimer's corporate governance structure regarding the valuation of assets). In addition to his class action experiences, Mr. Leviton has litigated other forms of complex litigation. For instance, he worked with a former State of New York Attorney General in the defense of an attorney accused of insider trading, which included a criminal referral to the United States Department of Justice. He was also heavily involved in the representation of four detainees being held at the Guantánamo Bay Naval Station in Cuba.

Moreover, Mr. Leviton has represented former employee whistleblowers before the S.E.C. where, in one instance, he successfully argued that his clients should receive the maximum whistleblower award of 30% pursuant to the Dodd-Frank Act, which equated to nearly $1 million. He also represented the same whistleblower in a retaliation claim against several Oppenheimer-related entities. See John Doe v. Oppenheimer Asset Management, Inc., et al., Case No. 1:14-cv-00779-LAP (S.D.N.Y.).

Mr. Leviton also has considerable experience litigating consumer class action cases involving deceptive business practices. For example, Mr. Leviton, as co-lead counsel, successfully recovered 100% of the class's alleged damages stemming from the overcharging of scooped coffee beans at Starbucks stores throughout the country. See In re Starbucks Consumer Litig., Case No. 2:11-cv-01985-MJP (W.D. Wa.).

Prior to forming Block & Leviton, Mr. Leviton was an attorney at three other preeminent class action firms. There, he was instrumental in recovering $10.5 million in the Welmon v. Chicago Bridge & Iron, Case No. 06-cv-01283, securities class action litigation. In that case, Mr. Leviton represented Fortis Investments, a major European asset management company and, in addition to the monetary settlement, was able to institute several corporate governance changes at the company. In granting the Chicago Bridge & Iron settlement, the Honorable John Sprizzo stated that "PLAINTIFFS' COUNSEL HAVE CONDUCTED THE LITIGATION AND ACHIEVED THE SETTLEMENT WITH SKILL, PERSEVERANCE AND DILIGENT ADVOCACY." Chicago Bridge & Iron (June 3, 2008). Moreover, in the Ong v. Sears Roebuck & Co., Case No. 03 C 4142 (N.D. Ill.), securities class action, Mr. Leviton represented the State Universities Retirement System of Illinois (SURS) and helped settle the action for $15.5 million. He also represented the Iowa Public Employees' Retirement System, the Policemen's Annuity & Benefit Fund of Chicago, the Central States, Southeast and Southwest Areas Pension Fund in the securities class action against MF Global that settled for $90.0 million. See Rubin v. MF Global, LTD., et al., Case No. 08-cv-02233 (S.D.N.Y.). Likewise, he was a member of the In re VeriSign Securities Litigation, Case No. C-02-2270 (N.D. Notable ERISA Cases

Over the last 15 years, Mr. Barton has handled a wide variety of employee benefit (i.e. ERISA) cases. He has been trial counsel in four ERISA cases. He was lead trial counsel in a case challenging a complex transaction involving the Trachte ESOP and the Alliance ESOP on behalf of a class of employees of Trachte, Chesemore v. Alliance Holdings, Inc., No. 3:09-cv-00413 (W.D. Wis.). In that case, Mr. Barton obtained a favorable trial decisions on a liability and remedies of $17.2 million (plus prejudgment interest) for the Class which was affirmed by the Seventh Circuit. In that case, Tuten v. United Airlines, No. 12-cv-1561-WJM-MEH (D. Col.), Mr. Barton was lead counsel for a class of United Airlines Pilots alleging USERRA violations in connection with their pension contributions. Pro Bono Cases

Mr. Barton considers pro bono representation an important part of his practice and has represented clients in actions concerning their employer's failure to pay wages and/or overtime. In one such case, the Judge in D.C. Superior Court described Mr. Barton's representation as follows: "everything done on behalf of the Plaintiff has been professional, timely and thorough."

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT

NORTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

IN RE: LITHIUM ION BATTERIES ANTITRUST LITIGATION	Case No. 13-MD-02420 YGR (DMR) MDL NO. 2420
This Document Relates to: ALL INDIRECT PURCHASER ACTIONS	DECLARATION OF VAN BUNCH IN SUPPORT OF INDIRECT PURCHASER PLAINTIFFS' MOTION FOR AN AWARD OF ATTORNEYS' FEES AND REIMBURSEMENT OF EXPENSES ON BEHALF OF BONNETT, FAIRBOURN, FRIEDMAN & BALINT, P.C.

I, Van Bunch, declare:

1. I am a shareholder of the law firm of Bonnett, Fairbourn, Friedman & Balint, P.C. ("BFFB"), Counsel for Indirect Purchaser Plaintiffs ("IPPs" or "Plaintiffs") in this action. I submit this declaration in support of IPPs' Motion for an Award of Attorneys' Fees and Reimbursement of Expenses. I make this declaration based on my personal knowledge and if called as a witness, I could and would competently testify to the matters stated herein.

2. My firm has served as counsel to Shawn Sellers and as counsel for IPPs throughout the course of this litigation. The background and experience of BFFB and its attorneys are summarized in the curriculum vitae attached hereto as Exhibit A.

3. BFFB has prosecuted this litigation solely on a contingent-fee basis and has been at risk that it would not receive any compensation for prosecuting claims against the defendants. While BFFB devoted its time and resources to this matter, it has foregone other legal work for which it would have been compensated.

4. During the pendency of the litigation, BFFB performed work including, inter alia, contributing to the formulation of Plaintiffs' litigation strategy and case management, drafting and editing written discovery, and preparing for and defending class representative Shawn Sellers' deposition.

5. A summary of work performed by BFFB and detailed billing records from June 1, 2013 to February 28, 2017 were submitted with the Declaration of Van Bunch in Support of Indirect Purchaser Plaintiffs' Motion for an Award of Attorneys' Fees and Reimbursement of Expenses on Behalf of Bonnett, Fairbourn, Friedman & Balint, P.C. and filed on May 26, 2017. (ECF No. 1813-8). Counsel for Plaintiffs did not and do not seek attorneys' fees for any time billed prior to the appointment of lead counsel. See Order dated May 17, 2013 (ECF No. 198).

6. In summary, the total number of hours spent by BFFB since June 1, 2013 was 58.6, with a corresponding lodestar of $25,757.50 based on current rates.

7. Attached hereto as Exhibit B is a summary of the expenses BFFB has incurred from June 1, 2013 to present. BFFB expended a total of $841.40 in unreimbursed costs and expenses in connection with the prosecution of this case. These expenses were incurred on behalf of IPPs by BFFB on a contingent basis and have not been reimbursed. The expenses reflected in Exhibit B were prepared from expense reports, vouchers, receipts, and bank records, and thus represent an accurate recordation of the expenses incurred. I have reviewed the time and expenses reported by BFFB in this case which are included in this declaration, and I affirm that they are true and accurate.

I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the United States that the foregoing is true and correct.

Executed on April 5, 2019 at Phoenix, Arizona.

CLASS ACTION

Bonnett, Fairbourn, Friedman & Balint represents consumers and investors in major class action cases in federal and state courts throughout the United States. Under the direction of Andrew S. Friedman, the firm's class action section represents plaintiff classes in the following areas:

Securities Fraud: Protects institutional shareholders and individual investors from corporate fraud and mismanagement.

Consumer Protection: Protects consumers from defective products and fraudulent marketing practices.

Antitrust: Protects individuals and businesses from price fixing, unfair business practices and other anticompetitive conduct.

Civil Rights and Employment: Protects employees and consumers against unfair practices and racial, age, gender, and other forms of discrimination.

Insurance and Health Care: Represents victims of fraud and unfair sales practices by life insurance companies and HMOs.

Tobacco: Seeks redress for fraudulent marketing of "Light" cigarettes as a less toxic version of "Full Flavor" varieties.

False Claims and Whistleblowers: Provides for awards to individuals who uncover false claims for payment submitted to the federal government.

SECURITIES

Bonnett, Fairbourn, Friedman & Balint has extensive experience in plaintiffs' class action securities cases in and out of the State of Arizona. Its attorneys have recovered substantial verdicts and settlements in various high-profile cases representing bondholders who have suffered significant losses due to the criminal activities of individuals in the securities and banking industries, including victimized investors in the Lincoln Savings scandal.

APPELLATE LITIGATION

Bonnett, Fairbourn, Friedman & Balint has extensive appellate experience at all levels of the state and federal court systems. Attorneys from the firm have appeared before the Arizona Court of Appeals, the Arizona Supreme Court, and numerous U.S. Circuit Courts. Decisions to appeal a matter are not made lightly by the firm; we carefully analyze the likelihood of a positive result for the client against the potential cost of an unfavorable outcome. Although we draw on the clerking and practical experience of many of our attorneys in making this analysis, a fully informed client is always an integral part of this process.

VAN BUNCH is a firm shareholder. Mr. Bunch's practice focuses on class action and mass tort litigation. He has represented clients in class litigation involving breach of contract, federal and state securities laws, federal and state RICO actions, deceptive insurance sales practices, environmental pollution and other consumer protection claims.

Recently, Mr. Bunch participated in the successful resolution of Good, et al. v. West Virginia American Water Company in the United States District Court for the Southern District of West Virginia. The case arose of a spill of hazardous chemicals into the local water supply of Charleston, W.V., shutting down access to drinking water for some 225,000 residents and thousands of businesses. Mr. Bunch served as lead counsel in the case and worked all phases of the litigation up to the eve of trial, when the parties struck a settlement. Before that, Mr. Bunch steered In re Mingo County Coal Slurry litigation to a successful conclusion, a case in which over seven hundred West Virginians received compensation for physical injuries, including wrongful death claims and the establishment of a medical monitoring program to help promote earlier diagnosis and treatment from the health effects of alleged exposure to coal slurry in their water supplies.

Mr. Bunch served as trial counsel in Smith v. American Family, a case involving the use of imitation crash parts in repair estimates for consumers in the state of Missouri, which resulted in a unanimous jury verdict of approximately $30 million in March, 2007. The case paid tens of thousands of Missourians full compensation, with interest, for their losses.

Mr. Bunch also served as trial counsel in Lebrilla v. Farmers Insurance Group in Santa Ana Superior Court, which settled following a complete bench trial in 2006 resulting in readjustment of auto property damage claims for Farmers' insureds nationwide following settlement.

Mr. Bunch served as trial counsel for the investor class in In re American Continental Corporation/Lincoln Savings and Loan Securities Litigation, MDL 834. The recovery achieved for investors, after several years of highly adversarial litigation and a months-long trial, exceeded $250 million.

Mr. Bunch served as Co-Lead counsel in the MDL proceedings of In re Polaris Aircraft Income Fund, which resulted in a settlement valued at approximately $110 million.

I, Van Bunch, declare:

1. I am a shareholder of the law firm of Bonnett, Fairbourn, Friedman & Balint, P.C. ("BFFB"), Counsel for Indirect Purchaser Plaintiffs ("IPPs" or "Plaintiffs") in this action. I submit this declaration in support of IPPs' Motion for an Award of Attorneys' Fees and Reimbursement of Expenses. I make this declaration based on my personal knowledge and if called as a witness, I could and would competently testify to the matters stated herein.

2. My firm has served as counsel to Shawn Sellers and as counsel for IPPs throughout the course of this litigation. The background and experience of BFFB and its attorneys are summarized in the curriculum vitae attached hereto as Exhibit A.

3. BFFB has prosecuted this litigation solely on a contingent-fee basis, and has been at risk that it would not receive any compensation for prosecuting claims against the defendants. While BFFB devoted its time and resources to this matter, it has foregone other legal work for which it would have been compensated.

4. During the pendency of the litigation, BFFB performed work including, inter alia, contributing to the formulation of Plaintiffs' litigation strategy and case management, drafting and editing written discovery, and preparing for and defending class representative Shawn Sellers' deposition.

5. Attached hereto as Exhibit B is a billing summary of BFFB's total hours and lodestar, computed at current billing rates, from June 1, 2013 to February 28, 2017. Counsel for Plaintiffs are not seeking attorneys' fees for any time billed prior to the appointment of lead counsel. See Order dated May 17, 2013 (ECF No. 194). The total number of hours spent by BFFB during this period of time was 58.6, with a corresponding lodestar based on current rates of $25,757.50. The lodestar amount reflected in Exhibit B is for work assigned by Lead Counsel, and was performed by professional staff at my law firm. This summary was prepared from contemporaneous, daily time records regularly prepared and maintained by BFFB.

6. Attached hereto as Exhibit C is a list of the various billing rates for each attorney at my firm who has billed time in this case.

7. Attached hereto as Exhibit D is a compilation of my firm's detailed records at historical billing rates. The entries in Exhibit D have been redacted per the Court's Order in ECF No. 1803.

8. Attached hereto as Exhibit E is a summary of the expenses BFFB has incurred during the course of this litigation. BFFB expended a total of $841.40 in unreimbursed costs and expenses in connection with the prosecution of this case. These expenses were incurred on behalf of IPPs by BFFB on a contingent basis and have not been reimbursed. The expenses reflected in Exhibit E were prepared from expense vouchers, receipts, and bank records, and thus represent an accurate recordation of the expenses incurred.

9. I have reviewed the time and expenses reported by BFFB in this case which are included in this declaration, and I affirm that they are true and accurate.

I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the United States that the foregoing is true and correct.

This case also generated the first decision within the Ninth Circuit establishing federal jurisdiction under CAFA for Magnuson-Moss claims without the 100 plaintiff jurisdictional requirement. See Brothers v. Hewlett Packard, Co., Case No. 06-02254, 2007 WL 485979 (N.D. Cal. Feb. 12, 2007).

- In re: Tenet Healthcare Cases II. Jenelle Welling served on the Plaintiffs' Executive Committee in this consolidated action that obtained redress for uninsured consumers who received treatment from one of Tenet Healthcare's 42 California hospitals. The complaint alleged Tenet charged exorbitant and unconscionable prices, for example, marking up prescription drugs 1,038% on average, to increase revenues and profits. A national settlement was approved in August 2005 that provides for restitution, injunctive relief and $4 million of cy pres damages. The settlement has been hailed as a model for how the nation's uninsured population should be billed for hospital care.

- Prata v. Bank One. Ms. Welling, along with co-counsel, represented the plaintiff class in this case involving "Same as Cash" credit card financing claims. The Superior Court in Los Angeles approved a $3 million cash settlement for California consumers who participated in the "Same as Cash" financing plan. Litigation of this case resulted in a oft-cited opinion interpreting Bus. & Prof. Code § 17200, Prata v. Sup. Ct. (2001) 91 Cal. App. 4th 1128.

- Starkey v. Rusnak BMW. Ms. Welling led this class action asserting that expensive BMW wheels on new cars were secretly replaced before sale with lower value after market wheels. The action was resolved quickly to the benefit of the class, and included an agreement by the dealer to refrain from selling after market wheels on new cars.

- Prata v. GE Capital. Ms. Welling, along with co-counsel, restored another $2.5 million to Californians who were duped by the "Same as Cash" advertising slogan and program that GE bought from Bank One. GE also agreed to refrain from using the "Same as Cash" slogan to advertise financing plans that require minimum monthly payments.

COHEN MILSTEIN SELLERS & TOLL PLLC

For decades, Cohen Milstein Sellers & Toll PLLC has represented individuals, small businesses, institutional investors, and employees in many of the major class action cases litigated in the United States for violations of the antitrust, securities, consumer protection, civil rights/discrimination, ERISA, employment, and human rights laws. Cohen Milstein is also at the forefront of numerous innovative legal actions that are expanding the quality and availability of legal recourse for aggrieved individuals and businesses both domestic and international. Over its history, Cohen Milstein has obtained many landmark judgments and settlements for individuals and businesses in the United States and abroad. The firm's most significant past and present cases include:

- HEMT MBS Litigation, (No. 1:08-cv-05653, U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York). On May 10, 2016, U.S. District Judge Paul A. Crotty finally approved a $110 million settlement in the mortgage-backed securities class action brought by investors against Credit Suisse AG and its affiliates. This settlement ends claims brought by the New Jersey Carpenters Health Fund and other investors who claimed that the offering documents for the mortgage-backed securities at issue violated the Securities Act as they contained false and misleading misstatements concerning compliance with underwriting standards.

- In re Urethane Antitrust Litigation (Polyether Polyol Cases) (D. Kan.). Cohen Milstein serves as co-lead counsel on behalf of a class of direct purchasers of chemicals used to make many everyday products, from mattress foam to carpet cushion, who were overcharged as a result of a nationwide price-fixing conspiracy. On February 25, 2016, Cohen Milstein reached an agreement with The Dow Chemical Company to settle the case against Dow for $835 million. Combined with earlier settlements obtained from Bayer, Huntsman, and BASF, the Dow settlement pushed the total settlements in the case to $974 million. The settlement was approved on July 29, 2016.

- RALI MBS Litigation, (Civ. No. 08-8781, U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York). In July 2015 On July 31, 2015, Judge Katherine Failla gave final approval to a $235 million settlement with underwriters Citigroup Global Markets Inc., Goldman Sachs & Co., and UBS Securities LLC. She also approved a plan for distribution to investors of those funds as well as the previously approved $100 million settlement with RALI, its affiliates, and the individual Defendants that was reached in in 2013. This global settlement marks an end to a long and complicated class action over MBS offerings that RALI and certain of its affiliates issued and sold to the New Jersey Carpenters Health Fund and other investors from 2006 through 2007. The case took seven years of intense litigation to resolve.

- In re: Bear Stearns Mortgage Pass-Through Certificates Litigation (No. 08-08093, U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York). On May 27, 2015, U.S. District Judge Laura Taylor Swain finally approved a class action settlement with JPMorgan Chase & Co., which agreed to pay $500 million and up to an additional $5 million in litigation-related expenses to resolve claims arising from the sale of $27.2 billion of mortgage-backed securities issued by Bear Stearns & Co. during 2006 and 2007 in 22 separate public offerings.

- Harborview MBS Litigation, (No. 08-5093, U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York). In February 2014, Cohen Milstein reached a settlement with the Royal Bank of Scotland (RBS) in the Harborview MBS Litigation, resolving claims that RBS duped investors into buying securities backed by shoddy home loans. The $275 million settlement is the fifth largest class action settlement in a federal MBS case. This case is one of eight significant MBS actions that Cohen Milstein has been named lead or co-lead counsel by courts and one of three that were nearly thrown out by the court, only to be revived in 2012.
- In Re Electronic Books Antitrust Litigation, (No. 11-md-02293, U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York). In August 2014, a New York federal judge approved a $400 million antitrust settlement in the hotly contested ebooks price-fixing suit against Apple Inc. Combined with $166 million in previous settlements with five defendant publishing companies, consumers could receive more than $560 million. The settlement resolves damages claims brought by a class of ebook purchasers and attorneys general from 33 U.S. states and territories.

- Countrywide MBS Litigation, (2:10-cv-00302, U.S. District Court in the Central District of California). In April 2013, Plaintiffs in the landmark mortgage-backed securities (MBS) class action litigation against Countrywide Financial Corporation and others, led by Lead Plaintiff, the Iowa Public Employees' Retirement System (IPERS), agreed to a $500 million settlement. It is the nation's largest MBS-federal securities class action settlement. The settlement was approved in December 2013 and brings to a close the consolidated class action lawsuit brought in 2010 by multiple retirement funds against Countrywide and other defendants for securities violations involving the packaging and sale of MBS. The settlement is also one of the largest (top 20) class action securities settlements of all time.

- In re Beacon Associates Litigation (No. 09-cv-0777, United States District Court for the Southern District of New York). Class action settlement of $219 million for trustees and participants in ERISA-covered employee benefit plans whose assets were lost through investments made on their behalf by Beacon Associates LLC I & II in the investment schemes of Bernard Madoff.

- In re Plasma-Derivative Protein Therapies Antitrust Litigation (No. 09 C 7666, United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois). After four years of litigation, in October of 2013, CSL Limited, CSL Behring LLC, CSL Plasma, Inc. (collectively, "CSL"), and the Plasma Protein Therapeutics Association ("PPTA") agreed to pay $64 million dollars to settle a lawsuit brought by the University of Utah Hospital and other health care providers alleging that CSL, the PPTA, and Baxter agreed between 2003-2009 to restrict the supply of immunoglobulin and albumin, and thereby increase the prices of those therapies. Two months later, Baxter International Inc. and Baxter Healthcare Corp. (collectively "Baxter") agreed to pay an additional $64 million to settle these claims – bringing the total recovery to the class to $128 million.

- Keepseagle v. Vilsack, Civil Action No. 1:99CV03119 (D.D.C.). A class of Native American farmers and ranchers allege that they have been systematically denied the same opportunities to obtain farm loans and loan servicing that have been routinely afforded white farmers by the USDA. A class was certified in 2001 by Judge Emmet Sullivan, District Judge for the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia, and the D.C. Circuit declined USDA's request to review that decision. On October 19, 2010, the case reached a historic settlement, with the USDA agreeing to pay $680 million in damages to thousands of Native American farmers and ranchers and forgive up to $80 million worth of outstanding farm loan debt.

- In re Parmalat Securities Litigation, No. 04 MD 1653 (S.D.N.Y.). In this securities litigation case, Cohen Milstein has successfully negotiated two partial settlements totaling approximately $90 million. At the second partial settlement hearing, Judge Lewis A. Kaplan remarked that plaintiffs counsel "did a wonderful job here for the class and were in all respects totally professional and totally prepared. I wish I had counsel this good in front of me in every case." Our clients, four large European institutional investors, were appointed as co-lead plaintiffs and we were appointed as co-lead counsel. Most notably, this case allowed us the opportunity to demonstrate our expertise in the bankruptcy area. During the litigation, the company subsequently emerged from bankruptcy and we added "New Parmalat" as a defendant because of the egregious fraud committed by the now-bankrupt old Parmalat. New Parmalat strenuously objected and Judge Kaplan of the Southern District of New York ruled in the class plaintiffs' favor, a ruling which was affirmed on appeal. This innovative approach of adding New Parmalat enabled the class to obtain an important additional source of compensation, as we subsequently settled with New Parmalat.

- Dukes v. Wal-Mart Stores, Inc., No. C-01-2252 (N.D. Cal.). Cohen Milstein is co-lead counsel in this sex discrimination case. In 2004, the U.S. District Court certified a nationwide class action lawsuit for all female employees of Wal-Mart who worked in U.S. stores anytime after December 26, 1998. This was the largest civil rights class action ever certified against a private employer, including approximately 1.5 million current and former female employees. That ruling was appealed, and while affirmed by the Ninth Circuit, was reversed by the Supreme Court in June 2011. Cohen Milstein argued the case for the plaintiffs-respondents in the Supreme Court. Since then, the Dukes action has been amended to address only the Wal-Mart regions that include stores in California, and other regional class cases have been or are soon to be filed. This litigation to resolve the merits of the claims – whether Wal-Mart discriminates against its female retail employees in pay and promotions – continues.

- Rubin v. MF Global, Ltd. (08-CV-02233, S.D.N.Y.). Acting as co-lead counsel in this class action, the Firm represented the Central States, Southeast and Southwest Areas Pension Fund which was one of the co-lead plaintiffs in the case. In September 2010, as a result of Plaintiffs' decision to appeal, the U.S. Second Circuit Court of Appeals vacated in part the lower court's dismissal of the case and remanded the case for further proceedings. In overturning the District Court decision, the Second Circuit issued a decision which differentiated between a forecast or a forward looking statement accompanied by cautionary language -- which the Appellate Court said would be insulated from liability under the bespeaks caution doctrine -- from a factual statement, or non-forward-looking statement, for which liability may exist. Importantly, the Second Circuit accepted Plaintiffs' position that where a statement is mixed, the court can sever the forward-looking aspect of the statement from the non-forward looking aspect. The Court further stated that statements or omissions as to existing operations (and present intentions as to future operations) are not protected by the bespeaks caution doctrine. Mediation followed this decision and resulted in a settlement comprised of $90 million in cash.

- Hughes v. Huron Consulting Group (09-CV-04734, N.D. Ill.). Cohen Milstein represented lead plaintiffs the Public School Teachers' Pension & Retirement Fund of Chicago and the Arkansas Public Employees Retirement System ("APERS") in this case against Huron Consulting Group, founded by former Arthur Anderson personnel following its collapse in the wake of the Enron scandal. In August 2010, the District Court for the Northern District of Illinois denied defendants' motions to dismiss in their entirety and upheld plaintiffs' allegations that defendants intentionally improperly accounted for acquisition-related payments, which allowed plaintiffs to move forward with discovery. The case was settled for $40 million, comprised of $27 million in cash and 474,547 shares in Huron common stock, with an aggregate value at the time of final approval in 2011 of approximately $13 million.

- In re Lucent Technologies Securities Litigation, Civ. Action No. 00-621 (JAP) (D.N.J.). A settlement in this massive securities fraud class action was reached in late March 2003. The class portion of the settlement amounts to over $500 million in cash, stock and warrants and ranks as the second largest securities class action settlement ever completed. Cohen Milstein represented one of the co-lead plaintiffs in this action, a private mutual fund.

- Nate Pease, et al. v. Jasper Wyman & Son, Inc., et al., Civil Action No. 00-015 (Knox County Superior Court, Me.). In 2004, a state court jury from Maine found three blueberry processing companies liable for participating in a four-year price-fixing and non-solicitation conspiracy that artificially lowered the prices defendants paid to approximately 800 growers for wild blueberries. The jury ordered defendants Cherryfield Foods, Inc., Jasper Wyman & Son, Inc., and Allen's Blueberry Freezer, Inc. to pay $18.68 million in damages, the amount which the growers would have been paid absent the defendants' conspiracy. After a mandatory trebling of this damage figure under Maine antitrust law, the total amount of the verdict for the plaintiffs is just over $56 million. The Firm served as co-lead counsel.

- In re StarLink Corn Products, Liability Litigation, MDL No. 1403. (N.D. Ill.). Cohen Milstein successfully represented U.S. corn farmers in a national class action against Aventis CropScience USA Holding and Garst Seed Company, the manufacturer and primary distributor of StarLink corn seeds. StarLink is a genetically modified corn variety that the United States government permitted for sale as animal feed and for industrial purposes, but never approved for human consumption. However, StarLink was found in corn products sold in grocery stores across the country and was traced to widespread contamination of the U.S. commodity corn supply. The Firm, as co-lead counsel, achieved a final settlement providing more than $110 million for U.S. corn farmers, which was approved by a federal district court in April 2003. This settlement was the first successful resolution of tort claims brought by farmers against the manufacturers of genetically modified seeds.

- Snyder v. Nationwide Mutual Insurance Company, No. 97/0633 (Sup. Ct. N.Y. Onondaga Cty.). Cohen Milstein served as one of plaintiffs' principal counsel in this case on behalf of persons who held life insurance policies issued by Nationwide through its captive agency force. The action alleged consumer fraud and misrepresentations. Plaintiffs obtained a settlement valued at more than $85 million. The judge praised the efforts of Cohen Milstein and its co-counsel for having done "a very, very good job for all the people." He complimented "not only the manner" in which the result was arrived at, but also the "time … in which it was done."

- Oncology & Radiation Associates, P.A. v. Bristol Myers Squibb Co., et al., No. 1:01CV02313 (D.D.C.). Cohen Milstein has been co-lead counsel in this case since its inception in 2001. Plaintiffs alleged that Bristol-Myers Squibb unlawfully monopolized the United States market for paclitaxel, a cancer drug discovered and developed by the United States government, which Bristol sells under the brand name Taxol. Bristol's scheme included a conspiracy with American BioScience, Inc., a generic manufacturer, to block generic competition. Cohen Milstein's investigation and prosecution of this litigation on behalf of direct purchasers of Taxol led to a settlement of $65,815,000 that was finally approved by U.S. District Judge Emmet G. Sullivan on August 14, 2003 and preceded numerous Taxol-related litigations brought by the Federal Trade Commission and State Attorneys General offices.

- Kruman v. Christie's International PLC, et al., Docket No. 01-7309. A $40 million settlement on behalf of all persons who bought or sold items through Christie's or Sotheby's auction houses in non-internet actions was approved in this action. Cohen Milstein served as one of three leading counsel on behalf of foreign plaintiffs. The Court noted that approval of the settlement was particularly appropriate, given the significant obstacles that faced plaintiffs and plaintiffs' counsel in the litigation. The settlement marked the first time that claims on behalf of foreign plaintiffs under U.S. antitrust laws have been resolved in a U.S. court, a milestone in U.S. antitrust jurisprudence.

- Roberts v. Texaco, Inc., 94-Civ. 2015 (S.D.N.Y.). Cohen Milstein represented a class of African-American employees in this landmark litigation that resulted in the then-largest race discrimination settlement in history ($176 million in cash, salary increases and equitable relief). The Court hailed the work of class counsel for, inter alia, "framing an imaginative settlement, that may well have important ameliorative impact not only at Texaco but in the corporate context as a whole …".

- Trotter v. Perdue Farms, Inc., Case No. 99-893 (RRM) (JJF) (MPT), D. Del. This suit on behalf of hourly workers at Perdue's chicken processing facilities – which employ approximately 15,000 people – forced Perdue to pay employees for time spent "donning and doffing," that is, obtaining, putting on, sanitizing and removing protective equipment that they must use both for their own safety and to comply with USDA regulations for the safety of the food supply. The suit alleged that Perdue's practice of not counting donning and doffing time as hours worked violated the Fair Labor Standards Act and state law. In a separate settlement with the Department of Labor, Perdue agreed to change its pay practices. In addition, Perdue is required to issue retroactive credit under one of its retirement plans for "donning and doffing" work if the credit would improve employees' or former employees' eligibility for pension benefits. Cohen Milstein was co-lead counsel.

Attorney Profiles – Partners

Steven J. Toll

Steven J. Toll is Managing Partner at Cohen Milstein, a member of the Executive Committee, and Co-Chair of the firm's Securities Fraud & Investor Protection practice group. In this role, Mr. Toll guides the firm's mediation efforts and strategy, and has been lead or principal counsel on some of the most high-profile stock fraud lawsuits in the past 30 years, arguing important matters before the highest courts in the land.

Mr. Toll has built a distinguished career and reputation as a fierce advocate of the rights of shareholders and has guided mediation efforts on the firm's largest and most important matters (both securities fraud and other consumer type cases), a role in which he has earned the trust of mediators, as well as the respect of defense counsel. Mr. Toll has been involved in settling some of the most important mortgage-backed securities (MBS) class-action lawsuits in the aftermath of the financial crisis, including: Countrywide Financial Corp., which settled for $500 million in 2013; Residential Accredited Loans Inc. (RALI), which settled for $335 million in 2014; and the Harborview MBS suit, which settled for $275 million. He also negotiated a $90 million settlement of a suit against MF Global.

Among Mr. Toll's current matters is the Harman class action suit, where Mr. Toll argued and won an important ruling from the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit. The Circuit Court reinstated the suit against electronics maker Harman International Industries; the ruling is significant in that it places limits on the protection allowed by the safe harbor rule for forward-looking statements.

Currently, Mr. Toll is also co-lead counsel in the BP Securities class action securities fraud lawsuit that arose from the devastating Deepwater oil spill in the Gulf of Mexico. The Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals recently affirmed the certification of the class of investors alleged to have been injured by BP's misrepresenting the amount of oil spilling into the Gulf of Mexico, and thus minimizing the extent of the cost and financial impact to BP of the clean up and resulting damages.

Mr. Toll is co-lead counsel in the consumer class action suit against Lumber Liquidators, a lawsuit that alleges the nationwide retailer sold Chinese-made laminate flooring containing hazardous levels of the carcinogen formaldehyde while falsely labeling their products as meeting or exceeding California emissions standards, a story that was profiled twice on 60 Minutes in 2015.

Mr. Toll is also leading Cohen Milstein's efforts in a $400 million derivative shareholder suit brought against the directors and officers of Bank Leumi, an Israeli bank, asserting that bank officers violated their fiduciary duties in conspiring to aid American taxpayers in hiding income from the IRS.

Mr. Toll has provided a great deal of pro bono legal work during a career at Cohen Milstein that spans more than three decades. In addition, he has been an active supporter of Children's Hospital National Medical Center for decades, setting up an endowment in his daughter's name to help the Hospital's leukemia patients and their families (his daughter passed away from leukemia in 1987), plus more recently establishing regular programs for music and laughter for the children during their hospital stays. He and his family also founded Lolly's Locks, a nonprofit organization that provides high-quality wigs to women cancer patients suffering from hair loss as a side effect of chemotherapy. Lolly's Locks was established in memory of Mr. Toll's late wife, Lolly, who passed away in 2012, after a 15-month battle with cancer.

Mr. Toll is a graduate of the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania, earning a B.S. cum laude, and received his J.D. from Georgetown University Law Center, where he was Special Project Editor of The Tax Lawyer. His name has appeared regularly on Law360's annual lists of MVP's, Leading Attorneys, and Most Admired Attorneys.

Joseph M. Sellers

Joseph M. Sellers is a Partner at Cohen Milstein, Chair of the firm's Executive Committee and Chair of the Civil Rights & Employment Practice Group, a practice he founded. In a career spanning nearly four decades, Mr. Sellers has represented victims of discrimination and other illegal employment practices individually and through class actions. He brings to his practice a deep commitment and broad background in fighting discrimination in all its forms. That experience includes decades of representing clients in litigation to enforce their civil rights, participating in drafting and efforts to pass landmark civil rights legislation, testifying before Congress on various civil rights issues, training government lawyers on the trial of civil rights cases, teaching civil rights law at various law schools and lecturing extensively on civil rights and employment matters.

Mr. Sellers, who joined the firm in 1997, has been practicing civil rights law for more than 35 years, during which time he has represented individuals and classes of people who have been victims of civil rights violations or denied other rights in the workplace. He has tried to judgment before courts and juries several civil rights class actions and a number of individual cases and has argued more than 30 appeals in the federal and state appellate courts, including the United States Supreme Court. He has served as class counsel, and typically lead counsel, in more than 75 civil rights and employment class actions.

His clients have included persons denied the rights and opportunities of employment because of race, national origin, religion, age, disability and sex, including sexual orientation and identity. He has represented victims of race discrimination in the denial of equal access to credit, in the rates charged for insurance and in the equal access to health clubs, retail stores, restaurants and other public places. He has challenged housing discrimination on the basis of race and the denial of housing and public accommodations to people with disabilities.

Some of the noteworthy matters he has handled include: Walmart v. Dukes (U.S. S.Ct.), delivered argument on behalf of class of women who alleged sex discrimination in pay and promotions in case establishing new rules governing class certification; *Randolph v. be driven; and Trotter, et al. v. Perdue Farms (D. Del.), lead counsel on behalf of chicken processing workers alleging violations of federal wage and hour and employee benefits law.

Prior to joining Cohen Milstein, Mr. Sellers served for over 15 years as the Director of the Employment Discrimination Project of the Washington Lawyers' Committee for Civil Rights and Urban Affairs, an organization providing pro bono representation in a broad range of civil rights and related poverty issues. He was a member of the transition teams of Obama/Biden in 2008 and Clinton/Gore in 1992 and 1993, and served as a Co-Chair of the Special Committee on Race and Ethnicity of the D.C. Circuit Task Force on Gender, Race and Ethnic Bias to which he was appointed by the judges of the D.C. Circuit Court of Appeals and the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia.

Throughout his career, Mr. Sellers has also been active in legislative matters. He helped to draft and worked for the passage of the Civil Rights Act of 1991, the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 and the Lily Ledbetter Fair Pay Restoration Act of 2009. He is a professionally trained mediator and has served as the President of the Washington Council of Lawyers.

Mr. Sellers received his B.A. in American History and Literature from Brown University, and earned his J.D. from Case Western Reserve School of Law, where he served as Research Editor of the Case Western Reserve Law Review.

Andrew N. Friedman

Andrew N. Friedman is a Partner at Cohen Milstein, and is Co-Chair of the firm's Consumer Protection practice group. Practicing in the class action field since 1985, Mr. Friedman specializes in litigating complex, multi-state class action lawsuits against manufacturers and consumer service providers such as banks, insurers, credit card companies and others. He is widely recognized as a leader in enforcing consumer rights and known as a hands-on lawyer who is ready to take litigation all the way through trial.

Over the years, Mr. Friedman has been lead or co-lead counsel in numerous important cases, bringing relief to millions of consumers and recovering hundreds of millions of dollars in class actions. He was one of the principal counsel in cases against Nationwide and Country Life, which asserted sales marketing abuses in the marketing of so-called "vanishing premium policies," where insurance agents sold insurance policies to unsuspecting consumers promising that after a relatively short time the dividends generated from the policy would be so high as to be able to fully pay the premiums. In fact, the calculations of the policies were based on unrealistic interest rate projections and, therefore, the premiums never "vanished." The Nationwide case resulted in a settlement valued at between $85 million and $103 million, while a settlement with Country Life made $44 million in benefits available to policyholders.

Mr. Friedman was co-lead counsel in Keithly v. Intelius, Inc. (W.D. Wash.), where he negotiated two nationwide settlements with Intelius, Inc., relating to negative option programs and improper post-transaction marketing. The combined settlements made $12 million in cash and a total of $3.5 million in vouchers available to the Class.

Mr. Friedman has also litigated important consumer product lawsuits, including one against Thomson Consumer Electronics, which resulted in a settlement that made up to $100 million available for persons who paid for unreimbursed repairs to defective televisions. In addition, Mr. Friedman was one of the principal counsel in the Dex-Cool Litigation, a nationwide lawsuit alleging that General Motors sold millions of cars with defective coolant that gummed up and caused corrosion to engines. GM settled ahead of trial, offering relief of cash payments of up to $800 per repair.

More recently, Mr. Friedman litigated a lawsuit against Symantec, Corp., and Digital River, Inc., a four-year long nationwide class action battle regarding the marketing of a re-download service in conjunction with the sale of Norton software. The case settled in a $60 million all-cash deal one month before the case was about to go to trial – one of the most significant consumer settlements in years.

Prior to his current role as Co-Chair and member of the Consumer Protection group, Mr. Friedman was a member of the Securities Litigation & Investor Protection practice, litigating many important matters, including the Globalstar Securities Litigation in which he served as one of the lead trial counsel. The case settled for $20 million during the second week of the trial. In addition, Mr. Friedman served as one of co-lead or principal counsel in Norman Frank et al. v. David L. Paul (a recovery of over $18 million); In re Jiffy Lube Securities Litigation (D. Md.) (a recovery of over $12 million); and In re Immunex Securities Litigation (W.D. Wash.) (a recovery of $14 million).

Currently, Mr. Friedman is litigating such notable matters as:

- Anthem Data Breach Litigation: Mr. Friedman is co-lead counsel in a high-profile class action lawsuit against Anthem Inc. over its massive data breach that compromised the personal identification (including social security numbers, date of birth, medical ID number, etc.) and health information of 80 million insured customers. The lawsuit alleges Anthem, the second-largest insurance company in the nation, failed to ensure its data systems were protected, failed to prevent and stop the breach from happening and failed to disclose to its customers material facts regarding the breach. Mr. Friedman is involved in all aspects of the litigation.

- Sallie Mae Litigation: Cohen Milstein is co-lead counsel in a series of cases alleging that Sallie Mae charged usurious interest rates and improper late fees to California students. Mr. Friedman is overseeing all aspects of the litigation.

- Home Depot Data Breach Litigation: Mr. Friedman is a member of the Plaintiffs' Steering Committee representing financial institutions and heads the expert committee in a class action lawsuit arising out of the Home Depot data breach, a cyber attack that affected hundreds of financial institutions and more than 40 million consumers.

Mr. Friedman is a noted speaker who has appeared on numerous panels for legal education seminars and institutional investor conferences on the issues of consumer and securities class actions. In 2011, LawDragon named him one of the Leading Plaintiffs' Lawyers. His work has been cited in the media and he was profiled in the April 14, 2000, Washington Business Journal.

Prior to joining Cohen Milstein, Mr. Friedman served as an attorney with the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office.

Mr. Friedman attended Tufts University, graduating magna cum laude and was elected Phi Beta Kappa, with a B.A. in Psychology. He earned his J.D. from the National Law Center, George Washington University.

Daniel S. Sommers

Daniel S. Sommers is a Partner at Cohen Milstein, a member of the firm's Executive Committee and Co-Chair of the Securities Litigation & Investor Protection practice group. During his nearly three decade career at Cohen Milstein, Mr. Sommers has taken leadership roles in litigating large, complex and significant securities cases. He provides litigation counsel to the firm's institutional investor clients, including for example, the New York State Common Retirement Fund, the Ohio Public Employees Retirement System, the State Teachers Retirement System of Ohio, the Arkansas Public Employees Retirement System and numerous Taft-Hartley pension funds. Many of his cases have resulted in important rulings and legal precedents, as well as in significant recoveries for investors totaling hundreds of millions of dollars. Some of his notable matters include:

Daniel A. Small

Daniel A. Small has been a Partner at Cohen Milstein for more than 20 years and chaired or co-chaired the firm's Antitrust practice group from 2008 to 2014. He is a member of the firm's Executive Committee.

When he arrived at Cohen Milstein 26 years ago, Mr. Small was assigned to work on securities fraud cases. One year later, he received an assignment in an antitrust case and has worked virtually full time on antitrust cases ever since. He has represented plaintiff classes as lead or co-lead counsel numerous times and has tried cases before juries and has argued cases in several appellate courts, including the United States Supreme Court. He also has defended unions against antitrust claims and represented a key duplication machine manufacturer on its monopolization claims against the dominant competitor.

Mr. Small has obtained favorable settlements and judgments totaling hundreds of millions of dollars and has been involved with a broad array of markets, everything from computer software and hardware to wild blueberries and hospital nurses. He has developed a sophisticated understanding of how conspiracies and monopolies operate in a range of complex markets. He has spent years studying the economic issues that underpin his cases, and the challenges of using antitrust litigation to achieve just compensation for victims, and to encourage and facilitate freer and more open markets in this country.

His work in complex civil litigation has made him one of the most respected and feared litigants in the class action antitrust space: The Legal 500 has recognized Mr. Small and Cohen Milstein as a "Leading Plaintiffs Antitrust Class Action Lawyer/Firm" annually since 2009; Benchmark Plaintiff has repeatedly awarded him "National Litigation Star – Antitrust"; and in 2014, he was named a "Leading Competition Lawyer" by the International Who's Who of Competition Lawyers & Economists.

Currently, Mr. Small is litigating the following notable matters, among others:

- VFX/Animation Workers Litigation: Cohen Milstein is one of three court-appointed co-lead firms in litigation alleging that the major animation studios conspired to suppress the pay of special effects and animation workers. The litigation has survived a motion to dismiss and the plaintiffs recently filed a motion for class certification.
- Prime Healthcare Services Litigation: Cohen Milstein is defending the Service Employees International Union (SEIU) in an antitrust conspiracy action brought by Prime Healthcare Services, a hospital chain in Southern California, alleging that SEIU conspired with Kaiser Permanente to drive Prime and certain other hospitals out of the market. Cohen Milstein led the successful effort to have the complaint and amended complaint dismissed in the Southern District of California. The case is on appeal in the Ninth Circuit where Mr. Small recently argued on behalf of the SEIU and its local union, UHW.
- Google Wi-Fi Litigation: Cohen Milstein is co-lead counsel in a nationwide class action lawsuit alleging Google violated the Wiretap Act when its Street View vehicles collected payload data from unencrypted Wi-Fi networks, including the home networks of individuals. The litigation survived a motion to dismiss, which was affirmed on an interlocutory appeal to the Ninth Circuit. Currently, the firm is in the midst of jurisdictional discovery.
- Michigan Blue Cross Litigation: Cohen Milstein is co-lead counsel in this class action challenging Michigan Blue Cross's use of most favored nation provisions in its provider agreements with hospitals in Michigan. The class plaintiffs secured a $30 million settlement, which was approved by the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan. Mr. Small defended the settlement on appeal, arguing recently before the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals.

Past successes include:

- In re Buspirone Antitrust Litigation: $90 million settlement. Cohen Milstein served as co-lead counsel in a class action lawsuit alleging that Bristol Myers-Squibb Co., the manufacturer of the prescription drug Buspar, conspired to keep generic versions of the drug out of the market.
- Pease v. Jasper Wyman & Son, et al.: $56 million judgment. Cohen Milstein was lead counsel representing a class of wild blueberry growers in Maine who sued four blueberry processors for conspiring to depress blueberry prices. The litigation was tried before a jury in Maine state court, where Mr. Small was co-lead trial counsel. The jury found the processors liable for 100% of the damages estimated by the plaintiffs' expert and awarded the growers $18.68 million in damages, which was trebled under Maine antitrust law.

Christine E. Webber

Christine E. Webber is a Partner at Cohen Milstein, and a member of the Civil Rights & Employment practice group. In that role, Ms. Webber represents victims of discrimination and other illegal employment practices in class and collective actions. She has participated during her career in litigating groundbreaking sex discrimination lawsuits. Ms. Webber is a hands-on litigator, known for her ability to work closely with economic and statistical expert witnesses and to identify the types of sophisticated statistical analyses that will be most helpful to her clients' claims.

Ms. Webber is a tenacious and resourceful litigator with a fierce commitment to fighting discrimination and protecting workers. In the face of adversity she continues to find new ways to protect her clients' rights. Following the Supreme Court's ruling decertifying the class in Dukes v. Wal-Mart—a case brought on behalf of a nationwide class of women suing Wal-Mart for sex discrimination in pay and promotion—Ms. Webber has been counsel in several regional class cases pursuing these claims for former Dukes class members. Ms. Webber was co-lead counsel in*Rindfleisch v. Gentiva Health Services* (N.D. Ga.) in which nurses and other home health care providers were held to be non-exempt because they were not paid on a bona fide salaried or fee basis. Following this successful summary judgment ruling, the case was decertified, and Ms. Webber continues to represent individuals seeking their unpaid overtime. In Tomkins v. Amedisys, Inc., a lawsuit challenging similar practices as the Gentiva litigation, Ms. Webber represented approximately 2,000 nurses, physical therapists and occupational therapists pursuing wage and hour claims against Amedisys; the case settled recently for $8 million.

Ms. Webber's past successes include In re Tyson Foods FLSA MDL (M.D. Ga.), a collective action involving Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) claims at over 40 Tyson chicken processing plants, which ultimately resolved the claims of 17,000 chicken processing workers who had been denied compensation for donning and doffing required safety and sanitary equipment. In Hnot v. Willis Group Insurance (S.D.N.Y.), Ms. Webber represented a class of women vice presidents in Willis' Northeast region, who complained of discrimination with respect to their salary and bonuses. This "glass ceiling" case settled in 2007 for $8.5 million plus attorneys' fees, an average payment of $50,000 per woman. A subsequent case, Cronas v. Willis Group, pursued similar claims for a later time period with similar success. Ms. Webber was also counsel to the plaintiff class in Keepseagle v. Vilsack, a historic settlement between Native American farmers and the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA). The Keepseagle settlement agreement required the USDA to pay $680 million in damages to thousands of Native Americans, to forgive up to $80 million in outstanding farm loan debt and to improve the farm loan services the USDA provides to Native Americans. Ms. Webber was part of the team recognized by Public Justice as finalists for their Trial Lawyer of the Year award in 2011 for the work done in Keepseagle.

Prior to joining Cohen Milstein in 1997, Ms. Webber received a Women's Law and Public Policy fellowship which funded the first of her four years at the Washington Lawyers' Committee for Civil Rights and Urban Affairs in their Equal Employment Opportunity Project. There, she worked on employment discrimination cases, focusing in particular on the sexual harassment class action Neal v. Director, D.C. Department of Corrections, et al. Ms. Webber participated in the trial of this groundbreaking sexual harassment class action in 1995. Ms. Webber also tried the race discrimination case Cooper v. Paychex (E.D. Va.), and successfully defended the plaintiffs' verdict before the Fourth Circuit.

Ms. Webber is co-chair of the National Employment Lawyers' Association's Class Action Committee, a position she has held since 1999. She speaks and writes frequently on employment discrimination, wage and hour issues, and class actions.

Ms. Webber attended Harvard University, graduating magna cum laude, with an A.B. in Government, and earned her J.D., magna cum laude, Order of the Coif, at the University of Michigan Law School. Following law school, she clerked for the Honorable Hubert L. Will, United States District Judge for the Northern District of Illinois.

Richard A. Koffman

Richard A. Koffman is a Partner at Cohen Milstein and Co-Chair of the Antitrust practice group. He litigates antitrust cases on behalf of the victims of corporations engaged in price-fixing, market monopolization, and other unlawful conduct. Mr. Koffman joined Cohen Milstein after serving as Senior Trial Attorney in the U.S. Department of Justice's Antitrust and Civil Rights Divisions. He views his role in litigating antitrust suits as an extension of the public interest work he pursued at the DOJ in promoting competition and fighting discrimination.

Mr. Koffman has served as lead or co-lead counsel in many landmark antitrust class actions, including:

- Urethanes (Polyether Polyols) Antitrust Litigation: Co-lead counsel for plaintiffs in an antitrust class action alleging a conspiracy to fix the prices of chemicals used to make polyurethane foam. Four defendants settled pre-trial for a total of $139 million. After a four-week trial, the jury returned a $400 million verdict for plaintiffs against the final defendant, The Dow Chemical Co., which the district court trebled to more than $1 billion. Dow ultimately settled for $835 million while the case was on appeal, bringing the total recovery to $974 million – nearly 250% of the damages found by the jury.
- Plasma-Derivative Protein Therapies Antitrust Litigation: Co-lead counsel for plaintiffs alleging a conspiracy to reduce the supply and increase prices of IVIG and Albumin – life-saving therapies derived from blood plasma. Mr. Koffman and his team obtained settlements totaling $128 million to compensate customers who were overcharged for these vital therapies.
- Polyester Staple Antitrust Litigation: Co-lead counsel for plaintiffs alleging a conspiracy to fix prices for polyester staple fiber; the case settled for $46 million.

Current cases include:

- Dental Supplies Antitrust Litigation: Cohen Milstein was recently appointed interim co-lead counsel for a proposed class of dental practices and dental laboratories. The case alleges that Defendants Henry Schein, Inc., Patterson Companies, Inc., and Benco Dental Supply Company – the three largest dental supply and dental equipment distributors in the United States – fixed price margins on dental equipment, jointly pressured manufacturers to squeeze out competitors, and agreed not to "poach" each other's employees, in violation of federal antitrust law. As a result of the alleged conspiracy, dental practices and dental laboratories may have paid artificially inflated prices for many kinds of dental supplies and dental equipment, from consumables like gauze and cement to big-ticket equipment like chairs and x-rays.

- Sports Broadcasting Antitrust Litigation: Counsel for plaintiffs in class actions alleging that the system of geographical broadcasting territories employed by Major League Baseball and the National Hockey League amount to unlawful market allocation under Section 1 of the Sherman Act.
- Mixed Martial Arts (MMA) Antitrust Litigation: Co-lead counsel in a class action on behalf of elite MMA fighters alleging that Zuffa LLC – commonly known as the Ultimate Fighting Championship – has unlawfully monopolized the markets for promoting live professional MMA bouts and for purchasing the services of elite professional MMA fighters. The district court denied defendant's motion to dismiss the case in September 2015.
- People of the State of California v. American Express: Counsel for the City of San Francisco in litigation alleging that American Express, by prohibiting its participating merchants from encouraging consumers' use of less costly payment methods (including debit cards and cash), is responsible for unlawful overcharges borne by retailers and, indirectly, all California consumers.

The Legal 500 has recognized Mr. Koffman as a Leading Lawyer for "Litigation - Mass Tort and Class Action: Plaintiff Representation - Antitrust" for five years in a row, describing him as a "strong brief writer and an excellent oral advocate." In addition, she currently represents victims of a human trafficking ring that allegedly lured men from Nepal with the promise of employment at luxury hotels, but instead took them against their will to work for U.S. military contractors in Iraq. Ms. Fryszman investigated and initiated suit against military contractor KBR, filing one of the first complaints under the Trafficking Victims Protection Act. She has also represented men and women who were trafficked by diplomats, in the fishing industry, and to work cleaning houses in Northern Virginia. In one recent case, after Ms. Fryszman obtained a full recovery for her client in a civil suit, the Department of Justice brought criminal charges, resulting in guilty pleas by the perpetrators. Her work on behalf of the former "comfort women," women and girls trafficked into sexual slavery by the government of Japan during World War II, was recognized with the "Fierce Sister" award from the National Asian Pacific American Women's Forum.

Ms. Fryszman represented, pro bono, victims of the September 11 attack on the Pentagon and obtained one of the highest awards for an injured survivor from the Victim's Compensation Fund. The defendant entered into a settlement, which is confidential.
- Chipps v. Humana: Mr. Leopold tried one of the first managed care cases in the country. She also litigates other types of complex litigation matters and class action cases in state and federal courts nationwide.

Ms. Gilden began her career at the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), in the Enforcement Division, spending five years investigating and litigating cases involving securities fraud. Prior to joining Cohen Milstein in 2007, Ms. Gilden served as the head of the securities class action practice at a prominent mid-sized Chicago law firm and the vice chair of its class action department. Ms. Gilden's guiding principle is that those who commit fraud on the financial markets should be held accountable. She is a strong advocate for investors and pension funds who have been defrauded by deceptive practices that permeate the financial markets. Her special focus is on complex litigation calling for strategic thinking, tenacity and the ability to persevere through the many stages of litigation. Over the course of her 30-year career in the profession, she has successfully litigated and worked on cases that have resulted in aggregate recoveries in excess of several billion dollars for investors.

Ms. Gilden is an accomplished litigator, with extensive experience handling all phases in a case, including investigative, motion practice (lead plaintiff motions, motions to dismiss, class certification and summary judgment), discovery (fact and expert), oral argument, appeal, and settlement negotiations. She has been lead and co-lead counsel in many notable matters, including the MF Global litigation ($90 million settlement), a precedent–setting case in which the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit sided with the plaintiffs and held that companies cannot make false or misleading statements in their offering documents, and then hide behind risk disclosures related to those facts in their attempt to escape liability. The National Law Journal singled out Ms. Gilden's work on the case in connection with its selection of Cohen Milstein as a Hot Plaintiffs' Firm for that year.

Another notable case in which Ms. Gilden served as lead counsel, the IntraLinks Litigation, was one of the first securities class actions to be certified following the Supreme Court's decision in Halliburton II. That case was successfully resolved for $14 million. Other recent cases that she has led and which have been successfully resolved, include the Huron Securities Litigation ($40 million settlement, the ITT Securities Litigation ($16.96 million settlement) and In re RehabCare Group, Inc. Shareholders Litigation, where Ms. Gilden was co-lead counsel and settled the case for a cash payment to shareholders and significant deal reforms including enhanced disclosures and an amended merger agreement.

Ms. Gilden has been on the Executive Committee of other high-profile cases, including the Global Crossing Securities Litigation (settlements of $448 million) and the Merrill Lynch Analyst cases ($125 million settlement), as well as on the litigation team of the Waste Management Litigation ($220 million settlement). Under her leadership, her former firm was an active member of the litigation teams in the AOL Time Warner Securities litigation ($2.5 billion settlement), CMS Securities Litigation ($200 million settlement) and the Salomon Analyst Litigation/In re AT&T ($75 million settlement). Further, Ms. Gilden was lead counsel in an opt-out securities litigation action in connection with the McKesson/HBOC merger, Pacha, et al. v. McKesson Corporation, et al., which settled for a substantial, confidential sum.

Ms. Gilden has earned the trust of her clients who know she will go to the mat for them, from start to finish in their cases. She draws respect from colleagues as well as adversaries who perennially have placed her in the highest ranks of the profession, including being named an Illinois Super Lawyer repeatedly over the last 10 years, "Pension Fund Attorney of the Year, Illinois" by the Global Corporate International Magazine in 2014 and 2015 and being recognized for Excellence in Law by the Worldwide Registry. She has been featured on the cover of the Chicago Lawyer in connection with a feature article on securities class actions. She is a much sought-after speaker at legal and pension fund conferences and has been frequently quoted in the national media on market scandals, recent developments and trends in securities law and high profile securities fraud cases.

Ms. Gilden is currently representing the Chicago Public School Teachers' Pension Fund, along with other institutions, in a high profile lawsuit charging 12 Wall Street banks with conspiring to engineer and maintain a collusive and anti-competitive stranglehold over the market for interest rate swaps in violation of the antitrust laws—an action that harms investors in one of the world's biggest financial markets. She also is representing the Cleveland Bakers and Teamsters Pension and Health and Welfare Funds and other institutions in another, high profile antitrust action alleging that two dozen financial institutions with an inside role at the auction for United States Treasuries conspired to manipulate yields and prices to their own benefit.

In addition, Ms. Gilden serves as co-lead counsel in City of Chicago v. Hotels.com, et al, a high-profile and much-watched lawsuit in Cook County Circuit Court, alleging that online travel companies, Expedia, Hotels.com, Orbitz, Priceline and Travelocity failed to properly remit hotel taxes to the City of Chicago for hotel bookings. Ms. Gilden has argued and won numerous motions at the trial level on behalf of the City of Chicago, including the parties' cross motions for summary judgment, which involved six days of argument on liability and another half day of argument on damages. Settlements have been obtained from three of the four defendant groups. A judgment has been entered in the case on behalf of the City of Chicago for approximately $29 million against the remaining defendant group, Expedia. The case is currently on appeal.

Ms. Gilden served as the first (and to this day, only) woman President of the National Association of Shareholder and Consumer Attorneys, the preeminent trade association for securities class action attorneys, as well as the organization's first woman Treasurer. As President of NASCAT, Ms. Gilden made repeated visits to Capitol Hill advocating for strong investor protection. . She also engaged in outreach to the institutional investor community on needed reforms to reverse the erosion of investor rights. Under Ms. Gilden's leadership, NASCAT also filed amicus briefs in connection with major securities cases before the Supreme Court and other courts. Prior to becoming President, she served as the President-Elect. She continues to serve on NASCAT's Executive Committee.

Ms. Gilden was selected to serve on the Corporate Governance and Markets Advisory Councils to the Board of Directors for the Council for Institutional Investors (CII) during 2013-2015. CII is a nonprofit association of pension and other employee benefits funds, endowments and foundations and a voice for effective corporate governance and strong shareholder rights.

Ms. Gilden regularly lectures at legal conferences around the country on securities litigation and class action law, and is a frequent speaker at institutional investor conferences and symposiums regarding securities law developments, shareholder rights and regulatory reform. She has authored and co-authored numerous scholarly articles and course materials on securities fraud cases, class actions, derivative litigation and related topics.

Ms. Gilden attended the University of Illinois, earning a B.S. in Business Administration, and received her J.D. from Chicago-Kent College of Law, where she graduated with honors and was a member of the Chicago-Kent Law Review.

Kit A. Pierson

Kit A. Pierson is a Partner at Cohen Milstein and Co-chair of the firm's Antitrust Practice Group, as well as Co-Chair of the Pro Bono Committee. Under his leadership, the Legal 500 has recognized Cohen Milstein as a Leading Plaintiff Class Action Firm for seven years in a row and Law360 selected the Antitrust Practice Group as a Competition Law Practice Group of the Year in 2013 and 2014.

Mr. Pierson has served as lead or co-lead counsel in many antitrust cases on behalf of the victims of corporations engaged in price-fixing, market monopolization and other unlawful conduct. Prior to joining Cohen Milstein in 2009, Mr. Pierson spent more than 20 years primarily representing defendants in a broad range of complex matters. Some of the companies he represented included Microsoft Corp., 3M Corp. and other major corporations, national associations and individuals in class actions and other antitrust litigation. As a result of his experience as a defense lawyer, Mr. Pierson possesses deep insight into defense strategies, understands the dynamics of the other side and is someone who has earned the respect and credibility of opposing counsel.

Mr. Pierson is a hands-on litigator who has litigated and tried antitrust lawsuits and other complex civil cases in many jurisdictions, helping to win settlements and judgments cumulatively totaling more than $1.5 billion in the past several years. Currently, he is lead or co-lead counsel in many antitrust cases at the firm. Some of his current cases include:

- Domestic Drywall Litigation: Cohen Milstein is co-lead counsel in an antitrust litigation alleging that the seven major U.S. manufacturers of drywall conspired to manipulate prices. Mr. Pierson is running the case for Cohen Milstein and in 2015 took the lead for the direct purchaser plaintiffs in arguing against the defendants' summary judgment motions (which were denied by the Court for four of the five defendants). Settlements for $45 million were also reached with two other defendants. The case is ongoing.

- Ductile Iron Pipe Fittings Litigation: Cohen Milstein, as co-lead counsel, represents a putative class of direct purchaser plaintiffs in a price-fixing case against the three largest manufacturers of ductile iron pipe fittings—McWane Inc., Sigma Corporation and Star Pipe Products—and a monopolization case against McWane for excluding significant competition in the domestic ductile iron pipe fittings market. Settlements of $9 million have been reached with two of the defendants, Sigma and Star. Currently, Mr. Pierson is directing the team of attorneys that is now taking and completing fact depositions. The litigation is ongoing.
- Cast Iron Soil Pipe & Fittings Litigation: Cohen Milstein, as co-lead counsel, represents a putative class of direct purchaser plaintiffs against the two largest soil pipe and fittings manufacturers in the country (McWane Inc. and Charlotte Pipe & Foundry) and the trade association they control (Cast Iron Soil Pipe Institute) in a lawsuit alleging that the defendants engaged in a nationwide price-fixing conspiracy and other anticompetitive actions. Mr. Pierson is directing the litigation team, which is currently concluding fact discovery. The litigation is ongoing.

Mr. Pierson's successes include:

- Urethanes (Polyether Polyols) Antitrust Litigation: Cohen Milstein is co-lead counsel for direct purchaser plaintiffs in an antitrust class action alleging a nationwide conspiracy to fix the prices of chemicals used to make polyurethane foam. Four defendants—Bayer, BASF, Huntsman and Lyondell—settled for a total of $139.5 million, while the case against the fifth manufacturer, Dow Chemical, went to trial. After a four-week jury trial, in which Mr. Pierson was one of the trial lawyers for the class, the jury returned a $400 million verdict for the plaintiffs, which is trebled under federal antitrust law to more than $1 billion, the largest verdict in the country in 2013, as reported by the National Law Journal. The U.S. Court of Appeals for the Tenth Circuit affirmed the judgment, and the case against Dow Chemical was settled for $835 while the matter was pending before the United States Supreme Court (resulting in a total recovery of $974.5 million in the case).
- Community Health Care System Litigation: Cohen Milstein is co-counsel representing an emergency room doctor and nurse in a whistleblower lawsuit alleging Community Health Care System defrauded the federal government in connection with health care bills. Cohen Milstein was co-counsel representing an emergency room doctor and nurse who brought claims against CHC under the False Claims Act. Mr. Pierson led Cohen Milstein's team in the case, which was brought under the False Claims Act. The case was resolved for $94 million.
- Electronic Books Antitrust Litigation: Cohen Milstein is co-lead counsel in a class action lawsuit alleging that Apple and five of the leading U.S. publishers conspired to raise the retail prices of e-books. Mr. Pierson led the Cohen Milstein team, which secured class certification, defeated motions to exclude the class expert, and successfully moved for exclusion of most of Apple's expert testimony. The five publishing defendants settled for $166 million and a settlement was reached with Apple shortly before trial for an additional $450 million.
- Guantanamo Litigation: Mr. Pierson represented Alla Ali Bin Ali Ahmed, a young man who had been arrested with many others while residing in a house in Pakistan and was then incarcerated in Guantanamo without a judicial hearing for more than seven years. After filing a habeas corpus petition, Mr. Pierson represented Mr. Ahmed at a multi-day evidentiary hearing before a United States District Court judge. At the conclusion of the hearing, the District Court ruled that the evidentiary record did not support Mr. Ahmed's detention and ordered that he be released from Guantanamo and returned to his home country.

Mr. Pierson was named one of the 500 leading lawyers in the United States in 2013 and 2014 by LawDragon 500 and was one of six lawyers selected by Law360 in 2014 as an MVP in the field of competition law. A champion for civil rights, he is a member of the Board of Trustees for the Lawyers' Committee for Civil Rights Under the Law, a national organization, and a Member of the ACLU of Maryland's Committee on Litigation and Legal Priorities.Mr. Pierson attended Macalester College, earning a B.A., magna cum laude, in Economics and Political Science, and graduated from the University of Michigan Law School, magna cum laude, where he was a Note Editor of the Michigan Law Review and a member of the Order of the Coif. Following law school, he served as a Law Clerk for the Honorable Harry T. Edwards, United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit, from 1983-1984 and as a law clerk for the Honorable Chief Judge John Feikens, United States District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan, from 1984-1985.

J. Douglas Richards

J. Douglas Richards is a Partner in the Antitrust practice group, having joined the firm in 2009. Mr. Richards has had a long, extensive and eclectic career, litigating on behalf of defendants for 16 years, serving as a government regulator at the Commodity Futures Trading Commission ("CFTC") and representing plaintiffs for the past 16 years. As a result, he brings a global understanding of antitrust litigation.

Mr. Richards' extensive experience litigating both Commodity Exchange Act and Sherman Act claims and his expertise in the antitrust class action field is widely recognized. He was named one of twenty-two antitrust "Litigation Stars" nationally, as one of the world's leading competition lawyers by The International Who's Who of Competition Lawyers and Economists (2014), and has received the highest available peer ranking for many years from Martindale-Hubbell. Mr. Richards has been appointed co-lead counsel in numerous large antitrust class actions in the Southern District of New York (SDNY) and nationally. Mr. Richards has argued dozens of appeals, among them a number of antitrust matters that have helped shape the landscape of antitrust law, including Bell Atlantic v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544 (2007) before both the Second Circuit and the United States Supreme Court, and Second Circuit cases like In re Tamoxifen Citrate Antitrust Litig., 429 F.3d 370 (2d Cir. 2005), cert. denied, 127 S.Ct. 3001 (2007), and Kruman v. Christie's Int'l PLC, 284 F.3d 384 (2d Cir. 2002).

Mr. Richards possesses extensive experience in the Commodity Exchange Act field, having served as Deputy General Counsel of the Commodity Futures Trading Commission ("CFTC") from 1997 to 2000. During that time, Mr. Richards assumed responsibility for all litigation by and against the CFTC (including personally arguing numerous appeals on behalf of the CFTC), and for two of those years simultaneously managed the CFTC's adjudicatory functions. In 1999, the Commission awarded Mr. Richards a Special Service Award for performing those two roles at the same time and successfully eliminating a long-standing backlog of Commission adjudicatory matters.

Mr. Richards is a leading lawyer nationwide in pharmaceutical antitrust litigation, a specialization that requires a deep understanding of the drug industry, patent law, FDA regulation and trade regulation. Starting in 2000 with the Cipro litigation, Mr. Richards was co-lead counsel on several antitrust lawsuits challenging the pharmaceutical industry's practice known as pay-for-delay, or reverse payments. Many of those cases hit a roadblock in the courts, when the courts adopted a scope of patent rule. Following the Supreme Court's decision in Actavis in 2012, the Supreme Court overruled the legal standards that had been adopted in the lower courts of appeals and opened the door for further litigation. In the wake of Actavis, Mr. Richards leads a team of litigators that have filed new pay-for-delay reverse payments cases.

Mr. Richards graduated with honors from the University of Chicago, majoring in Economics, and earned his J.D. from Harvard Law School. Prior to joining Cohen Milstein, Mr. Richards served as head of the antitrust class action group at two major plaintiffs firms and, before that and his government service at the CFTC, Mr. Richards served as a litigation partner in a boutique law firm. He is a noted speaker at professional conferences, discussing the trends in commodities and pharmaceuticals antitrust law. He has written extensively about antitrust laws, including chapters for books edited by the American Antitrust Institute covering issues of class action practice, law reviews, and other scholarly publications.

Karen L. Handorf

Karen L. Handorf is a Partner at Cohen Milstein, and chair of the Firm's Employee Benefits (ERISA) Practice Group. She joined the Firm in 2007, following a distinguished career in government service, litigating ERISA cases in federal appellate and district courts. In her role as head of the Employee Benefits Practice, Ms. Handorf represents the interests of employees, retirees, plan participants and beneficiaries in ERISA cases in the district courts and on appeal.

Ms. Handorf is involved in litigation and appeals involving a broad range of employee benefits issues including church plans. In Kaplan v. St. Peter's Healthcare System, she represents a class of 2,800 participants in an alleged church plan, a case in which the Court of Appeals upheld the rights of St. Peter's pension fund participants to a fully funded pension plan. In addition, she currently leads a team of litigators in a series of church plan lawsuits alleging that health care systems wrongfully claim their benefit plans are exempt from ERISA's protection. Ms. Handorf is overseeing and developing these cases.

Prior to joining Cohen Milstein, Ms. Handorf was an attorney for the U.S. Department of Labor (DOL), where she litigated ERISA cases in federal appellate and district courts for 25 years. While at the DOL, she played a major role in formulating the Government's position on ERISA issues expressed in amicus briefs filed by the Solicitor General in the United States Supreme Court.

She began her ERISA career as a trial attorney in the Plan Benefits Security Division (PBSD), where she litigated actions brought by the Secretary of Labor for violations of the fiduciary standards of ERISA and handled appellate matters. In 1989, she was appointed Counsel for Decentralized and Special Litigation responsible for supervising the DOL's ERISA appellate litigation, district court litigation brought by regional offices of the Solicitor of Labor and administrative litigation involving the civil penalty provisions of ERISA. At the DOL, Ms. Handorf established and supervised PBSD's amicus brief writing program, which addressed a wide range of novel and difficult ERISA issues in both state and federal court. In 2001, she was appointed Deputy Associate Solicitor of PBSD. As the Deputy Associate Solicitor, she was responsible for overseeing litigation brought by the Secretary of Labor and legal advice provided to the Employee Benefit Security Administration, which administers Title I of ERISA. In 2005, she returned to her position as supervisor of the ERISA appellate and amicus brief writing program, serving as Counsel for Appellate and Special Litigation.

Currently, Ms. Handorf is litigating a series of church plan cases, including:

- Saint Peter's Healthcare System Church Plan Litigation: Cohen Milstein is co-lead counsel in Kaplan v. St. Peter's Healthcare System alleging that the defendants wrongfully claim their pension plan is exempt from ERISA protection. Ms. Handorf argued the case before the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit, which unanimously ruled that St, Peter's pension plan does not qualify as a "church plan." The Third Circuit further noted that as of 2012, religiously affiliated hospitals accounted for seven of the nation's 10 largest nonprofit healthcare systems and that to construe the church plan exemption to apply to such hospitals would defeat the purpose of ERISA. The ruling is likely to set the tone for other church plan litigation.

Her past successes include:

- Goodyear Litigation: Ms. Handorf represented a class of 30,000 Goodyear union retirees in Redington v. Goodyear (N.D. Ohio), in which Cohen Milstein obtained approval of a class action settlement between the retirees, Goodyear and the United Steel Workers, resulting in the establishment of a $1 billion trust through which retiree health care benefits will be provided in the future.

Ms. Handorf is a recipient of the Department of Labor Distinguished Career Service Award, and received Exceptional Achievement Awards for her work on ERISA 401(k) plan remedies, the amicus brief in the Enron litigation, retiree health care, the amicus program in general, the appellate brief in the Department's Tower litigation, termination annuities litigation and multiple employer welfare arrangement (MEWAs) litigation.

Ms. Handorf has been recognized for her expertise by her colleagues in the ERISA bar, who named her a Fellow of the American College of Employee Benefits Counsel. She is a frequent speaker on ERISA issues for the ABA, various bar associations and private seminars, and serves as plaintiffs' co-chair of preemption subcommittee of the Employee Benefits Committee of the ABA's Labor Section. In 2016, she was named to the Best Lawyers in America.

Ms. Handorf attended the University of Wisconsin-River Falls, where she received a B.S. in Speech and History, and earned her law degree from the University of Wisconsin Law School.

Martha Geer

Judge Martha Geer is a Partner at Cohen Milstein and will be head of the firm's new Raleigh, North Carolina office. She joined the firm in May 2016 after a distinguished career on the North Carolina Court of Appeals. Judge Geer's background – almost two decades as a respected litigator and appellate advocate handling complex civil litigation followed by more than 13 years as a rarely-reversed appellate judge – is a composite of experience few attorneys have. Her combined litigation and judicial experience gives her a unique perspective and insight that will benefit her clients at the trial level and on appeal. In returning to private practice, Judge Geer will practice across all of the firm's areas of expertise, working at both the trial and the appellate levels.

Judge Geer was first elected to the North Carolina Court of Appeals in 2002, receiving more than a million votes statewide. In 2010, because of her reputation as a fair and impartial judge, she garnered bipartisan support that resulted in her winning re-election by a 20-point margin. During her tenure on the Court, Judge Geer has heard more than 3,800 appeals, authored more than 1,350 opinions, and had her opinions reversed less than 2% of the time. As one of the most experienced Court of Appeals judges, Judge Geer has been responsible for hearing and deciding appeals on a wide variety of issues involving almost every area of law. She also served on the Court's Executive Committee, which works with the Chief Judge in administration of the Court. During her service on the Court, she was named Outstanding Appellate Judge by the North Carolina Advocates for Justice.

Judge Geer's time on the bench has enhanced her ability to understand what judges – trial and appellate – need and want to know in order for clients to prevail at both the trial and appellate levels. Because of the similarity of intermediate appellate courts across jurisdictions, her experience and knowledge gained in North Carolina is valuable in litigation and appeals pending in all jurisdictions including the federal courts, making her a unique resource for clients. In addition, Judge Geer's reputation as an intelligent, practical, fair, and unbiased judge increases her credibility when arguing before other judges whether at the trial level or on appeal.

Illustrating the diversity of practice areas involved in her opinions, in Boyd v. Robeson County, Judge Geer wrote an opinion holding in a case of first impression for North Carolina that the office of a county sheriff is a "person" that may be sued under 42 U.S.C. § 1983, allowing an inmate to sue for violation of her Eighth Amendment rights when a jail failed to provide medical treatment after her appendix burst. In another opinion authored by Judge Geer, Diggs v. Novant Health Inc., the Court held, again in a case of first impression, that a hospital could be liable under an apparent agency theory for the negligence of independent contractor anesthesiologists. In Mason v. Dwinnell, Judge Geer's opinion held that a trial court had authority, under the federal constitution, to award custody of a child, including visitation, to a same-sex domestic partner who was not a legal parent of the child. Judge Geer's opinion in Blinson v. State upheld the constitutionality, under the federal and state constitutions, of economic tax incentives granted to corporations in order to bring jobs to the State.

Prior to going on the bench, Judge Geer was a partner with two leading North Carolina plaintiffs' firms and was one of the founders of the second firm. She was a highly respected trial and appellate litigator known for obtaining cutting-edge and precedent-setting victories in a diverse set of practice areas, including among others, securities litigation, labor and employment law, ERISA, antitrust and trade regulation, commercial litigation, consumer protection, and constitutional and civil rights litigation (including suits against the State, sheriffs, counties, and municipalities). She was selected for inclusion in Best Lawyers in America, and recognized by the journal Business North Carolina as one of North Carolina's "Legal Elite" – a list of the top 200 lawyers in the State.

Judge Geer began her legal career with Paul Weiss Rifkind Wharton & Garrison where she was taught that a bright, hardworking lawyer, willing to learn, can handle any type of litigation – a philosophy that led to her eclectic practice upon leaving Paul Weiss. While at Paul Weiss, she had the privilege of working with nationally-respected litigators, including legal icons such as Arthur Liman, on high profile cases including the litigation arising out of the attempt to corner the silver market in 1979-1980. She also gained experience defending shareholder derivative and corporate takeover litigation. Judge Geer did substantial pro bono work, including being part of a team that obtained a stay of execution on behalf of a mentally retarded man on death row who was subsequently shown to be innocent by DNA testing, once such testing finally became available. That work led to her being one of the recipients of the 2004 Dybwad Humanitarian Award, the highest honor of the American Association on Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities.

As both a judge and a lawyer, Judge Geer has worked to improve the quality of legal representation through service on the Appellate Specialization Committee of the North Carolina State Bar, the Appellate Rules Committee of the North Carolina Bar Association, the Board of Governors of the North Carolina Advocates for Justice, and various committees of the American Bar Association and other bar association groups. She is also a highly sought after teacher of continuing education programs for both other judges and lawyers.

Judge Geer received her B.A. summa cum laude from Bryn Mawr College and her J.D. with high honors from the University of North Carolina School of Law where she was a Morehead Fellow and served as Managing Editor of the North Carolina Law Review.

Geoffrey Graber

Geoffrey Graber is a Partner at Cohen Milstein and a member of the Consumer Protection practice group. In this role, Mr. Graber specializes in complex litigation aimed at protecting consumers deceived and harmed by consumer service providers such as banks, insurance and health care companies. In addition, he is a member of the Commercial Contingency practice and also represents whistleblowers under the False Claims Act.

Currently, Mr. Graber is litigating the high-profile lawsuit arising out of the massive data breach at Anthem Inc. that compromised the personal identification and health information of more than 80 million customers of the health care company. The lawsuit alleges the company failed to take adequate measures to ensure its data systems were protected, failed to take available steps to prevent and stop the breach from happening, and failed to disclose to its customers the material facts that it did not have adequate computer systems and security practices to safeguard customers' financial accounts and personal data. Mr. Graber is involved in all aspects of the litigation.

Prior to joining the firm in 2015, Mr. Graber served as Deputy Associate Attorney General and Director of the Residential Mortgage-Backed Securities (RMBS) Working Group at the United States Department of Justice (DOJ).

As Director of the RMBS Working Group, Mr. Graber oversaw the DOJ's nationwide investigation into the packaging and sale of mortgage-backed securities leading up to the financial crisis. He supervised and coordinated the efforts of over 100 prosecutors, lawyers, investigators and analysts from the DOJ. Mr. Graber also worked closely with senior officials from the United States Securities & Exchange Commission, the Department of Housing and Urban Development, the Inspector General's Office for the Federal Finance Agency and the offices of more than 10 state attorneys general.

The investigations overseen by Mr. Graber ultimately recovered more than $36 billion. These recoveries include the record-breaking $16.65 billion settlement reached in August 2014 with Bank of America – the largest settlement with a single entity in U.S. history – as well as settlements with Citigroup ($7 billion) and JP Morgan ($13 billion).

Earlier in his tenure at the DOJ, Mr. Graber served as Counsel in the Civil Division, where he proposed and then led the three-year investigation of Standard & Poor's and its ratings of structured finance products from 2004 to 2007. As the lead lawyer overseeing the investigation, he supervised a team of over 50 prosecutors, DOJ lawyers, investigators and analysts. The investigation, which made groundbreaking use of the Financial Institutions Reform, Recovery and Enforcement Act of 1989 (FIRREA), resulted in the largest enforcement action filed by the United States concerning the financial crisis (United States v. Standard & Poor's).

Before joining the Department of Justice, Mr. Graber was an associate at a top-tier defense firm, where he defended Fortune 500 companies and their officers and directors in securities and derivative suits, consumer class actions and government investigations. Mr. Graber also devoted substantial time to pro bono representation of indigent individuals and families in civil rights actions against local law enforcement.

In 2014, Mr. Graber received the Attorney General's Distinguished Service Award for his work relating to the $13 billion settlement with JP Morgan – including, at the time, the largest FIRREA penalty recovered by the Department of Justice. In October 2015, he again received the Attorney General's Distinguished Service Award for his work on the successful investigation of and litigation against S&P.

Mr. Graber received his undergraduate degree in Philosophy from Vassar College, and earned his law degree from the University of Southern California Law School, where he served as the Managing Articles Editor on Southern California Law Review.

Patricia Mincey passed away in early 2016 due to complications from her quadriplegia casued by the problematic airbag. Mr. Devore was involved in all aspects of the litigation.

Christopher J. Cormier

Christopher J. Cormier is a Partner at Cohen Milstein and a member of the Antitrust practice group. In this role, he has tried cases and obtained settlements and judgments for his clients in excess of $1 billion. He is a member of the Antitrust practice group's New Case Committee as well as a member of the group's Client Committee.

Currently, Mr. Cormier is litigating the following notable matters:

- Anadarko Basin Oil and Gas Lease Antitrust Litigation: Co-lead counsel for plaintiffs in class actions alleging that Chesapeake Energy, SandRidge Energy and a former executive of both companies conspired to rig bids for leases of land held by private landowners in parts of Oklahoma and Kansas. This litigation follows the U.S. Department of Justice's early 2016 indictment of a co-founder and former CEO of Chesapeake Energy for allegedly participating in this bid-rigging conspiracy. Plaintiffs allege that Defendants illegally conspired to stabilize and depress the price of royalty and bonus payments paid to landowners in the Anadarko Basin oil and gas province — a massive geological formation holding natural gas and oil deposits that includes large parts of Oklahoma and Kansas. Pursuant to this conspiracy, Plaintiffs allege that Defendants communicated about and agreed on prices, allocated particular geographic areas between themselves, and rigged bids for leases of land, lowering acquisition prices across the region and thereby harming the proposed class of landowners.
- Dental Supplies Antitrust Litigation: Cohen Milstein was recently appointed interim co-lead counsel for a proposed class of dental practices and dental laboratories. The case alleges that Defendants Henry Schein, Inc., Patterson Companies, Inc., and Benco Dental Supply Company — the three largest dental supply and dental equipment distributors in the United States — fixed price margins on dental equipment, jointly pressured manufacturers to squeeze out competitors, and agreed not to "poach" each other's employees, in violation of federal antitrust law. As a result of the alleged conspiracy, dental practices and dental laboratories may have paid artificially inflated prices for many kinds of dental supplies and dental equipment, from consumables like gauze and cement to big-ticket equipment like chairs and x-rays. Mr. Cormier is one of the members of the Cohen Milstein team co-leading this case.
- Ductile Iron Pipe Fittings Antitrust Litigation: Cohen Milstein, as co-lead counsel, represents a putative class of direct purchaser plaintiffs in a price-fixing case against the three largest manufacturers of ductile iron pipe fittings — McWane Inc., Sigma Corporation, and Star Pipe Products — and a monopolization case against McWane for excluding significant competition in the domestic ductile iron pipe fittings market. Settlements of $9 million have been reached with two of the defendants, Sigma and Star. Currently, Mr. Cormier and his team are in the midst of fact discovery and taking depositions of numerous party and non-party witnesses across the country.

- Cast Iron Soil Pipe & Fittings Antitrust Litigation: Cohen Milstein, as co-lead counsel, represents a putative class of direct purchaser plaintiffs against the two largest soil pipe and fittings manufacturers in the country (McWane Inc. and Charlotte Pipe & Foundry) and the trade association they control (Cast Iron Soil Pipe Institute) in a lawsuit alleging that the defendants engaged in a nationwide price-fixing conspiracy. Mr. Cormier and his team are concluding fact discovery, and have taken a significant number of depositions of party and non-party witnesses across the country.

His successes include:

- Urethanes (Polyether Polyols) Antitrust Litigation: Cohen Milstein is co-lead counsel for direct purchaser plaintiffs in an antitrust class action alleging a nationwide conspiracy to fix the prices of chemicals used to make polyurethane foam, a basic component of ubiquitous everyday products such as bed mattresses, car seat cushioning and furniture cushioning. Four defendants — Bayer, BASF, Huntsman, and Lyondell — settled for a total of $139.5 million, while the case against the fifth manufacturer, Dow Chemical, went to trial. After a four-week jury trial, in which Mr. Cormier was a member of the trial team, the jury returned a $400 million verdict for the plaintiffs, which the district court trebled under federal antitrust law to more than $1 billion. This was the largest verdict in the country in 2013, as reported by the National Law Journal. The U.S. Court of Appeals for the Tenth Circuit affirmed the judgment, which is currently on appeal before the United States Supreme Court.
- Plasma-Derivative Protein Therapies Antitrust Litigation: Cohen Milstein was co-lead counsel for direct purchaser plaintiffs alleging a conspiracy to reduce the supply and increase prices of IVIG and Albumin — life-saving therapies derived from blood plasma. Mr. Cormier and his colleagues at Cohen Milstein represented named plaintiff The University of Utah Health Systems as well as the remaining class members in this matter. The defendants were CSL Ltd., CSL Behring, Baxter Healthcare and the Plasma Protein Therapeutics Association (the trade association the manufacturer defendants controlled). Mr. Cormier played an integral role in the investigation and filing of the first complaint in the country in this matter. Following numerous depositions across the globe and the filing of plaintiffs' opening class certification motion and expert report, Mr. Cormier and his team obtained settlements with all defendants totaling $128 million.

Mr. Cormier earned a B.A. at the University of Virginia and attended American University Washington College of Law, graduating magna cum laude. He interned with the Hon. Judge Deborah K. Chasanow, U.S. District Court for the District of Maryland, and with the U.S. Department of Justice, National Criminal Enforcement Section, Antitrust Division. He is the author of numerous scholarly articles on antitrust law. Benchmark Plaintiff has named him an Antitrust Litigation Star three consecutive years, from 2013 to 2015 and Super Lawyers named him a "Rising Star" in 2016.

S. Douglas Bunch

S. Douglas Bunch, is a Partner at Cohen Milstein and a litigator in the firm's Securities Fraud & Investor Protection Practice Group.

Mr. Bunch represents individual and institutional investors in cases brought in violation of state and federal securities laws, including the Securities Act of 1933 and the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Currently, Mr. Bunch is part of the Cohen Milstein team litigating a class action suit against Harman International Industries, Inc., in which Cohen Milstein was successful in obtaining a ruling by the Court of Appeals for the D.C. Circuit reversing the dismissal of the case and remanding it to the U.S. District Court for further proceedings. The ruling protects investors by limiting the scope of protection afforded by the so-called "safe-harbor" for forward-looking statements in the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Mr. Bunch also recently played a key role in the litigation and settlement of securities class actions against ITT Educational Services, Inc. and Orthofix International N.V., in which the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York denied defendants' motions to dismiss.

Mr. Bunch played an important role in successfully litigating the suits that followed in the wake of the 2008 financial crisis. He was instrumental in the $90 million settlement, following an appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit, of Rubin v. MF Global, Ltd. in 2011. The complaint asserted that although MF Global had assured investors in its IPO that the Company had a rigorous, robust system of risk controls in place capable of monitoring risk on a continuous "real time" basis, MF Global in fact had deactivated trading and margin controls on brokers' computers to speed up transaction times. He was also a member of the litigation team that persevered in the $335 million global settlement of a class action lawsuit on behalf of purchasers of mortgage-backed securities (MBS) issued by Residential Accredit Loans, Inc. (RALI), the $275 million settlement of a class action lawsuit on behalf of purchasers of MBS issued by Harborview Mortgage Loan Trusts, and the $500 million settlement of a class action lawsuit on behalf of purchasers of MBS issued by Bear Stearns & Co. Inc., among other MBS cases.

A member of Phi Beta Kappa, Mr. Bunch graduated with a B.A., summa cum laude, from the College of William & Mary, earned an Ed. Prior to his appointment to the State Senate, Mr. Chaudhuri served as General Counsel & Senior Policy Advisor to State Treasurer Janet Cowell, where he helped recover more than $100 million for the pension and unclaimed property funds, including settlements from an investment manager and custodian bank. He also played a key role in uncovering alleged wrongdoings that involved eight investment managers, leading to a reimbursement of $15 million back into the pension fund and tougher, cutting edge ethical standards. Mr. Chaudhuri also served as Chair of the Council of Institutional Investors, an association of pension funds with combined assets of more than $3 trillion, which serves as the leading voice for effective corporate governance and strong shareholder rights.

Before joining the Department of State Treasurer, Mr. Chaudhuri served as Special Counsel to Attorney General Roy Cooper, where he helped lead an investigation by all 50 Attorneys General that resulted in a landmark agreement with two leading networking sites to better protect children from Internet predators. For his efforts, the National Association of Attorneys General honored him with the Marvin Award, given to an individual who furthers that association's goals.

The North Carolina Bar Association has awarded Mr. Chaudhuri its Citizen Lawyer Award, given to lawyers who provide exemplary service to their communities. Lawyers Weekly has also honored him with its Leaders in the Law award. Robert W. Cobbs

Robert W. Cobbs is an Associate at Cohen Milstein, and a member of the Antitrust practice group.

Currently, Mr. Cobbs is litigating the following notable matters:

- Anadarko Basin Oil and Gas Lease Antitrust Litigation: Co-lead counsel for plaintiffs in class actions alleging that Chesapeake Energy, SandRidge Energy and a former executive of both companies conspired to rig bids for leases of land held by private landowners in parts of Oklahoma and Kansas. This litigation follows the U.S. Department of Justice's early 2016 indictment of a co-founder and former CEO of Chesapeake Energy for allegedly participating in this bid-rigging conspiracy. Plaintiffs allege that Defendants illegally conspired to stabilize and depress the price of royalty and bonus payments paid to landowners in the Anadarko Basin oil and gas province — a massive geological formation holding natural gas and oil deposits that includes large parts of Oklahoma and Kansas. Pursuant to this conspiracy, Plaintiffs allege that Defendants communicated about and agreed on prices, allocated particular geographic areas between themselves, and rigged bids for leases of land, lowering acquisition prices across the region and thereby harming the proposed class of landowners.

- Dental Supplies Antitrust Litigation: Cohen Milstein was recently appointed interim co-lead counsel for a proposed class of dental practices and dental laboratories. The case alleges that Defendants Henry Schein, Inc., Patterson Companies, Inc., and Benco Dental Supply Company — the three largest dental supply and dental equipment distributors in the United States — fixed price margins on dental equipment, jointly pressured manufacturers to squeeze out competitors, and agreed not to "poach" each other's employees, in violation of federal antitrust law. As a result of the alleged conspiracy, dental practices and dental laboratories may have paid artificially inflated prices for many kinds of dental supplies and dental equipment, from consumables like gauze and cement to big-ticket equipment like chairs and x-rays.

Prior to joining Cohen Milstein, Mr. Cobbs clerked for the Hon. Pierre N. Leval, United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit; and for the Hon. J. Rodney Gilstrap, United States District Court for the Eastern District of Texas.

Ms. Cochran also is involved in a series of cases in Chicago alleging a pattern of race discrimination against African-American laborers, in which temporary staffing agencies and the client companies that they service have engaged in a practice of excluding African Americans from temporary laborer positions throughout the metropolitan area.

In addition to litigating several employment discrimination cases, Ms. Cochran also is part of the team representing the Equal Rights Center in Equal Rights Center v. Equity Residential, a federal fair housing lawsuit challenging Equity Residential's nationwide pattern or practice of designing and constructing multi-family housing complexes in violation of the accessibility requirements of the federal Fair Housing Act. Michael Dolce

Michael Dolce is Of Counsel at Cohen Milstein, and a member of the firm's Catastrophic Injury practice group. Mr. Dolce, who joined the firm in 2015, is a highly regarded trial lawyer and political activist who has dedicated his career to seeking justice for the victims of abuse. His practice focuses specifically on the victims of sexual abuse, sex crimes and domestic violence. He is a champion of children, representing child victims as well as adult survivors of child sex abuse who bear scars and injuries into adulthood. It is an experience he understands on a personal and visceral level: Having himself been the victim of sexual abuse as a young boy at the hands of a sadistic predator, he arose from the trauma determined to be a voice for others and secure justice for them.

Mr. Dolce brings to his work the insight of a survivor who is determined to use his understanding and ability to communicate exactly what crime and injury victims go through, and what they need in their difficult and courageous healing processes. Among his noted work, in 2009, he achieved a jury verdict on behalf of a child abuse victim, totaling over $19.2 million, that was named by "Verdict Search" one of the top 100 verdicts nationwide that year.

In 2010, Mr. Dolce's six-year crusade in Florida's legislature culminated in the passage of sweeping legislation that repealed all statutes of limitation for civil and criminal prosecution of child sexual battery, overcoming a powerful and well-financed opposition. That victory was fueled by Mr. Dolce's testimony numerous times before legislative committees, which one major newspaper reported left senators "captivated" and "spellbound." His effort was supported by a grassroots organization of some 200 survivors that he led as the chair of the political committee, Protect Our Kids First, Inc., a campaign he formed to amend the state's Constitution on Election Day. His precedent-setting strategy worked to compel the Legislature to ensure that never again will a child in Florida be turned away from any civil or criminal court due to the passage of time. And no predator can ever again take comfort in the ticking of a clock after threatening a child into silence.

Mr. Dolce's work has gained him national recognition with awards from both fellow attorneys and crime victim advocates, including the National Center for Victims of Crime, the Florida Council Against Sexual Violence and the Florida Justice Association. Mr. Dolce is a sought-after speaker, having addressed conferences of many of the largest child abuse survivor organizations in the world, including the Survivors Network for those Abused by Priests. Recently, he was invited to join the Sexual Violence Focus Group of the Office of the Florida State Courts Administrator; the group will work over the next year on several sexual violence projects, including updating the Florida Sexual Violence Bench Book and developing a strategic plan for sexual violence projects. His work has been cited across the nation by law professors and judges, including the North Carolina Supreme Court.

Mr. Dolce graduated with a Bachelor of Arts, summa cum laude, from Lynn University and received his J.D. from Stetson University.

Currently, Mr. Dolce is litigating the following notable matters:

- Jane Doe v. Florida Sheriffs Youth Ranches: Mr. Dolce represents a teenaged sex abuse victim who was abused in a residential childcare facility by an adult resident of the facility. This civil suit against the facility follows a successful criminal prosecution of the abuser, asserting that the facility failed to maintain proper child safety procedures and policies.
- Rose, Fitzsimons and Davis v. The Devereux Foundation, Inc.: Mr. Dolce represents adult survivors in three related lawsuits, asserting child physical and sexual abuse at a licensed therapeutic group home perpetrated by several staff members.
- Jane Doe v. Seagate Hotel and Spa: Mr. Dolce represents an adult in this action against a resort hotel asserting that she was sexually assaulted by a massage therapist. The suit alleges that the hotel negligently hired the therapist who had been discharged just two months earlier by his prior employer for similarly sexually assaulting a guest.

- Harris v. William Degray: Mr. Dolce represents an adult survivor of domestic violence who suffered substantial physical and mental health injuries, including Battered Woman Syndrome.

Some of his past successes include:

- Jane Doe vs. Tim Crowe: Mr. Dolce represented a child sex abuse survivor in a direct action against the perpetrator, resulting in a $19.2 million compensatory damage verdict, named one of the Top 100 verdicts nationwide in 2009 by The National Law Journal/Verdict Search.
- Hollins v. Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of New York, Inc.: Mr. Dolce represented an adult survivor of child sexual abuse against his former church (Jehovah's Witnesses), resulting in a confidential settlement.
- A.S.W. v. Happy House, Inc.: Mr. Dolce represented a pre-school child against a day care center in a child-on-child sex abuse case, resulting in a confidential settlement.
- Jane Doe v. James Byrne and Linda Byrne: Mr. Dolce represented a mentally disabled child in an action against a neighbor who sexually abused her over a two-year period and against the abuser's wife, on a theory that she failed to protect the child after finding evidence of ongoing abuse. The jury awarded damages of $3.5 million, ordering both defendants to pay.

Cohen Milstein succeeded in having the complaint and the amended complaint dismissed in the Southern District of California and defeating an appeal in the Ninth Circuit. Mr. Dubner was the lead associate on the case and was involved in all aspects of the litigation, including drafting the successful motions to dismiss and appellate brief.
- Detroit Nurse Wages Antitrust Litigation: Cohen Milstein represents a class of nurses in Cason-Merenda v. Detroit Medical Center (E.D. In his role, Mr. Langino represents clients who have been seriously or catastrophically injured, those who have suffered from managed care abuses and people who have been injured as a result of faulty products—and holding those responsible accountable for those injuries. Mr. Langino is an experienced, hands-on attorney, who has tried more than 20 jury trial cases in his career. Presently, he is litigating a number of product safety cases involving child booster seats.

Prior to joining Cohen Milstein in 2014, Mr. Langino was an Associate at Leopold Law and also served for three years as an Assistant Public Defender in West Palm Beach, FL. He gained valuable trial experience and secured freedom for the wrongly accused. Currently, Mr. Langino is litigating the following notable matters:

- Back-Cruz v. Evenflo, Inc.: Mr. Langino represents the family of a child plaintiff in a product liability case. Mr. Langino is the primary attorney on the case and is managing all aspects of the litigation.

Some of his past successes include:

- Mincey v. Takata: Cohen Milstein was lead counsel in a lawsuit brought on behalf of Patricia Mincey and her family, a Florida woman who sustained catastrophic injuries that rendered her paralyzed from the neck down in 2014 when the driver's side airbag deployed too aggressively during a vehicle collision. Patricia Mincey passed away in early 2016 due to complications from the quadriplegia caused by the problematic airbag. The suit charged that the Takata Corporation, the manufacturer of the airbag system, knew of the airbag defect and hid the problem from consumers. Evidence uncovered by the firm showed that Takata concealed the defective nature of the airbag system for more than a decade. The case was resolved in July 2016. Mr. Langino had been involved in all aspects of the litigation, including discovery, taking depositions and directing motions.
- Fuse v. Palm Tran: Mr. Langino represented the family of a 5-year-old disabled child in a catastrophic injury case alleging that the disabled child suffered permanent brain damage during transport on the Palm Tran Connection service, a transportation service for elderly and disabled patrons, when the vehicle's driver ignored her calls for help, failed to provide first aid, and delayed access to emergency medical aid. The case was resolved in a settlement in excess of $1 million.
- Hauser v. Rice Insulation: Mr. Langino represented the Hauser family in a product liability lawsuit alleging that Rice Insulation, an insulation contractor, installed foam insulation incorrectly in the plaintiff's house, resulting in the house burning to the ground. The lawsuit included the contractor as well as the manufacturer for not providing sufficient warnings that the product might ignite under certain conditions. The matter was resolved confidentially. Mr. Langino managed all aspects of the litigation.
- Palmer v. Baylines Inc.: Mr. Langino represented the Palmer family in catastrophic injury and product safety lawsuit in which a truck driver fell asleep at the wheel and crashed into a vehicle carrying the Palmers, resulting in the death of Mrs. Palmer. Mr. Langino brought a catastrophic injury case against the trucking company Baylines Inc., and a product safety case against the carmaker of the vehicle that the Palmers were driving alleging that the airbags did not deploy properly, leading to Mrs. Palmer's death. The case was resolved in a confidential settlement. Mr. Langino managed all aspects of the litigation, including expert witnesses.

Joel P. Laitman

Joel P. Laitman is Of Counsel at Cohen Milstein and a member of the Securities Litigation & Investor Protection Practice Group. Mr. Laitman has served as lead counsel in five of the firm's major mortgage-backed securities class actions brought on behalf of pension funds and other institutional investors against major investment banks. These cases alleged that the underlying mortgages failed to comply with the underwriting standards described in the Offering Documents.

Besides initiating these cases and directing and leading discovery with his partner Chris Lometti, Mr. Laitman argued all motions and conducted all hearings both before the District Court and the Second Circuit. In just three of these cases that have settled to date, recoveries totaling $720 million were achieved for the benefit of injured investors: $335 million in the RALI MBS case brought against Goldman Sachs, UBS and Citigroup; $275 million in the Harborview MBS case brought against RBS; and $110 million in the HEMT MBS case brought against Credit Suisse.

The settlements achieved in these cases have been commended by Courts and by legal publications. Commenting on the Harborview litigation, Judge Loretta A. Preska, of the U.S. District Court, Southern District of New York, noted that the case brought on behalf of the plaintiffs was "interesting and different" and that settlement on their behalf "was a job well done." Judge Fallia, in approving the RALI Settlement, commended the firm for prosecuting the case for seven years and "never giving up" despite substantial obstacles.

The litigations and settlements have garnered awards from the leading legal publications. In 2014 and 2015, the National Law Journal cited the Harborview and RALI MBS in designating the firm an Elite Trial Law Firm and placing the firm on the Hot List; Law360 cited the RALI and Harborview cases in designating the firm one of "The Most Feared Plaintiffs Firms" in 2015, the third year in a row that Cohen Milstein received the designation; and in 2015, Law360 selected Cohen Milstein as the sole plaintiff firm to be chosen in two "Practice Groups of the Year" categories and one of only five class action law firms to be recognized, singling out the RALI and Harborview cases in the award.

In addition, Mr. Laitman has argued a number of seminal cases before the Second Circuit in the securities field including: Teamsters Local 445 Freight Div. Pension Fund v. Dynex Capital, Inc., 531 F.3d 190 (2d Cir. 2008) (addressing corporate scienter under Section 10 (b)); Teamsters Local 445 Freight Div. Pension Fund v. Bombardier, Inc., 546 F.3d 196 (2d Cir. 2008) (addressing standard for establishing market efficiency in certification of Section 10(b) claims); N.J. Carpenters Health Fund v. Royal Bank of Scotland Group, PLC, 709 F.3d 109 (2d Cir. 2013) ("NovaStar") (reversing dismissal of Securities Act claims); Wyo. State Treasurer v. Moody's Investors Serv. (In re Lehman Bros. Mortgage-Backed Sec. Litig.) ("Lehman"), 650 F.3d 167 (2d Cir. 2011) (addressing rating agency liability under the Securities Act); and N.J. Carpenters Health Fund v. RALI Series 2006-QO1, 477 Fed. Appx. 809 (2d Cir. 2012) ("Harborview/RALI", addressing class member knowledge as grounds for denial of class certification).

A member of Phi Beta Kappa, Mr. Laitman is a graduate of Columbia University, with a B.A., magna cum laude, and earned his law degree at Georgetown University Law Center.

Stephan A. LeClainche

Stephan A. LeClainche is Of Counsel at Cohen Milstein, and head of the firm's Medical Malpractice group. In his role, Mr. LeClainche represents victims and the families of victims of all types of medical negligence. His practice specializes in medical malpractice, but also includes medical device litigation, automobile negligence, sexual abuse and other serious injury and wrongful death cases.

Mr. LeClainche is an experienced trial attorney, whose recent admission to the prestigious American College of Trial Lawyers attests to his reputation among peers as an outstanding trial lawyer. He understands, however, that legal skill in a courtroom is only a part of the qualifications that a good attorney brings to the practice in representing the victims of negligence. Equally important is the empathy an attorney must possess in counseling and guiding these victims and their families. The best attorneys are advisers and advocates, compassionate yet aggressive—a partner to clients, making them part of the team. These are traits that Mr. LeClainche brings to each of his cases.

Prior to joining Cohen Milstein in 2015, Mr. LeClainche was a name partner in a boutique trial law firm based in West Palm Beach. A Florida Board-Certified Civil Trial Lawyer since 1996 with more than three decades of experience litigating civil lawsuits, Mr. LeClainche is both a veteran attorney and a seasoned investigator, investing the time necessary to unearth and analyze every potentially relevant facet of a case. Many of his cases represent the cutting edge of both medicine and law, and grow out of the evolution of medicine and its practice. The cases may be different, but the complexities, challenges and stakes are always high, requiring attention to detail – and dedication to a client's needs and concerns.

Some of Mr. LeClainche's litigation and trial successes include the following notable matters:

- A confidential settlement reached in a medical malpractice case against an interventional cardiologist regarding his controversial practice of using a stent in the mid-popliteal artery to treat arterial occlusion. The case involved the off-label use of a medical device and a surgeon acting outside the scope of his practice.
- A $40 million verdict recovered for a child in a wrongful death case.
- A $5 million settlement reached during trial in a medical malpractice case.
- Verdicts of $1.7 million and $10 million in two separate cases involving sexual abuse of minors.
- A $2.3 million verdict for personal injuries suffered during a fall at an amusement park.
- A $2.8 million verdict for a death and personal injuries suffered by husband and wife in a motor vehicle accident.
- Co-lead of the trial team of lawyers who, after years of costly litigation, successfully recovered $27 million on behalf of 10 victims of child abuse in a case brought in Federal Court in New York.

Mr. LeClainche currently represents clients in a diverse variety of medical malpractice cases, including:

- Several lawsuits involving injuries arising from laparoscopic and open gall bladder surgery.
- A case involving a military reservist suffering from deep vein thrombosis (a clot in the veins of the leg), who was misdiagnosed and as a result suffered a pulmonary embolus and died just as he was being discharged from the hospital.
- A routine colonoscopy that resulted in a perforated colon and the subsequent death of the client.

- Misdiagnosis on colonoscopy resulting in the client being given a clean bill of health only to be subsequently diagnosed with Stage 4 colon cancer.

In addition to his recent admission to the American College of Trial Lawyers, Mr. LeClainche's accomplishments over the years have enabled him to achieve an AV-Preeminent rating from Martindale-Hubbell, the highest rating available for ethics and legal ability from the nation's oldest guide to lawyers and law firms.

Mr. LeClainche attended Florida International University, graduating magna cum laude with a B.A. in Political Science, and earned his J.D. from the University of Florida College of Law. Mr. LeClainche was born and raised in Kingston, Jamaica.

Scott Lempert

Scott M. Lempert is Of Counsel at Cohen Milstein and a member of the firm's Employee Benefits (ERISA) Practice Group. He joined the firm in 2016 and represents the interests of employees, retirees, and plan participants and beneficiaries in ERISA cases in the district court and on appeal.

Mr. Lempert is currently engaged in litigating a number of so-called "church plan" lawsuits. These cutting-edge legal cases assert that many non-profit health care systems in the United States wrongfully claim their benefit plans are exempt from ERISA regulation under the church plan exemption. Currently, Cohen Milstein serves as lead or co-lead counsel in 12 separate cases in various jurisdictions throughout the U.S.

Mr. Lempert has over 20 years of experience litigating complex commercial class actions on behalf of employees, retirees and consumers in retiree benefits, employment, consumer protection and antitrust matters. Prior to joining Cohen Milstein he worked on many high-profile matters, including:

- In re: Unisys Corp. Retiree Medical Benefits ERISA Litig. – a series of cases involving representation of thousands of retirees, both as class actions and individually, seeking restoration of lifetime retiree medical benefits unlawfully terminated after retirement. These cases successfully achieved multiple settlements and court judgments providing lifetime retiree medical benefits for some and a continuing stream of payments to pay for medical benefits for other retirees.
- Raetsch v. Lucent Technologies – 36 million dollar settlement involving unlawful transfer of excess defined benefit pension funds to an account to pay for retiree medical benefits.
- Mehling v. New York Life Insurance Co. -- 14 million dollar settlement challenging excessive fees charged to New York Life employees and the company's pension plan for Plan assets invested in New York Life owned mutual funds.
- Stagi v. National R.R. Passenger Corp. – Gender discrimination class action alleging unlawful disparate impact on female union employees resulting from enforcement of an Amtrak employee policy that blocked union employees from promotion to management. Settlement provided Amtrak employees compensation for denial of opportunities for promotion and the striking of the unlawful employment policy.

Mr. Lempert graduated Phi Beta Kappa from the University of Delaware with a B.A., magna cum laude, in Psychology, and received his J.D., from the University of Pennsylvania Law School. During law school, he served as Vice President of the Law School Government and was a Morris Fellow.

Christopher Lometti

Christopher Lometti is Of Counsel in the Securities Litigation & Investor Protection Practice Group, having joined Cohen Milstein in 2009. In this role, Mr. Lometti has litigated some of the most significant mortgage-backed securities (MBS) class action lawsuits to emerge from the financial crisis.

Mr. Lometti, together with Joel Laitman, his fellow Partner in the Securities Litigation Practice, initiated the Bear Stearns, Harborview, RALI, Lehman and HEMT MBS litigation at their named firm prior to joining Cohen Milstein. The lawsuits were high-risk matters involving novel claims on behalf of their Taft-Hartley pension fund clients injured by the dramatic downgrades of their MBS holdings from AAA to junk status. The MBS litigations have earned Cohen Milstein's Securities Litigation Practice numerous accolades from the National Law Journal, Law360 and American Lawyer.

Mr. Lometti's successes include the following notable matters:

- Bear Stearns MBS Litigation: $500 million settlement with JPMorgan Chase. Cohen Milstein was lead counsel in a class action lawsuit alleging Bear Stearns violated securities laws in selling toxic mortgage-backed securities that failed to meet the bank's own underwriting standards and that contained false and misleading information as to the appraised values of the underlying mortgages. Mr. Lometti was one of the key litigators in the case, developing strategy and conducting extensive fact discovery into the 22 offerings backed by approximately 71,000 largely Alt-A mortgages that Bear Stearns sold to investors from May 2006 to April 2007.

- RALI MBS Litigation: $335 million settlement with Citigroup, Goldman Sachs and UBS. Cohen Milstein was lead counsel in a class action litigation alleging RALI and its affiliates sold shoddy MBS securities that did not meet the standards of their underwriters. Mr. Lometti was one of the senior litigators on the class action, conducting fact discovery, deposing economic experts and preparing witnesses.

- Harborview MBS Litigation: $275 million settlement with Royal Bank of Scotland. Cohen Milstein was lead counsel in a complex case, in which presiding Judge Loretta A. Preska, of the U.S. District Court, Southern District of New York, commented on the "job well done" by the Cohen Milstein team of which Mr. Lometti was a senior litigator.

- HEMT MBS Litigation: $110 million settlement with Credit Suisse. Cohen Milstein was lead counsel in a case alleging Credit Suisse and its affiliates sold toxic securities to pension fund investors. The suit, filed in 2008, was one of the first class action cases involving mortgage-backed securities to be filed.

- Lehman Litigation: $40 million settlement. Cohen Milstein was lead counsel in a class action lawsuit against individuals affiliated with the bankrupt firm, the largest bankruptcy in U.S. history. Mr. Lometti was a senior litigator on the lawsuit, developing strategy.

- Dynex Litigation: $7.5 million settlement. Cohen Milstein was lead counsel in class action lawsuit involving the asset-backed securities. Mr. Lometti was a central member of the team to litigate this seminal lawsuit involving hybrid securities. In the litigation, the U.S. District judge issued one of the first decisions certifying an investor class pursuing fraud claims in connection with the sale of asset-backed securities. The Dynex litigation laid out a road map that could be followed in litigating an asset-backed security.

Currently, Mr. Lometti is litigating the following matters:

- NovaStar MBS: Cohen Milstein is lead counsel in litigation alleging that RBS, Wells Fargo (formerly Wachovia) and Deutsche Bank sold toxic mortgage-backed securities in investors. The litigation is one of the last outstanding class action MBS lawsuits. The Second Circuit Court of Appeals reversed an earlier dismissal of the lawsuit, paving the way for prosecution of the case.

- Volaris Litigation: Cohen Milstein is lead counsel in a class action lawsuit alleging that the Mexican airline Volaris Aviation Holding Co. withheld financial information regarding revenue recognition from investors before the company's $235 million initial public offering. Soon after the IPO, the news came to light and the stock fell roughly 15%. The case is ongoing.

- Braskem Litigation: Cohen Milstein represents shareholders in a class action suit alleging that the Brazilian petrochemical company lied to investors in its American Depository Receipts about its role in a bribery scheme involving Petrobras, Brazil's giant oil producer. The case is ongoing.

Mr. Lometti received a Bachelor of Arts from Fordham College in 1983, and his J.D. from Fordham Law School in 1986.

Prior to his arrival at Cohen Milstein, Mr. Lometti played a substantive role in litigating and settling the massive class action suit against WorldCom, one of the largest bankruptcies in history, representing significant stakeholders in the telecom's bond offerings. The lawsuit resulted in a settlement of $6.15 billion.

He has served as a non-industry arbitrator for the New York Stock Exchange and National Association of Securities Dealers helping to resolve disputes, and as a mediator for the New York State Court System.

Diana L. Martin

Diana L. Martin is Of Counsel at Cohen Milstein, and a member of the firm's Catastrophic Injury & Wrongful Death, Consumer Protection, Managed Care Abuse, and Unsafe & Defective Products practice groups. She concentrates her practice on appellate litigation involving complex product liability, consumer class, mass tort and managed care litigation by not only handling appeals for the firm in these areas, but also by providing appellate support at the trial stage. In that role, she drafts and argues complex and case dispositive motions, handles jury instruction charge conferences and assists trial counsel in preserving and protecting the record in the event of an appeal.

Of notable interest is Ms. Martin's success in achieving justice for injured workers who have been wrongfully denied medical care and treatment by their employer or their employer's workers' compensation carrier, resulting in the employee suffering injuries in addition to those suffered in the workplace accident. While many attorneys refuse to litigate such cases given the difficulty of navigating around the legal immunity afforded to defendants by Florida law, Ms. Martin has gotten many of these cases past the motion to dismiss and summary judgment stages, resulting in settlement of the workers' claims prior to trial.

Currently, Ms. Martin is helping the firm litigate the following matters:

- United States of America, et al. v. AIDS Healthcare Foundation, Inc.: Cohen Milstein represents three former managers of the AHF in a Federal and Florida State Whistleblower Act claims against the nation's largest provider of HIV/AIDS medical care for illegal patient referral kickbacks. Ms. Martin has been involved in all aspects of the litigation. The case is ongoing.

- HCA: Cohen Milstein is lead counsel in a class action lawsuit alleging that four Florida plaintiffs and others like them were billed inflated and exorbitant fees for emergency radiology services, in excess of the amount allowed by law, covered in part by their mandatory Florida Personal Injury Protection insurance. When the district court struck plaintiffs' class claims, Ms. Martin successfully petitioned the Eleventh Circuit Court of Appeals to accept immediate appellate review.
- Wal-Mart Employment Discrimination Litigation: Ms. Martin assisted the firm's Civil Rights and Employment practice group in a regional gender bias case in the Southern District of Florida alleging that Wal-Mart discriminates against women in pay and promotion decisions. After settlement agreements were reached on behalf of the individual plaintiffs, Ms. Martin has taken the lead role in appealing to the Eleventh Circuit Court of Appeals the district court's order dismissing as time-barred the plaintiffs' class claims, which originated from the seminal case of*Dukes v. Wal-Mart*.
- Adams v. Palm Beach County Sheriff's Office: Cohen Milstein is lead counsel in an excessive force and wrongful death action against the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Office and one of its detectives, who shot and killed the unarmed Seth Adams while he was on family property. Having provided legal support throughout the district court proceedings, Ms. Martin is currently handling the appellate proceedings in which the officer has appealed to the Eleventh Circuit Court of Appeals the district court's denial of his motion for summary judgment based on qualified immunity.

Some of her past successes include:

- Mincey v. Takata: Cohen Milstein was is lead counsel in a lawsuit brought on behalf of Patricia Mincey and her family, a Florida woman who sustained catastrophic injuries that rendered her a quadriplegic in 2014 when the driver's side airbag in her Honda Civic deployed too aggressively during a collision due to a product defect. Patricia Mincey passed away in early 2016 due to complications from her quadriplegia. The suit charged that Takata, the manufacturer of the airbag system, knew of the airbag defect and hid the problem from consumers. When the defendants removed Ms. Mincey's case to federal court in an attempt to have it bogged down in multi-district litigation, Ms. Martin successfully had the case remanded to Florida state court, where it is was resolved in July 2016.

Prior to joining the firm in 2014, Ms. Martin served as appellate counsel to Leopold Law, P.A., in Palm Beach Gardens, FL. Before that, she clerked for three years for the Honorable Martha C. Warner in Florida's Fourth District Court of Appeal. Ms. Martin attended Flagler College, graduating summa cum laude and being awarded Departmental Honors in Philosophy/Religion. She earned her J.D. from the University of Florida Levin College of Law, graduating with High Honors and achieving admission to the Order of the Coif.

Ms. Martin currently serves as President of Florida Legal Services, serves as Audit Committee Chair of Families First of Palm Beach County, and sits on the board of the Florida Bar Foundation. She has written numerous legal articles, which have been published in a variety of journals, including Trial Magazine, The Florida Bar Journal, and the Florida Justice Association Journal. Ms. Martin also co-authors Florida Insurance Law and Practice, an annual publication by Thomson/West.

Douglas J. McNamara

Douglas J. McNamara is Of Counsel at Cohen Milstein, and a member of the firm's Consumer Protection practice group. In that role, Mr. McNamara specializes in litigating complex, multi-state class action lawsuits against manufacturers and consumer service providers such as banks, insurers, credit card companies and others. He has helped litigate precedent-setting cases, including Salud Services, Inc. v. Caterpillar, Inc. He is a hands-on litigator who takes pleasure in the details, facts, and documents of each case. Mr. McNamara is a highly regarded speaker who has presented at several forums on such topics as federal preemption, class certification and civil litigation, and is the author of scholarly articles focusing on emerging legal issues.
Mr. McNamara has worked on numerous cases involving dangerous pharmaceuticals and medical devices, light cigarettes, defective consumer products, and environmental torts. He litigated and resolved the class action lawsuit against Philips Electronics North America Corp., which alleged that certain Philips and Magnavox flat-panel TVs suffer from a defect that causes their capacitors to fail prematurely and renders the TVs inoperable.

Mr. McNamara is currently litigating the following notable matters:

- Lumber Liquidators Litigation: Cohen Milstein is co-lead counsel in the consumer class action lawsuit In re: Lumber Liquidators Chinese-Manufactured Flooring Products, Sales Practice and Product Liabilities Litigation, alleging the nationwide retailer sold Chinese-made laminate flooring containing hazardous levels of the carcinogen formaldehyde while falsely labeling their products as meeting or exceeding California emissions standards, a story that was profiled twice on 60 Minutes in 2015.
- Symantec Litigation: Cohen Milstein is lead counsel in Khoday et al. v. Symantec Corp. et al., a nationwide class action battle involving the marketing to consumers of a re-download service in conjunction with the sale of Norton software. Mr. McNamara was involved in all aspects of the case, from managing the litigation to overseeing a staff of contract attorneys to settlement discussions.
- Rooms to Go Litigation: Cohen Milstein represents a putative class in *Hankinson et al. v. R.T.G. Mr. McNamara is engaged in all aspects of the litigation, including discovery and working with expert witnesses.
- Caterpillar Litigation: Cohen Milstein is lead counsel in Salud Services, Inc. v. Caterpillar, Inc., a class action lawsuit against Caterpillar alleging that bus engines designed to meet 2002 federal emissions standards are failing, leaving passengers stranded and bus companies eating the costs of countless repairs and towing fees. The Firm succeeded in beating back the defendant's argument that the Clean Air Act preempted the plaintiff's claims since the claims related to emissions standards. Mr. McNamara was the architect of that opposition and is involved in all aspects of the product liability litigation.

Prior to joining Cohen Milstein in 2001, Mr. McNamara was a litigation associate at an international law firm, specializing in pharmaceutical and product liability cases. He started his career at New York City's Legal Aid Society, defending indigent criminal defendants at trial and on appeal.

He has been the lead author on three law review articles: "Buckley, Imbler and Stare Decisis: The Present Predicament of Prosecutorial Immunity and An End to Its Absolute Means,: 59 Albany Law Review, 1135 (1996); "Sexual Discrimination and Sexual Misconduct: Applying New York's Gender-Specific Sexual Misconduct Law to Minors," 14 Touro Law Review, 477 (Winter 1998), and most recently, Douglas McNamara, et al, "Reexamining the Seventh Amendment Argument Against Issue Certification," 34 Pace Law Review, 1041 (2014). He is presently teaching a course on environmental and toxic torts as an adjunct at George Washington University School of Law.

Mr. McNamara graduated summa cum laude from SUNY Albany with a major in Political Science, and earned his J.D. from New York University School of Law.

I submit this declaration in support of IPPs' Motion for an Award of Attorneys' Fees and Reimbursement of Expenses. I make this declaration based on my personal knowledge and if called as a witness, I could and would competently testify to the matters stated herein.

3. Cohen Milstein has prosecuted this litigation solely on a contingent-fee basis, and has been at risk that it would not receive any compensation for prosecuting claims against the defendants. While Cohen Milstein devoted its time and resources to this matter, it has foregone other legal work for which it would have been compensated.

4. During the pendency of the litigation, Cohen Milstein performed the following work: preparing the document productions, interrogatory responses and other discovery responses from the named plaintiffs, reviewing documents from the Defendants' productions and conferring with lead counsel regarding them, drafting briefing concerning certain issues during motion practice and researching the same, among other tasks.

5. Attached hereto as Exhibit B is a billing summary of Cohen Milstein's total hours and lodestar, computed at current billing rates, from June 1, 2013 to February 28, 2017. Counsel for Plaintiffs are not seeking attorneys' fees for any time billed prior to the appointment of lead counsel. See Order dated May 17, 2013 (ECF No. 194). The lodestar amount reflected in Exhibit B is for work assigned by Lead Counsel, and was performed by professional staff at my law firm. This summary was prepared from contemporaneous, daily time records regularly prepared and maintained by Cohen Milstein.

6. Attached hereto as Exhibit C is a list of the various billing rates each attorney and staff member at my firm has billed at in this case.

7. Attached hereto as Exhibit D is a compilation of my firm's detailed records at historical billing rates. The entries in Exhibit D have been redacted per the Court's Order in ECF No. 1803.

These expenses were incurred on behalf of IPPs by Cohen Milstein on a contingent basis and have not been reimbursed. The expenses reflected in Exhibit E were prepared from expense vouchers, receipts, and bank records, and thus represent an accurate recordation of the expenses incurred.

9. I have reviewed the time and expenses reported by Cohen Milstein in this case which are included in this declaration, and I affirm that they are true and accurate.

I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the United States that the foregoing is true and correct.

COHEN MILSTEIN SELLERS & TOLL PLLC

For decades, Cohen Milstein Sellers & Toll PLLC has represented individuals, small businesses, institutional investors, and employees in many of the major class action cases litigated in the United States for violations of the antitrust, securities, consumer protection, civil rights/discrimination, ERISA, employment, and human rights laws. Cohen Milstein is also at the forefront of numerous innovative legal actions that are expanding the quality and availability of legal recourse for aggrieved individuals and businesses both domestic and international. Over its history, Cohen Milstein has obtained many landmark judgments and settlements for individuals and businesses in the United States and abroad. The firm's most significant past and present cases include:

- HEMT MBS Litigation, (No. 1:08-cv-05653, U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York). On May 10, 2016, U.S. District Judge Paul A. Crotty finally approved a $110 million settlement in the mortgage-backed securities class action brought by investors against Credit Suisse AG and its affiliates. This settlement ends claims brought by the New Jersey Carpenters Health Fund and other investors who claimed that the offering documents for the mortgage-backed securities at issue violated the Securities Act as they contained false and misleading misstatements concerning compliance with underwriting standards.

- In re Urethane Antitrust Litigation (Polyether Polyol Cases) (D. Kan.). Cohen Milstein serves as co-lead counsel on behalf of a class of direct purchasers of chemicals used to make many everyday products, from mattress foam to carpet cushion, who were overcharged as a result of a nationwide price-fixing conspiracy. On February 25, 2016, Cohen Milstein reached an agreement with The Dow Chemical Company to settle the case against Dow for $835 million. Combined with earlier settlements obtained from Bayer, Huntsman, and BASF, the Dow settlement pushed the total settlements in the case to $974 million. The settlement was approved on July 29, 2016.

- RALI MBS Litigation, (Civ. No. 08-8781, U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York). In July 2015 On July 31, 2015, Judge Katherine Failla gave final approval to a $235 million settlement with underwriters Citigroup Global Markets Inc., Goldman Sachs & Co., and UBS Securities LLC. She also approved a plan for distribution to investors of those funds as well as the previously approved $100 million settlement with RALI, its affiliates, and the individual Defendants that was reached in in 2013. This global settlement marks an end to a long and complicated class action over MBS offerings that RALI and certain of its affiliates issued and sold to the New Jersey Carpenters Health Fund and other investors from 2006 through 2007. The case took seven years of intense litigation to resolve.

- In re: Bear Stearns Mortgage Pass-Through Certificates Litigation (No. 08-08093, U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York). On May 27, 2015, U.S. District Judge Laura Taylor Swain finally approved a class action settlement with JPMorgan Chase & Co., which agreed to pay $500 million and up to an additional $5 million in litigation-related expenses to resolve claims arising from the sale of $27.2 billion of mortgage-backed securities issued by Bear Stearns & Co. during 2006 and 2007 in 22 separate public offerings.

- Harborview MBS Litigation, (No. 08-5093, U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York). In February 2014, Cohen Milstein reached a settlement with the Royal Bank of Scotland (RBS) in the Harborview MBS Litigation, resolving claims that RBS duped investors into buying securities backed by shoddy home loans. The $275 million settlement is the fifth largest class action settlement in a federal MBS case. This case is one of eight significant MBS actions that Cohen Milstein has been named lead or co-lead counsel by courts and one of three that were nearly thrown out by the court, only to be revived in 2012.
- In Re Electronic Books Antitrust Litigation, (No. 11-md-02293, U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York). In August 2014, a New York federal judge approved a $400 million antitrust settlement in the hotly contested ebooks price-fixing suit against Apple Inc. Combined with $166 million in previous settlements with five defendant publishing companies, consumers could receive more than $560 million. The settlement resolves damages claims brought by a class of ebook purchasers and attorneys general from 33 U.S. states and territories.

- Countrywide MBS Litigation, (2:10-cv-00302, U.S. District Court in the Central District of California). In April 2013, Plaintiffs in the landmark mortgage-backed securities (MBS) class action litigation against Countrywide Financial Corporation and others, led by Lead Plaintiff, the Iowa Public Employees' Retirement System (IPERS), agreed to a $500 million settlement. It is the nation's largest MBS-federal securities class action settlement. The settlement was approved in December 2013 and brings to a close the consolidated class action lawsuit brought in 2010 by multiple retirement funds against Countrywide and other defendants for securities violations involving the packaging and sale of MBS. The settlement is also one of the largest (top 20) class action securities settlements of all time.

- In re Beacon Associates Litigation (No. 09-cv-0777, United States District Court for the Southern District of New York). Class action settlement of $219 million for trustees and participants in ERISA-covered employee benefit plans whose assets were lost through investments made on their behalf by Beacon Associates LLC I & II in the investment schemes of Bernard Madoff.

- In re Plasma-Derivative Protein Therapies Antitrust Litigation (No. 09 C 7666, United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois). After four years of litigation, in October of 2013, CSL Limited, CSL Behring LLC, CSL Plasma, Inc. (collectively, "CSL"), and the Plasma Protein Therapeutics Association ("PPTA") agreed to pay $64 million dollars to settle a lawsuit brought by the University of Utah Hospital and other health care providers alleging that CSL, the PPTA, and Baxter agreed between 2003-2009 to restrict the supply of immunoglobulin and albumin, and thereby increase the prices of those therapies. Two months later, Baxter International Inc. and Baxter Healthcare Corp. (collectively "Baxter") agreed to pay an additional $64 million to settle these claims – bringing the total recovery to the class to $128 million.

- Keepseagle v. Vilsack, Civil Action No. 1:99CV03119 (D.D.C.). A class of Native American farmers and ranchers allege that they have been systematically denied the same opportunities to obtain farm loans and loan servicing that have been routinely afforded white farmers by the USDA. A class was certified in 2001 by Judge Emmet Sullivan, District Judge for the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia, and the D.C. Circuit declined USDA's request to review that decision. On October 19, 2010, the case reached a historic settlement, with the USDA agreeing to pay $680 million in damages to thousands of Native American farmers and ranchers and forgive up to $80 million worth of outstanding farm loan debt.

- In re Parmalat Securities Litigation, No. 04 MD 1653 (S.D.N.Y.). In this securities litigation case, Cohen Milstein has successfully negotiated two partial settlements totaling approximately $90 million. At the second partial settlement hearing, Judge Lewis A. Kaplan remarked that plaintiffs counsel "did a wonderful job here for the class and were in all respects totally professional and totally prepared. I wish I had counsel this good in front of me in every case." Our clients, four large European institutional investors, were appointed as co-lead plaintiffs and we were appointed as co-lead counsel. Most notably, this case allowed us the opportunity to demonstrate our expertise in the bankruptcy area. During the litigation, the company subsequently emerged from bankruptcy and we added "New Parmalat" as a defendant because of the egregious fraud committed by the now-bankrupt old Parmalat. New Parmalat strenuously objected and Judge Kaplan of the Southern District of New York ruled in the class plaintiffs' favor, a ruling which was affirmed on appeal. This innovative approach of adding New Parmalat enabled the class to obtain an important additional source of compensation, as we subsequently settled with New Parmalat.

- Dukes v. Wal-Mart Stores, Inc., No. C-01-2252 (N.D. Cal.). Cohen Milstein is co-lead counsel in this sex discrimination case. In 2004, the U.S. District Court certified a nationwide class action lawsuit for all female employees of Wal-Mart who worked in U.S. stores anytime after December 26, 1998. This was the largest civil rights class action ever certified against a private employer, including approximately 1.5 million current and former female employees. That ruling was appealed, and while affirmed by the Ninth Circuit, was reversed by the Supreme Court in June 2011. Cohen Milstein argued the case for the plaintiffs-respondents in the Supreme Court. Since then, the Dukes action has been amended to address only the Wal-Mart regions that include stores in California, and other regional class cases have been or are soon to be filed. This litigation to resolve the merits of the claims – whether Wal-Mart discriminates against its female retail employees in pay and promotions – continues.

- Rubin v. MF Global, Ltd. (08-CV-02233, S.D.N.Y.). Acting as co-lead counsel in this class action, the Firm represented the Central States, Southeast and Southwest Areas Pension Fund which was one of the co-lead plaintiffs in the case. In September 2010, as a result of Plaintiffs' decision to appeal, the U.S. Second Circuit Court of Appeals vacated in part the lower court's dismissal of the case and remanded the case for further proceedings. In overturning the District Court decision, the Second Circuit issued a decision which differentiated between a forecast or a forward looking statement accompanied by cautionary language -- which the Appellate Court said would be insulated from liability under the bespeaks caution doctrine -- from a factual statement, or non-forward-looking statement, for which liability may exist. Importantly, the Second Circuit accepted Plaintiffs' position that where a statement is mixed, the court can sever the forward-looking aspect of the statement from the non-forward looking aspect. The Court further stated that statements or omissions as to existing operations (and present intentions as to future operations) are not protected by the bespeaks caution doctrine. Mediation followed this decision and resulted in a settlement comprised of $90 million in cash.

- Hughes v. Huron Consulting Group (09-CV-04734, N.D. Ill.). Cohen Milstein represented lead plaintiffs the Public School Teachers' Pension & Retirement Fund of Chicago and the Arkansas Public Employees Retirement System ("APERS") in this case against Huron Consulting Group, founded by former Arthur Anderson personnel following its collapse in the wake of the Enron scandal. In August 2010, the District Court for the Northern District of Illinois denied defendants' motions to dismiss in their entirety and upheld plaintiffs' allegations that defendants intentionally improperly accounted for acquisition-related payments, which allowed plaintiffs to move forward with discovery. The case was settled for $40 million, comprised of $27 million in cash and 474,547 shares in Huron common stock, with an aggregate value at the time of final approval in 2011 of approximately $13 million.

- In re Lucent Technologies Securities Litigation, Civ. Action No. 00-621 (JAP) (D.N.J.). A settlement in this massive securities fraud class action was reached in late March 2003. The class portion of the settlement amounts to over $500 million in cash, stock and warrants and ranks as the second largest securities class action settlement ever completed. Cohen Milstein represented one of the co-lead plaintiffs in this action, a private mutual fund.

- Nate Pease, et al. v. Jasper Wyman & Son, Inc., et al., Civil Action No. 00-015 (Knox County Superior Court, Me.). In 2004, a state court jury from Maine found three blueberry processing companies liable for participating in a four-year price-fixing and non-solicitation conspiracy that artificially lowered the prices defendants paid to approximately 800 growers for wild blueberries. The jury ordered defendants Cherryfield Foods, Inc., Jasper Wyman & Son, Inc., and Allen's Blueberry Freezer, Inc. to pay $18.68 million in damages, the amount which the growers would have been paid absent the defendants' conspiracy. After a mandatory trebling of this damage figure under Maine antitrust law, the total amount of the verdict for the plaintiffs is just over $56 million. The Firm served as co-lead counsel.

- In re StarLink Corn Products, Liability Litigation, MDL No. 1403. (N.D. Ill.). Cohen Milstein successfully represented U.S. corn farmers in a national class action against Aventis CropScience USA Holding and Garst Seed Company, the manufacturer and primary distributor of StarLink corn seeds. StarLink is a genetically modified corn variety that the United States government permitted for sale as animal feed and for industrial purposes, but never approved for human consumption. However, StarLink was found in corn products sold in grocery stores across the country and was traced to widespread contamination of the U.S. commodity corn supply. The Firm, as co-lead counsel, achieved a final settlement providing more than $110 million for U.S. corn farmers, which was approved by a federal district court in April 2003. This settlement was the first successful resolution of tort claims brought by farmers against the manufacturers of genetically modified seeds.

- Snyder v. Nationwide Mutual Insurance Company, No. 97/0633 (Sup. Ct. N.Y. Onondaga Cty.). Cohen Milstein served as one of plaintiffs' principal counsel in this case on behalf of persons who held life insurance policies issued by Nationwide through its captive agency force. The action alleged consumer fraud and misrepresentations. Plaintiffs obtained a settlement valued at more than $85 million. The judge praised the efforts of Cohen Milstein and its co-counsel for having done "a very, very good job for all the people." He complimented "not only the manner" in which the result was arrived at, but also the "time … in which it was done."

- Oncology & Radiation Associates, P.A. v. Bristol Myers Squibb Co., et al., No. 1:01CV02313 (D.D.C.). Cohen Milstein has been co-lead counsel in this case since its inception in 2001. Plaintiffs alleged that Bristol-Myers Squibb unlawfully monopolized the United States market for paclitaxel, a cancer drug discovered and developed by the United States government, which Bristol sells under the brand name Taxol. Bristol's scheme included a conspiracy with American BioScience, Inc., a generic manufacturer, to block generic competition. Cohen Milstein's investigation and prosecution of this litigation on behalf of direct purchasers of Taxol led to a settlement of $65,815,000 that was finally approved by U.S. District Judge Emmet G. Sullivan on August 14, 2003 and preceded numerous Taxol-related litigations brought by the Federal Trade Commission and State Attorneys General offices.

- Kruman v. Christie's International PLC, et al., Docket No. 01-7309. A $40 million settlement on behalf of all persons who bought or sold items through Christie's or Sotheby's auction houses in non-internet actions was approved in this action. Cohen Milstein served as one of three leading counsel on behalf of foreign plaintiffs. The Court noted that approval of the settlement was particularly appropriate, given the significant obstacles that faced plaintiffs and plaintiffs' counsel in the litigation. The settlement marked the first time that claims on behalf of foreign plaintiffs under U.S. antitrust laws have been resolved in a U.S. court, a milestone in U.S. antitrust jurisprudence.

- Roberts v. Texaco, Inc., 94-Civ. 2015 (S.D.N.Y.). Cohen Milstein represented a class of African-American employees in this landmark litigation that resulted in the then-largest race discrimination settlement in history ($176 million in cash, salary increases and equitable relief). The Court hailed the work of class counsel for, inter alia, "framing an imaginative settlement, that may well have important ameliorative impact not only at Texaco but in the corporate context as a whole …".

- Trotter v. Perdue Farms, Inc., Case No. 99-893 (RRM) (JJF) (MPT), D. Del. This suit on behalf of hourly workers at Perdue's chicken processing facilities – which employ approximately 15,000 people – forced Perdue to pay employees for time spent "donning and doffing," that is, obtaining, putting on, sanitizing and removing protective equipment that they must use both for their own safety and to comply with USDA regulations for the safety of the food supply. The suit alleged that Perdue's practice of not counting donning and doffing time as hours worked violated the Fair Labor Standards Act and state law. In a separate settlement with the Department of Labor, Perdue agreed to change its pay practices. In addition, Perdue is required to issue retroactive credit under one of its retirement plans for "donning and doffing" work if the credit would improve employees' or former employees' eligibility for pension benefits. Cohen Milstein was co-lead counsel.

Attorney Profiles – Partners

Steven J. Toll

Steven J. Toll is Managing Partner at Cohen Milstein, a member of the Executive Committee, and Co-Chair of the firm's Securities Fraud & Investor Protection practice group. In this role, Mr. Toll guides the firm's mediation efforts and strategy, and has been lead or principal counsel on some of the most high-profile stock fraud lawsuits in the past 30 years, arguing important matters before the highest courts in the land.

Mr. Toll has built a distinguished career and reputation as a fierce advocate of the rights of shareholders and has guided mediation efforts on the firm's largest and most important matters (both securities fraud and other consumer type cases), a role in which he has earned the trust of mediators, as well as the respect of defense counsel. Mr. Toll has been involved in settling some of the most important mortgage-backed securities (MBS) class-action lawsuits in the aftermath of the financial crisis, including: Countrywide Financial Corp., which settled for $500 million in 2013; Residential Accredited Loans Inc. (RALI), which settled for $335 million in 2014; and the Harborview MBS suit, which settled for $275 million. He also negotiated a $90 million settlement of a suit against MF Global.

Among Mr. Toll's current matters is the Harman class action suit, where Mr. Toll argued and won an important ruling from the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit. The Circuit Court reinstated the suit against electronics maker Harman International Industries; the ruling is significant in that it places limits on the protection allowed by the safe harbor rule for forward-looking statements.

Currently, Mr. Toll is also co-lead counsel in the BP Securities class action securities fraud lawsuit that arose from the devastating Deepwater oil spill in the Gulf of Mexico. The Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals recently affirmed the certification of the class of investors alleged to have been injured by BP's misrepresenting the amount of oil spilling into the Gulf of Mexico, and thus minimizing the extent of the cost and financial impact to BP of the clean up and resulting damages.

Mr. Toll is co-lead counsel in the consumer class action suit against Lumber Liquidators, a lawsuit that alleges the nationwide retailer sold Chinese-made laminate flooring containing hazardous levels of the carcinogen formaldehyde while falsely labeling their products as meeting or exceeding California emissions standards, a story that was profiled twice on 60 Minutes in 2015.

Mr. Toll is also leading Cohen Milstein's efforts in a $400 million derivative shareholder suit brought against the directors and officers of Bank Leumi, an Israeli bank, asserting that bank officers violated their fiduciary duties in conspiring to aid American taxpayers in hiding income from the IRS.

Mr. Toll has provided a great deal of pro bono legal work during a career at Cohen Milstein that spans more than three decades. In addition, he has been an active supporter of Children's Hospital National Medical Center for decades, setting up an endowment in his daughter's name to help the Hospital's leukemia patients and their families (his daughter passed away from leukemia in 1987), plus more recently establishing regular programs for music and laughter for the children during their hospital stays. He and his family also founded Lolly's Locks, a nonprofit organization that provides high-quality wigs to women cancer patients suffering from hair loss as a side effect of chemotherapy. Lolly's Locks was established in memory of Mr. Toll's late wife, Lolly, who passed away in 2012, after a 15-month battle with cancer.

Mr. Toll is a graduate of the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania, earning a B.S. cum laude, and received his J.D. from Georgetown University Law Center, where he was Special Project Editor of The Tax Lawyer. His name has appeared regularly on Law360's annual lists of MVP's, Leading Attorneys, and Most Admired Attorneys.

Joseph M. Sellers

Joseph M. Sellers is a Partner at Cohen Milstein, Chair of the firm's Executive Committee and Chair of the Civil Rights & Employment Practice Group, a practice he founded. be driven; and Trotter, et al. v. Perdue Farms (D. Del.), lead counsel on behalf of chicken processing workers alleging violations of federal wage and hour and employee benefits law.

Prior to joining Cohen Milstein, Mr. Sellers served for over 15 years as the Director of the Employment Discrimination Project of the Washington Lawyers' Committee for Civil Rights and Urban Affairs, an organization providing pro bono representation in a broad range of civil rights and related poverty issues. He was a member of the transition teams of Obama/Biden in 2008 and Clinton/Gore in 1992 and 1993, and served as a Co-Chair of the Special Committee on Race and Ethnicity of the D.C. Circuit Task Force on Gender, Race and Ethnic Bias to which he was appointed by the judges of the D.C. Circuit Court of Appeals and the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia.

Throughout his career, Mr. Sellers has also been active in legislative matters. Andrew N. Friedman

Andrew N. Friedman is a Partner at Cohen Milstein, and is Co-Chair of the firm's Consumer Protection practice group. Practicing in the class action field since 1985, Mr. Friedman specializes in litigating complex, multi-state class action lawsuits against manufacturers and consumer service providers such as banks, insurers, credit card companies and others. He is widely recognized as a leader in enforcing consumer rights and known as a hands-on lawyer who is ready to take litigation all the way through trial.

Over the years, Mr. Friedman has been lead or co-lead counsel in numerous important cases, bringing relief to millions of consumers and recovering hundreds of millions of dollars in class actions. He was one of the principal counsel in cases against Nationwide and Country Life, which asserted sales marketing abuses in the marketing of so-called "vanishing premium policies," where insurance agents sold insurance policies to unsuspecting consumers promising that after a relatively short time the dividends generated from the policy would be so high as to be able to fully pay the premiums. In fact, the calculations of the policies were based on unrealistic interest rate projections and, therefore, the premiums never "vanished." The Nationwide case resulted in a settlement valued at between $85 million and $103 million, while a settlement with Country Life made $44 million in benefits available to policyholders.

Mr. Friedman was co-lead counsel in Keithly v. Intelius, Inc. (W.D. Wash.), where he negotiated two nationwide settlements with Intelius, Inc., relating to negative option programs and improper post-transaction marketing. The combined settlements made $12 million in cash and a total of $3.5 million in vouchers available to the Class.

Mr. Friedman has also litigated important consumer product lawsuits, including one against Thomson Consumer Electronics, which resulted in a settlement that made up to $100 million available for persons who paid for unreimbursed repairs to defective televisions. In addition, Mr. Friedman was one of the principal counsel in the Dex-Cool Litigation, a nationwide lawsuit alleging that General Motors sold millions of cars with defective coolant that gummed up and caused corrosion to engines. GM settled ahead of trial, offering relief of cash payments of up to $800 per repair.

More recently, Mr. Friedman litigated a lawsuit against Symantec, Corp., and Digital River, Inc., a four-year long nationwide class action battle regarding the marketing of a re-download service in conjunction with the sale of Norton software. The case settled in a $60 million all-cash deal one month before the case was about to go to trial – one of the most significant consumer settlements in years.

Prior to his current role as Co-Chair and member of the Consumer Protection group, Mr. Friedman was a member of the Securities Litigation & Investor Protection practice, litigating many important matters, including the Globalstar Securities Litigation in which he served as one of the lead trial counsel. The case settled for $20 million during the second week of the trial. In addition, Mr. Friedman served as one of co-lead or principal counsel in Norman Frank et al. v. David L. Paul (a recovery of over $18 million); In re Jiffy Lube Securities Litigation (D. Md.) (a recovery of over $12 million); and In re Immunex Securities Litigation (W.D. Wash.) (a recovery of $14 million).

Currently, Mr. Friedman is litigating such notable matters as:

- Anthem Data Breach Litigation: Mr. Friedman is co-lead counsel in a high-profile class action lawsuit against Anthem Inc. over its massive data breach that compromised the personal identification (including social security numbers, date of birth, medical ID number, etc.) and health information of 80 million insured customers. The lawsuit alleges Anthem, the second-largest insurance company in the nation, failed to ensure its data systems were protected, failed to prevent and stop the breach from happening and failed to disclose to its customers material facts regarding the breach. Mr. Friedman is involved in all aspects of the litigation.

- Sallie Mae Litigation: Cohen Milstein is co-lead counsel in a series of cases alleging that Sallie Mae charged usurious interest rates and improper late fees to California students. Mr. Friedman is overseeing all aspects of the litigation.

- Home Depot Data Breach Litigation: Mr. Friedman is a member of the Plaintiffs' Steering Committee representing financial institutions and heads the expert committee in a class action lawsuit arising out of the Home Depot data breach, a cyber attack that affected hundreds of financial institutions and more than 40 million consumers.

Mr. Friedman is a noted speaker who has appeared on numerous panels for legal education seminars and institutional investor conferences on the issues of consumer and securities class actions. In 2011, LawDragon named him one of the Leading Plaintiffs' Lawyers. His work has been cited in the media and he was profiled in the April 14, 2000, Washington Business Journal.

Prior to joining Cohen Milstein, Mr. Friedman served as an attorney with the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office.

Mr. Friedman attended Tufts University, graduating magna cum laude and was elected Phi Beta Kappa, with a B.A. in Psychology. He earned his J.D. from the National Law Center, George Washington University.

Daniel S. Sommers

Daniel S. Sommers is a Partner at Cohen Milstein, a member of the firm's Executive Committee and Co-Chair of the Securities Litigation & Investor Protection practice group. During his nearly three decade career at Cohen Milstein, Mr. Sommers has taken leadership roles in litigating large, complex and significant securities cases. He provides litigation counsel to the firm's institutional investor clients, including for example, the New York State Common Retirement Fund, the Ohio Public Employees Retirement System, the State Teachers Retirement System of Ohio, the Arkansas Public Employees Retirement System and numerous Taft-Hartley pension funds. Many of his cases have resulted in important rulings and legal precedents, as well as in significant recoveries for investors totaling hundreds of millions of dollars. Some of his notable matters include:

- Bear Stearns Mortgage Pass Through Securities Litigation: Co-lead counsel in a $505 million landmark settlement (including a $5 million expense fund) of a securities class action suit alleging that Bear Stearns violated securities laws in the sale of mortgage backed securities to investors. This case represents the largest recovery ever obtained in a securities class action on behalf of investors in mortgage-backed securities.
- Converium/Scor Securities Litigation (Netherlands): Co-lead counsel in a groundbreaking $58.4 million securities class action recovery, in which the Amsterdam Court of Appeal declared binding a world-wide class action settlement of claims of non-U.S. investors who purchased Converium shares outside of the United States. The ruling was a major victory for worldwide investors because it successfully implemented the Dutch Collective Settlement Statute even though the underlying transactions had limited contact with the Netherlands.
- Fannie Mae Securities Litigation: Played a significant role in a high profile securities class action against Fannie Mae, several of its former executives and KPMG involving allegations of falsified financial statements. The $153 million settlement amount represents the largest recovery in a securities fraud class action ever obtained in the United States District Court for the District of Columbia.
- CP Ships Ltd. Securities Litigation: Co-lead counsel in a class action lawsuit alleging that CP Ships, a Canadian company headquartered in England but with substantial operations in Tampa, Florida, issued false financial statements. Mr. Sommers argued an appeal in the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit, successfully opposing objections to a settlement that provided non-U.S. investors with the protections of the federal securities laws.

Mr. Sommers has obtained significant recoveries for investors in numerous other securities class action cases in federal courts throughout the United States including: Steiner v. Southmark Corporation (N.D. Tex.) (over $70 million recovery); In re PictureTel Inc. Securities Litigation (D. Mass.) ($12 million recovery); In re Physician

Corporation of America Securities Litigation (S.D. Fla.) ($10.2 million recovery); In re Gilat Satellite Securities Litigation (E.D.N.Y.) ($20 million recovery); In re Pozen Inc. Securities Litigation (M.D.N.C.) ($11.2 million recovery); In re Nextel Communications Securities Litigation (D.N.J.) (up to $27 million recovery); In re PSINet Inc. Securities Litigation (E.D. Va.) ($17.8 million recovery); In re Cascade International Inc. Securities Litigation, (S.D. Fla.) (global recovery of approximately $10 million); In re GT Solar Securities Litigation (D.N.H.) Orthofix, N.V.* (S.D.N.Y) (recovery of $11 million) and In re ECI Telecom Securities Ltd. Litigation (E.D. Va.) ($21.75 million recovery). He has also handled significant appellate matters including arguing before the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit in Hemmer Group v. Southwest Water Company, where he obtained a reversal of the district court's order dismissing investors' claims under the Securities Act of 1933. In addition, he was co-lead counsel for investors before the United States Supreme Court in Broudo v. Dura Pharmaceuticals, Inc., 544 U.S. 336 (2005) (addressing the standards for pleading loss causation).

Mr. Sommers is also experienced in non-class action litigation. He represented TBG Inc., a multi-billion dollar privately-held overseas corporation, in a multi-party, complex action alleging fraud in a corporate acquisition and represented individuals in connection with investigations brought by the United States Securities and Exchange Commission. He also has represented publicly traded corporations in the prosecution and defense of claims. Mr. Sommers has litigated cases covering a wide-range of industries including the financial services, computer software, pharmaceutical, insurance, real estate and telecommunications industries among others. In addition, he has substantial experience in cases presenting complex accounting and auditing issues.

Mr. Sommers is recognized as a thought leader on the subjects of securities and class action litigation and is a frequent speaker on those topics both to other lawyers and institutional investors. He has been quoted on these topics in a variety of publications, such as The Wall Street Journal, The Washington Post, BNA/Bloomberg, and Law360. Mr. Sommers is a member of the advisory board of the Bloomberg/BNA Securities Litigation & Law Report and served on Law360's Securities Editorial Advisory Board. Benchmark Plaintiff has recognized him as a litigation star in multiple years. Mr. Sommers attended Union College, where he earned a B.A. magna cum laude in Political Science, and graduated from George Washington University Law School.

Daniel A. Small

Daniel A. Small has been a Partner at Cohen Milstein for more than 20 years and chaired or co-chaired the firm's Antitrust practice group from 2008 to 2014. He is a member of the firm's Executive Committee.

When he arrived at Cohen Milstein 26 years ago, Mr. Small was assigned to work on securities fraud cases. One year later, he received an assignment in an antitrust case and has worked virtually full time on antitrust cases ever since. He has represented plaintiff classes as lead or co-lead counsel numerous times and has tried cases before juries and has argued cases in several appellate courts, including the United States Supreme Court. He also has defended unions against antitrust claims and represented a key duplication machine manufacturer on its monopolization claims against the dominant competitor.

Mr. Small has obtained favorable settlements and judgments totaling hundreds of millions of dollars and has been involved with a broad array of markets, everything from computer software and hardware to wild blueberries and hospital nurses. He has developed a sophisticated understanding of how conspiracies and monopolies operate in a range of complex markets. He has spent years studying the economic issues that underpin his cases, and the challenges of using antitrust litigation to achieve just compensation for victims, and to encourage and facilitate freer and more open markets in this country.

His work in complex civil litigation has made him one of the most respected and feared litigants in the class action antitrust space: The Legal 500 has recognized Mr. Small and Cohen Milstein as a "Leading Plaintiffs Antitrust Class Action Lawyer/Firm" annually since 2009; Benchmark Plaintiff has repeatedly awarded him "National Litigation Star – Antitrust"; and in 2014, he was named a "Leading Competition Lawyer" by the International Who's Who of Competition Lawyers & Economists.

Currently, Mr. Small is litigating the following notable matters, among others:

- VFX/Animation Workers Litigation: Cohen Milstein is one of three court-appointed co-lead firms in litigation alleging that the major animation studios conspired to suppress the pay of special effects and animation workers. The litigation has survived a motion to dismiss and the plaintiffs recently filed a motion for class certification.
- Prime Healthcare Services Litigation: Cohen Milstein is defending the Service Employees International Union (SEIU) in an antitrust conspiracy action brought by Prime Healthcare Services, a hospital chain in Southern California, alleging that SEIU conspired with Kaiser Permanente to drive Prime and certain other hospitals out of the market. Cohen Milstein led the successful effort to have the complaint and amended complaint dismissed in the Southern District of California. The case is on appeal in the Ninth Circuit where Mr. Small recently argued on behalf of the SEIU and its local union, UHW.
- Google Wi-Fi Litigation: Cohen Milstein is co-lead counsel in a nationwide class action lawsuit alleging Google violated the Wiretap Act when its Street View vehicles collected payload data from unencrypted Wi-Fi networks, including the home networks of individuals. The litigation survived a motion to dismiss, which was affirmed on an interlocutory appeal to the Ninth Circuit. Currently, the firm is in the midst of jurisdictional discovery.
- Michigan Blue Cross Litigation: Cohen Milstein is co-lead counsel in this class action challenging Michigan Blue Cross's use of most favored nation provisions in its provider agreements with hospitals in Michigan. The class plaintiffs secured a $30 million settlement, which was approved by the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan. Mr. Small defended the settlement on appeal, arguing recently before the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals.

Christine E. Webber

Christine E. Webber is a Partner at Cohen Milstein, and a member of the Civil Rights & Employment practice group. In that role, Ms. Webber represents victims of discrimination and other illegal employment practices in class and collective actions. She has participated during her career in litigating groundbreaking sex discrimination lawsuits. Ms. Webber is a hands-on litigator, known for her ability to work closely with economic and statistical expert witnesses and to identify the types of sophisticated statistical analyses that will be most helpful to her clients' claims.

Ms. Webber is a tenacious and resourceful litigator with a fierce commitment to fighting discrimination and protecting workers. In the face of adversity she continues to find new ways to protect her clients' rights. Following the Supreme Court's ruling decertifying the class in Dukes v. Wal-Mart—a case brought on behalf of a nationwide class of women suing Wal-Mart for sex discrimination in pay and promotion—Ms. Webber has been counsel in several regional class cases pursuing these claims for former Dukes class members. Ms. Webber was co-lead counsel in*Rindfleisch v. Gentiva Health Services* (N.D. Ga.) in which nurses and other home health care providers were held to be non-exempt because they were not paid on a bona fide salaried or fee basis. Following this successful summary judgment ruling, the case was decertified, and Ms. Webber continues to represent individuals seeking their unpaid overtime. In Tomkins v. Amedisys, Inc., a lawsuit challenging similar practices as the Gentiva litigation, Ms. Webber represented approximately 2,000 nurses, physical therapists and occupational therapists pursuing wage and hour claims against Amedisys; the case settled recently for $8 million.

Ms. Webber's past successes include In re Tyson Foods FLSA MDL (M.D. Ga.), a collective action involving Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) claims at over 40 Tyson chicken processing plants, which ultimately resolved the claims of 17,000 chicken processing workers who had been denied compensation for donning and doffing required safety and sanitary equipment. In Hnot v. Willis Group Insurance (S.D.N.Y.), Ms. Webber represented a class of women vice presidents in Willis' Northeast region, who complained of discrimination with respect to their salary and bonuses. This "glass ceiling" case settled in 2007 for $8.5 million plus attorneys' fees, an average payment of $50,000 per woman. A subsequent case, Cronas v. Willis Group, pursued similar claims for a later time period with similar success. Ms. Webber was also counsel to the plaintiff class in Keepseagle v. Vilsack, a historic settlement between Native American farmers and the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA). The Keepseagle settlement agreement required the USDA to pay $680 million in damages to thousands of Native Americans, to forgive up to $80 million in outstanding farm loan debt and to improve the farm loan services the USDA provides to Native Americans. Ms. Webber was part of the team recognized by Public Justice as finalists for their Trial Lawyer of the Year award in 2011 for the work done in Keepseagle.

Prior to joining Cohen Milstein in 1997, Ms. Webber received a Women's Law and Public Policy fellowship which funded the first of her four years at the Washington Lawyers' Committee for Civil Rights and Urban Affairs in their Equal Employment Opportunity Project. There, she worked on employment discrimination cases, focusing in particular on the sexual harassment class action Neal v. Director, D.C. Department of Corrections, et al. Ms. Webber participated in the trial of this groundbreaking sexual harassment class action in 1995. Ms. Webber also tried the race discrimination case Cooper v. Paychex (E.D. Va.), and successfully defended the plaintiffs' verdict before the Fourth Circuit.

Ms. Webber is co-chair of the National Employment Lawyers' Association's Class Action Committee, a position she has held since 1999. She speaks and writes frequently on employment discrimination, wage and hour issues, and class actions.

Ms. Webber attended Harvard University, graduating magna cum laude, with an A.B. in Government, and earned her J.D., magna cum laude, Order of the Coif, at the University of Michigan Law School. Following law school, she clerked for the Honorable Hubert L. Will, United States District Judge for the Northern District of Illinois.

Richard A. Koffman

Richard A. Koffman is a Partner at Cohen Milstein and Co-Chair of the Antitrust practice group. He litigates antitrust cases on behalf of the victims of corporations engaged in price-fixing, market monopolization, and other unlawful conduct. Mr. Koffman joined Cohen Milstein after serving as Senior Trial Attorney in the U.S. Department of Justice's Antitrust and Civil Rights Divisions. He views his role in litigating antitrust suits as an extension of the public interest work he pursued at the DOJ in promoting competition and fighting discrimination.

Mr. Koffman has served as lead or co-lead counsel in many landmark antitrust class actions, including:

- Urethanes (Polyether Polyols) Antitrust Litigation: Co-lead counsel for plaintiffs in an antitrust class action alleging a conspiracy to fix the prices of chemicals used to make polyurethane foam. Four defendants settled pre-trial for a total of $139 million. After a four-week trial, the jury returned a $400 million verdict for plaintiffs against the final defendant, The Dow Chemical Co., which the district court trebled to more than $1 billion. Dow ultimately settled for $835 million while the case was on appeal, bringing the total recovery to $974 million – nearly 250% of the damages found by the jury.
- Plasma-Derivative Protein Therapies Antitrust Litigation: Co-lead counsel for plaintiffs alleging a conspiracy to reduce the supply and increase prices of IVIG and Albumin – life-saving therapies derived from blood plasma. Mr. Koffman and his team obtained settlements totaling $128 million to compensate customers who were overcharged for these vital therapies.

Current cases include:

- Dental Supplies Antitrust Litigation: Cohen Milstein was recently appointed interim co-lead counsel for a proposed class of dental practices and dental laboratories. The case alleges that Defendants Henry Schein, Inc., Patterson Companies, Inc., and Benco Dental Supply Company – the three largest dental supply and dental equipment distributors in the United States – fixed price margins on dental equipment, jointly pressured manufacturers to squeeze out competitors, and agreed not to "poach" each other's employees, in violation of federal antitrust law. As a result of the alleged conspiracy, dental practices and dental laboratories may have paid artificially inflated prices for many kinds of dental supplies and dental equipment, from consumables like gauze and cement to big-ticket equipment like chairs and x-rays.

- Sports Broadcasting Antitrust Litigation: Counsel for plaintiffs in class actions alleging that the system of geographical broadcasting territories employed by Major League Baseball and the National Hockey League amount to unlawful market allocation under Section 1 of the Sherman Act.
- Mixed Martial Arts (MMA) Antitrust Litigation: Co-lead counsel in a class action on behalf of elite MMA fighters alleging that Zuffa LLC – commonly known as the Ultimate Fighting Championship – has unlawfully monopolized the markets for promoting live professional MMA bouts and for purchasing the services of elite professional MMA fighters. The district court denied defendant's motion to dismiss the case in September 2015.
- People of the State of California v. American Express: Counsel for the City of San Francisco in litigation alleging that American Express, by prohibiting its participating merchants from encouraging consumers' use of less costly payment methods (including debit cards and cash), is responsible for unlawful overcharges borne by retailers and, indirectly, all California consumers.

The Legal 500 has recognized Mr. Koffman as a Leading Lawyer for "Litigation - Mass Tort and Class Action: Plaintiff Representation - Antitrust" for five years in a row, describing him as a "strong brief writer and an excellent oral advocate." Ms. Fryszman investigated and initiated suit against military contractor KBR, filing one of the first complaints under the Trafficking Victims Protection Act. She has also represented men and women who were trafficked by diplomats, in the fishing industry, and to work cleaning houses in Northern Virginia. In one recent case, after Ms. Fryszman obtained a full recovery for her client in a civil suit, the Department of Justice brought criminal charges, resulting in guilty pleas by the perpetrators. Her work on behalf of the former "comfort women," women and girls trafficked into sexual slavery by the government of Japan during World War II, was recognized with the "Fierce Sister" award from the National Asian Pacific American Women's Forum.

Ms. Reiser has taken the lead in all aspects of this litigation: case development, motion practice, oversight and implementation of discovery strategies, depositions, expert discovery and argument. After successfully arguing for class certification to the district court, Ms. Reiser presented plaintiffs' defense of that court's decision to the Fifth Circuit U.S. Court of Appeals, which affirmed the class. Trial in this matter is set for July 2016.

At the final hearing, Judge Katherine B. Forrest commended the investors' legal team: "This is a very, very good result for the plaintiffs … [and] is something of which plaintiff counsel can be proud."

In re SCOR Holding (Switzerland) Securities Litigation: Ms. Reiser served as co-lead counsel in this landmark ruling, which was the first trans-Atlantic resolution of a U.S. securities class action in a Dutch court. In re Parmalat Securities Litigation: Ms. Reiser acted as co-lead counsel representing investors in the largest fraud in European corporate history. Ms. Reiser secured a $90 million settlement.

Toyota Motor Corporation:* Mr. Leopold was lead counsel in a product liability case filed against Toyota Motor, alleging that manufacturing defects in the defendant's car caused the car being driven by the plaintiff Quinlan to suddenly accelerate and go out of control, resulting in catastrophic injuries that left him a quadriplegic. The defendant entered into a settlement, which is confidential.
- Chipps v. Humana: Mr. Leopold tried one of the first managed care cases in the country. The case involved the wrongful denial of physical and occupational therapy for a 6 year old child with cerebral palsy. The jury returned the largest punitive damage award on behalf of an individual in Florida history.
- Salvato v. Marion County Sherriff: Mr. Leopold represented the Salvato family in the wrongful death case of Joshua Salvato, an unarmed 21-year-old, who was shot and killed by two Marion County Sherriff's deputies in 2014. defendants). Settlements for $45 million were also reached with two other defendants. The case is ongoing.

- Ductile Iron Pipe Fittings Litigation: Cohen Milstein, as co-lead counsel, represents a putative class of direct purchaser plaintiffs in a price-fixing case against the three largest manufacturers of ductile iron pipe fittings—McWane Inc., Sigma Corporation and Star Pipe Products—and a monopolization case against McWane for excluding significant competition in the domestic ductile iron pipe fittings market. Settlements of $9 million have been reached with two of the defendants, Sigma and Star. Currently, Mr. Pierson is directing the team of attorneys that is now taking and completing fact depositions. The litigation is ongoing.
- Cast Iron Soil Pipe & Fittings Litigation: Cohen Milstein, as co-lead counsel, represents a putative class of direct purchaser plaintiffs against the two largest soil pipe and fittings manufacturers in the country (McWane Inc. and Charlotte Pipe & Foundry) and the trade association they control (Cast Iron Soil Pipe Institute) in a lawsuit alleging that the defendants engaged in a nationwide price-fixing conspiracy and other anticompetitive actions. Mr. Pierson is directing the litigation team, which is currently concluding fact discovery. The litigation is ongoing.

Mr. Pierson's successes include:

- Urethanes (Polyether Polyols) Antitrust Litigation: Cohen Milstein is co-lead counsel for direct purchaser plaintiffs in an antitrust class action alleging a nationwide conspiracy to fix the prices of chemicals used to make polyurethane foam. Four defendants—Bayer, BASF, Huntsman and Lyondell—settled for a total of $139.5 million, while the case against the fifth manufacturer, Dow Chemical, went to trial. After a four-week jury trial, in which Mr. Pierson was one of the trial lawyers for the class, the jury returned a $400 million verdict for the plaintiffs, which is trebled under federal antitrust law to more than $1 billion, the largest verdict in the country in 2013, as reported by the National Law Journal. The U.S. Court of Appeals for the Tenth Circuit affirmed the judgment, and the case against Dow Chemical was settled for $835 while the matter was pending before the United States Supreme Court (resulting in a total recovery of $974.5 million in the case).
- Community Health Care System Litigation: Cohen Milstein is co-counsel representing an emergency room doctor and nurse in a whistleblower lawsuit alleging Community Health Care System defrauded the federal government in connection with health care bills. Cohen Milstein was co-counsel representing an emergency room doctor and nurse who brought claims against CHC under the False Claims Act. Mr. Pierson led Cohen Milstein's team in the case, which was brought under the False Claims Act. The case was resolved for $94 million.
- Electronic Books Antitrust Litigation: Cohen Milstein is co-lead counsel in a class action lawsuit alleging that Apple and five of the leading U.S. publishers conspired to raise the retail prices of e-books. Mr. Pierson led the Cohen Milstein team, which secured class certification, defeated motions to exclude the class expert, and successfully moved for exclusion of most of Apple's expert testimony. The five publishing defendants settled for $166 million and a settlement was reached with Apple shortly before trial for an additional $450 million.
- Guantanamo Litigation: Mr. Pierson represented Alla Ali Bin Ali Ahmed, a young man who had been arrested with many others while residing in a house in Pakistan and was then incarcerated in Guantanamo without a judicial hearing for more than seven years. After filing a habeas corpus petition, Mr. Pierson represented Mr. Ahmed at a multi-day evidentiary hearing before a United States District Court judge. At the conclusion of the hearing, the District Court ruled that the evidentiary record did not support Mr. Ahmed's detention and ordered that he be released from Guantanamo and returned to his home country.

Mr. Pierson was named one of the 500 leading lawyers in the United States in 2013 and 2014 by LawDragon 500 and was one of six lawyers selected by Law360 in 2014 as an MVP in the field of competition law. A champion for civil rights, he is a member of the Board of Trustees for the Lawyers' Committee for Civil Rights Under the Law, a national organization, and a Member of the ACLU of Maryland's Committee on Litigation and Legal Priorities.Mr. Pierson attended Macalester College, earning a B.A., magna cum laude, in Economics and Political Science, and graduated from the University of Michigan Law School, magna cum laude, where he was a Note Editor of the Michigan Law Review and a member of the Order of the Coif. Edwards, United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit, from 1983-1984 and as a law clerk for the Honorable Chief Judge John Feikens, United States District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan, from 1984-1985.

J. Douglas Richards

J. Douglas Richards is a Partner in the Antitrust practice group, having joined the firm in 2009. Mr. Richards has had a long, extensive and eclectic career, litigating on behalf of defendants for 16 years, serving as a government regulator at the Commodity Futures Trading Commission ("CFTC") and representing plaintiffs for the past 16 years. As a result, he brings a global understanding of antitrust litigation.

Mr. Richards' extensive experience litigating both Commodity Exchange Act and Sherman Act claims and his expertise in the antitrust class action field is widely recognized. He was named one of twenty-two antitrust "Litigation Stars" nationally, as one of the world's leading competition lawyers by The International Who's Who of Competition Lawyers and Economists (2014), and has received the highest available peer ranking for many years from Martindale-Hubbell. Mr. Richards has been appointed co-lead counsel in numerous large antitrust class actions in the Southern District of New York (SDNY) and nationally. Mr. Richards has argued dozens of appeals, among them a number of antitrust matters that have helped shape the landscape of antitrust law, including Bell Atlantic v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544 (2007) before both the Second Circuit and the United States Supreme Court, and Second Circuit cases like In re Tamoxifen Citrate Antitrust Litig., 429 F.3d 370 (2d Cir. 2005), cert. denied, 127 S.Ct. 3001 (2007), and Kruman v. Christie's Int'l PLC, 284 F.3d 384 (2d Cir. 2002).

Mr. Richards possesses extensive experience in the Commodity Exchange Act field, having served as Deputy General Counsel of the Commodity Futures Trading Commission ("CFTC") from 1997 to 2000. During that time, Mr. Richards assumed responsibility for all litigation by and against the CFTC (including personally arguing numerous appeals on behalf of the CFTC), and for two of those years simultaneously managed the CFTC's adjudicatory functions. In 1999, the Commission awarded Mr. Richards a Special Service Award for performing those two roles at the same time and successfully eliminating a long-standing backlog of Commission adjudicatory matters.

Mr. Richards is a leading lawyer nationwide in pharmaceutical antitrust litigation, a specialization that requires a deep understanding of the drug industry, patent law, FDA regulation and trade regulation. Starting in 2000 with the Cipro litigation, Mr. Richards was co-lead counsel on several antitrust lawsuits challenging the pharmaceutical industry's practice known as pay-for-delay, or reverse payments. Many of those cases hit a roadblock in the courts, when the courts adopted a scope of patent rule. Following the Supreme Court's decision in Actavis in 2012, the Supreme Court overruled the legal standards that had been adopted in the lower courts of appeals and opened the door for further litigation. In the wake of Actavis, Mr. Richards leads a team of litigators that have filed new pay-for-delay reverse payments cases.

Mr. Richards graduated with honors from the University of Chicago, majoring in Economics, and earned his J.D. from Harvard Law School. Prior to joining Cohen Milstein, Mr. Richards served as head of the antitrust class action group at two major plaintiffs firms and, before that and his government service at the CFTC, Mr. Richards served as a litigation partner in a boutique law firm. He is a noted speaker at professional conferences, discussing the trends in commodities and pharmaceuticals antitrust law. He has written extensively about antitrust laws, including chapters for books edited by the American Antitrust Institute covering issues of class action practice, law reviews, and other scholarly publications.

Karen L. Handorf

Karen L. Handorf is a Partner at Cohen Milstein, and chair of the Firm's Employee Benefits (ERISA) Practice Group. She joined the Firm in 2007, following a distinguished career in government service, litigating ERISA cases in federal appellate and district courts. In her role as head of the Employee Benefits Practice, Ms. Handorf represents the interests of employees, retirees, plan participants and beneficiaries in ERISA cases in the district courts and on appeal.

Ms. Handorf is involved in litigation and appeals involving a broad range of employee benefits issues including church plans. In Kaplan v. St. Peter's Healthcare System, she represents a class of 2,800 participants in an alleged church plan, a case in which the Court of Appeals upheld the rights of St. Peter's pension fund participants to a fully funded pension plan. In addition, she currently leads a team of litigators in a series of church plan lawsuits alleging that health care systems wrongfully claim their benefit plans are exempt from ERISA's protection. Ms. Handorf is overseeing and developing these cases.

Prior to joining Cohen Milstein, Ms. Handorf was an attorney for the U.S. Department of Labor (DOL), where she litigated ERISA cases in federal appellate and district courts for 25 years. While at the DOL, she played a major role in formulating the Government's position on ERISA issues expressed in amicus briefs filed by the Solicitor General in the United States Supreme Court.

She began her ERISA career as a trial attorney in the Plan Benefits Security Division (PBSD), where she litigated actions brought by the Secretary of Labor for violations of the fiduciary standards of ERISA and handled appellate matters. In 1989, she was appointed Counsel for Decentralized and Special Litigation responsible for supervising the DOL's ERISA appellate litigation, district court litigation brought by regional offices of the Solicitor of Labor and administrative litigation involving the civil penalty provisions of ERISA. At the DOL, Ms. Handorf established and supervised PBSD's amicus brief writing program, which addressed a wide range of novel and difficult ERISA issues in both state and federal court. In 2001, she was appointed Deputy Associate Solicitor of PBSD. As the Deputy Associate Solicitor, she was responsible for overseeing litigation brought by the Secretary of Labor and legal advice provided to the Employee Benefit Security Administration, which administers Title I of ERISA. In 2005, she returned to her position as supervisor of the ERISA appellate and amicus brief writing program, serving as Counsel for Appellate and Special Litigation.

Currently, Ms. Handorf is litigating a series of church plan cases, including:

- Saint Peter's Healthcare System Church Plan Litigation: Cohen Milstein is co-lead counsel in Kaplan v. St. Peter's Healthcare System alleging that the defendants wrongfully claim their pension plan is exempt from ERISA protection. Ms. Handorf argued the case before the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit, which unanimously ruled that St, Peter's pension plan does not qualify as a "church plan." The Third Circuit further noted that as of 2012, religiously affiliated hospitals accounted for seven of the nation's 10 largest nonprofit healthcare systems and that to construe the church plan exemption to apply to such hospitals would defeat the purpose of ERISA. The ruling is likely to set the tone for other church plan litigation.

Her past successes include:

- Goodyear Litigation: Ms. Handorf represented a class of 30,000 Goodyear union retirees in Redington v. Goodyear (N.D. Ohio), in which Cohen Milstein obtained approval of a class action settlement between the retirees, Goodyear and the United Steel Workers, resulting in the establishment of a $1 billion trust through which retiree health care benefits will be provided in the future.

Ms. Handorf is a recipient of the Department of Labor Distinguished Career Service Award, and received Exceptional Achievement Awards for her work on ERISA 401(k) plan remedies, the amicus brief in the Enron litigation, retiree health care, the amicus program in general, the appellate brief in the Department's Tower litigation, termination annuities litigation and multiple employer welfare arrangement (MEWAs) litigation.

Ms. Handorf has been recognized for her expertise by her colleagues in the ERISA bar, who named her a Fellow of the American College of Employee Benefits Counsel. She is a frequent speaker on ERISA issues for the ABA, various bar associations and private seminars, and serves as plaintiffs' co-chair of preemption subcommittee of the Employee Benefits Committee of the ABA's Labor Section. In 2016, she was named to the Best Lawyers in America.

Ms. Handorf attended the University of Wisconsin-River Falls, where she received a B.S. in Speech and History, and earned her law degree from the University of Wisconsin Law School.

Martha Geer

Judge Martha Geer is a Partner at Cohen Milstein and will be head of the firm's new Raleigh, North Carolina office. She joined the firm in May 2016 after a distinguished career on the North Carolina Court of Appeals. Judge Geer's background – almost two decades as a respected litigator and appellate advocate handling complex civil litigation followed by more than 13 years as a rarely-reversed appellate judge – is a composite of experience few attorneys have. Her combined litigation and judicial experience gives her a unique perspective and insight that will benefit her clients at the trial level and on appeal. In returning to private practice, Judge Geer will practice across all of the firm's areas of expertise, working at both the trial and the appellate levels.

Judge Geer was first elected to the North Carolina Court of Appeals in 2002, receiving more than a million votes statewide. In 2010, because of her reputation as a fair and impartial judge, she garnered bipartisan support that resulted in her winning re-election by a 20-point margin. During her tenure on the Court, Judge Geer has heard more than 3,800 appeals, authored more than 1,350 opinions, and had her opinions reversed less than 2% of the time. As one of the most experienced Court of Appeals judges, Judge Geer has been responsible for hearing and deciding appeals on a wide variety of issues involving almost every area of law. She also served on the Court's Executive Committee, which works with the Chief Judge in administration of the Court. During her service on the Court, she was named Outstanding Appellate Judge by the North Carolina Advocates for Justice.

Judge Geer's time on the bench has enhanced her ability to understand what judges – trial and appellate – need and want to know in order for clients to prevail at both the trial and appellate levels. Because of the similarity of intermediate appellate courts across jurisdictions, her experience and knowledge gained in North Carolina is valuable in litigation and appeals pending in all jurisdictions including the federal courts, making her a unique resource for clients. In addition, Judge Geer's reputation as an intelligent, practical, fair, and unbiased judge increases her credibility when arguing before other judges whether at the trial level or on appeal.

Illustrating the diversity of practice areas involved in her opinions, in Boyd v. Robeson County, Judge Geer wrote an opinion holding in a case of first impression for North Carolina that the office of a county sheriff is a "person" that may be sued under 42 U.S.C. § 1983, allowing an inmate to sue for violation of her Eighth Amendment rights when a jail failed to provide medical treatment after her appendix burst. In another opinion authored by Judge Geer, Diggs v. Novant Health Inc., the Court held, again in a case of first impression, that a hospital could be liable under an apparent agency theory for the negligence of independent contractor anesthesiologists. In Mason v. Dwinnell, Judge Geer's opinion held that a trial court had authority, under the federal constitution, to award custody of a child, including visitation, to a same-sex domestic partner who was not a legal parent of the child. Judge Geer's opinion in Blinson v. State upheld the constitutionality, under the federal and state constitutions, of economic tax incentives granted to corporations in order to bring jobs to the State.

Prior to going on the bench, Judge Geer was a partner with two leading North Carolina plaintiffs' firms and was one of the founders of the second firm. She was a highly respected trial and appellate litigator known for obtaining cutting-edge and precedent-setting victories in a diverse set of practice areas, including among others, securities litigation, labor and employment law, ERISA, antitrust and trade regulation, commercial litigation, consumer protection, and constitutional and civil rights litigation (including suits against the State, sheriffs, counties, and municipalities). She was selected for inclusion in Best Lawyers in America, and recognized by the journal Business North Carolina as one of North Carolina's "Legal Elite" – a list of the top 200 lawyers in the State.

Judge Geer began her legal career with Paul Weiss Rifkind Wharton & Garrison where she was taught that a bright, hardworking lawyer, willing to learn, can handle any type of litigation – a philosophy that led to her eclectic practice upon leaving Paul Weiss. While at Paul Weiss, she had the privilege of working with nationally-respected litigators, including legal icons such as Arthur Liman, on high profile cases including the litigation arising out of the attempt to corner the silver market in 1979-1980. She also gained experience defending shareholder derivative and corporate takeover litigation. Judge Geer did substantial pro bono work, including being part of a team that obtained a stay of execution on behalf of a mentally retarded man on death row who was subsequently shown to be innocent by DNA testing, once such testing finally became available. That work led to her being one of the recipients of the 2004 Dybwad Humanitarian Award, the highest honor of the American Association on Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities.

As both a judge and a lawyer, Judge Geer has worked to improve the quality of legal representation through service on the Appellate Specialization Committee of the North Carolina State Bar, the Appellate Rules Committee of the North Carolina Bar Association, the Board of Governors of the North Carolina Advocates for Justice, and various committees of the American Bar Association and other bar association groups. She is also a highly sought after teacher of continuing education programs for both other judges and lawyers.

Judge Geer received her B.A. summa cum laude from Bryn Mawr College and her J.D. with high honors from the University of North Carolina School of Law where she was a Morehead Fellow and served as Managing Editor of the North Carolina Law Review.

Geoffrey Graber

Geoffrey Graber is a Partner at Cohen Milstein and a member of the Consumer Protection practice group. In this role, Mr. Graber specializes in complex litigation aimed at protecting consumers deceived and harmed by consumer service providers such as banks, insurance and health care companies. In addition, he is a member of the Commercial Contingency practice and also represents whistleblowers under the False Claims Act.

Currently, Mr. Graber is litigating the high-profile lawsuit arising out of the massive data breach at Anthem Inc. that compromised the personal identification and health information of more than 80 million customers of the health care company. The lawsuit alleges the company failed to take adequate measures to ensure its data systems were protected, failed to take available steps to prevent and stop the breach from happening, and failed to disclose to its customers the material facts that it did not have adequate computer systems and security practices to safeguard customers' financial accounts and personal data. Mr. Graber is involved in all aspects of the litigation.

Prior to joining the firm in 2015, Mr. Graber served as Deputy Associate Attorney General and Director of the Residential Mortgage-Backed Securities (RMBS) Working Group at the United States Department of Justice (DOJ).

As Director of the RMBS Working Group, Mr. Graber oversaw the DOJ's nationwide investigation into the packaging and sale of mortgage-backed securities leading up to the financial crisis. He supervised and coordinated the efforts of over 100 prosecutors, lawyers, investigators and analysts from the DOJ. Mr. Graber also worked closely with senior officials from the United States Securities & Exchange Commission, the Department of Housing and Urban Development, the Inspector General's Office for the Federal Finance Agency and the offices of more than 10 state attorneys general.

The investigations overseen by Mr. Graber ultimately recovered more than $36 billion. These recoveries include the record-breaking $16.65 billion settlement reached in August 2014 with Bank of America – the largest settlement with a single entity in U.S. history – as well as settlements with Citigroup ($7 billion) and JP Morgan ($13 billion).

Earlier in his tenure at the DOJ, Mr. Graber served as Counsel in the Civil Division, where he proposed and then led the three-year investigation of Standard & Poor's and its ratings of structured finance products from 2004 to 2007. As the lead lawyer overseeing the investigation, he supervised a team of over 50 prosecutors, DOJ lawyers, investigators and analysts. The investigation, which made groundbreaking use of the Financial Institutions Reform, Recovery and Enforcement Act of 1989 (FIRREA), resulted in the largest enforcement action filed by the United States concerning the financial crisis (United States v. Standard & Poor's).

Before joining the Department of Justice, Mr. Graber was an associate at a top-tier defense firm, where he defended Fortune 500 companies and their officers and directors in securities and derivative suits, consumer class actions and government investigations. Mr. Graber also devoted substantial time to pro bono representation of indigent individuals and families in civil rights actions against local law enforcement.

In 2014, Mr. Graber received the Attorney General's Distinguished Service Award for his work relating to the $13 billion settlement with JP Morgan – including, at the time, the largest FIRREA penalty recovered by the Department of Justice. In October 2015, he again received the Attorney General's Distinguished Service Award for his work on the successful investigation of and litigation against S&P.

Mr. Graber received his undergraduate degree in Philosophy from Vassar College, and earned his law degree from the University of Southern California Law School, where he served as the Managing Articles Editor on Southern California Law Review.

Patricia Mincey passed away in early 2016 due to complications from her quadriplegia casued by the problematic airbag. The suit charged that Takata, the manufacturer of the airbag system, knew of the airbag defect and hid the problem from consumers. - Inmate Calling Services Provider Litigation: Cohen Milstein is on the executive committee in several nationwide class action lawsuits alleging that the providers of inmate calling services have charged inmates and their families unjust and unreasonable rates in violation of the Federal Communications Act and various state laws. Mr. Brown leads the Cohen Milstein team on these class action lawsuits. The litigation is ongoing.

Mr. Brown joined Cohen Milstein's Antitrust Practice following four years as a trial attorney with the Antitrust Division of the United States Department of Justice. At the Department of Justice, Mr. Brown led and assisted in numerous investigations, litigations and trials involving antitrust activity and mergers. Mr. Brown also served as a Special Assistant United States Attorney in the Eastern District of Virginia, where he prosecuted criminal cases. Joshua S. Devore Joshua Devore is a Partner at Cohen Milstein and a member of the Securities Litigation & Investor Protection Practice Group. In this role, Mr. Devore has distinguished himself in representing investors in complex high-profile securities fraud class actions and in guiding a broad range of class action lawsuits, from the massive BP Deepwater Horizon oil spill to the Parmalat securities litigation. His practice has led him to discovery efforts around the world, having taken depositions on four continents.

Mr. Devore's current cases include the following notable matters:

- BP Securities Litigation: Cohen Milstein is co-lead counsel in the long-running, procedurally complex case arising from the devastating Deepwater Horizon oil spill in the Gulf of Mexico. The U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit affirmed the class certification ruling of investors who purchased BP's American Depositary Shares on April 26, 2010, through and including May 28, 2010, and who were injured by BP's low-balling the severity of the oil spill in the aftermath of the Deepwater Horizon explosion. Mr. Devore is involved in all aspects of the litigation.

- Kingate Global and Kingate Euro Funds Litigation: Cohen Milstein is co-lead counsel in a lawsuit that alleges Kingate Global and Kingate Euro, feeder funds in the Bernard Madoff Ponzi scheme, and several related entities failed in their obligations to protect investors in the funds. The lawsuit was initially dismissed on the basis of Securities Litigation Uniform Standards Act of 1998 (SLUSA), but that decision was reversed on appeal by the Second Circuit in an opinion that has set a new standard on which claims are precluded by SLUSA and which are not. Mr. Devore is involved in all aspects of the litigation.

- State of Mississippi v. Moody's Corp. Litigation: Cohen Milstein is representing the Attorney General of the State of Mississippi in a consumer protection action addressing Moody's misrepresentation of its independence and objectivity in its analysis of structured finance securities in the years leading up to the financial crisis. Mr. Devore is involved in all aspects of the litigation.

- Broadcom Merger Litigation: Cohen Milstein is lead counsel representing institutional investors in a litigation challenging the $37 billion Broadcom-Avago merger. The lawsuit alleges the transaction was structured to benefit management and insiders with a controlling share of Broadcom, at the expense of the common shareholders. Mr. Devore is involved in all aspects of the litigation.

Some of Mr. Devore's successes include:

- In re Lucent Technologies Securities Litigation: $575 million settlement. Cohen Milstein co-lead counsel, representing plaintiffs in a massive securities fraud class action in cash, stocks and warrants. The settlement ranks as one of the largest securities class actions in history. Mr. Devore was involved in all aspects of the litigation.

- In re Merrill Lynch Research Reports Securities Litigation: $125 million settlement. Cohen Milstein represented plaintiffs in a class action lawsuit alleging that Merrill Lynch's Internet analysts dishonestly recommended stocks whose prospects they viewed as dim. The complex case took more than six years to litigate. Mr. Devore was involved in all aspects of the litigation.

- In re Parmalat Securities Litigation: $90 million settlement. Cohen Milstein was co-lead counsel in a class action lawsuit involving Parmalat, a company often referred to as "Europe's Enron." The litigation involved the biggest fraud in European history, in which revenues were manufactured out of thin air and numerous Parmalat executives were indicted and went to prison. The litigation involved depositions around the world, and resulted in settlements with the company's two outside auditors and investment banks, as well as the "new" Parmalat that emerged following the scandal. Mr. Devore was involved in all aspects of the litigation.

- IntraLinks Litigation: $14 million settlement. Cohen Milstein was lead counsel in a class action lawsuit alleging that the company concealed the impending loss of its biggest client, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, during the class period, which included a secondary stock offering. The lawsuit involved an intensive discovery period during which more than 1.9 million pages were produced and 23 depositions were taken. Mr. Devore was involved in all aspects of the litigation.

- LDK Solar Litigation: $16 million settlement. Cohen Milstein represented investors in a case involving a Chinese solar panel producer. The litigation entailed traveling to Hong Kong, setting up temporary offices, taking 14 depositions in a period of 15 days and reviewing thousands of documents, many of which were in Chinese. Mr. Devore was involved in all aspects of the litigation.

In addition, Mr. Devore has done the following pro bono work:

- U.S. Navy Humanist Chaplain Litigation: Mr. Devore, along with other Cohen Milstein attorneys, represented Jason Heap, who sued the U.S. Navy for rejecting his application to become a chaplain on the basis of his humanist religious beliefs, in violation of the Constitution. After hard-fought discovery, the case settled.

Mr. Devore has authored numerous briefs addressing complex and novel issues of federal securities laws, leading to notable reported decisions such as Lentell v. Merrill Lynch & Co., 396 F.3d 161 (2d Cir. 2005), that reversed a dismissal on statute of limitations grounds and reset the standards for pleading loss causation.

Mr. Devore attended Rice University, where he earned his B.A. in Chemistry, and graduated from Georgetown University Law Center, where he served as Executive Editor of the Georgetown International Environmental Law Review. He is co-author of State Court Class Actions: Trends and Issues, in the National Institute on Class Actions.

Manuel J. Dominguez

Manuel J. ("John") Dominguez is a Partner at Cohen Milstein, and a member of the Antitrust practice group. Mr. Dominguez specializes in complex, multi-district antitrust litigation, representing individuals and businesses that have been harmed by anticompetitive business practices. Mr. Dominguez, in addition, plays a significant role in the practice group identifying and investigating potential antitrust violations.

Mr. Dominguez has been litigating complex antitrust and consumer cases for more than 20 years, and has served as lead counsel and handled numerous high-profile, high-stakes cases during that time. His efforts have enabled aggrieved businesses and consumers to recover hundreds of millions of dollars. He litigated and resolved cutting-edge litigation against AOL for allegedly unlawfully collecting the Internet search data of millions of users and making their private information available for downloading by the general public. Earlier in his career, Mr. Dominguez litigated a highly significant securities matter that settled for hundreds of millions of dollars involving Symbol Technologies Inc., a barcode technology maker that intentionally overstated its revenues through premature revenue recognition, improper consignments arrangements and channel stuffing.

Mr. Dominguez, who joined Cohen Milstein in 2011, has assisted the firm in developing its investigatory and case development groups. He is a hands-on litigator who is currently representing plaintiffs in antitrust litigation involving alleged price-fixing and anticompetitive monopolistic practices in various industries including truck transmissions, medical products, auto industry and finance, among others. Although Mr. Dominguez's practice is focused on antitrust litigation, he continues to be involved in securities and consumer matters.

Mr. Dominguez is currently representing direct purchasers in a series of Auto Parts antitrust class action lawsuits being litigated in the Eastern District of Michigan in Detroit. These cases stem from the largest antitrust investigation in the history of the U.S. Department of Justice, with over $1 billion in fines and multiple criminal indictments. Two of the cases, Wire Harnesses and Bearings, are scheduled to be the first cases to be considered for certification by the court. In these cases, Mr. Dominguez has significant responsibilities, including leading discovery efforts against defendants and assisting experts.

Mr. Dominguez is also co-lead counsel in the Truck Transmissions Antitrust Litigation alleging that Eaton Corp., the largest manufacturer of truck transmissions, and the four major truck manufacturers conspired to create a monopoly for transmissions used in heavy-duty trucks. Mr. Dominguez responsibilities include arguing all the major motions and deposing and defending nearly all the expert depositions in this matter. The case is currently up on appeal in the Third Circuit.

Mr. Dominguez began his career as an Assistant Attorney General serving in the Attorney General of the State of Florida's Department of Economic Crimes. In that role, he represented the state of Florida in prosecuting corporations and business entities for alleged violations of Florida's RICO, antitrust and Unfair and Deceptive Trade Practices Act statutes. Following his service as an Assistant Attorney General, Mr. Dominguez entered private practice, litigating and trying numerous cases involving unfair trade practices and other alleged violations of state and federal consumer protection statutes. In 2000, he joined a premier class action firm focused on antitrust and securities litigation; there, he rose to the head of the firm's antitrust and consumer practice groups. Mr. Dominguez recently won a significant motion to dismiss in a non-class action antitrust action brought on behalf of Doctors and practice groups against a major insurance company and hospital in Florida in Omni Healthcare, Inc. v. Health First, Inc. The issues presented and argued were issues of first impression for the middle district of Florida.

Mr. Dominguez is also nationally recognized for his knowledge of managing the discovery process in today's increasingly technologically complex business environment. He has made presentations on topics such as the impact of the new e-discovery amendments to the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, and has also participated in The Sedona Conference® Working Group 1, an organization at the vanguard of developing standards for electronic discovery.

Mr. Dominguez formerly served as the Chair for the Antitrust, Franchise & Trade Regulation Committee of the Florida Bar's Business Law Section. Mr. Dominguez previously served as the Vice Chair of this committee and was a member of the Executive Council of Florida Bar's Business Law Section. He is also co-author of an article that appeared in the Florida Bar Journal, "The Plausibility Standard as a Double Edge Sword: The application of Twombly and Iqbal to Affirmative Defenses" (Vol. 84, No. 6).

Mr. Dominguez received a B.A. from Florida International University, and earned his J.D. from the Florida State University Law School, graduating with honors. In law school, he was a member of the Transnational Journal of Law and Policy.

Brent W. Johnson

Brent W. Johnson is a Partner at Cohen Milstein and a member of the Antitrust practice group. Along with Daniel Small, Mr. Johnson leads the group's new case investigations.

Mr. Johnson has considerable expertise in complex antitrust litigation and class actions, representing businesses and individuals as plaintiffs in federal and state civil actions with a focus on multi-district class actions. His class action experience spans multiple industries, such as motion pictures, dairy, building materials, chemicals, automotive parts, processed foods, private equity, adhesives and others. His practice encompasses a broad variety of antitrust claims, including Sherman Act Section 1 restraints of trade and Section 2 monopoly and monopsony claims. He has argued before federal district courts and state trial and appellate courts and brought cases to trial.

Mr. Johnson's recent successes include the following notable antitrust class actions:

- Northeast Dairy: In Allen vs. Dairy Farmers of America (D. Vt.), Mr. Johnson serves as lead counsel for one of two certified subclasses of Northeast dairy farmers against Dairy Farmers of America and Dairy Marketing Services who fixed the price of raw milk, allocated markets and agreed not to solicit dairy farmers to supply raw milk. Defendant Dean Foods Company settled for $30 million, and the Court has preliminarily approved a $50 million settlement with the remaining defendants, DFA and DMS.

- Bulk Bleach: In Grand Strand v. Oltrin (D. S.C.) Mr. Johnson was personally appointed co-lead Class Counsel and led the CMST team in representing a class of direct purchasers of bulk bleach, including municipal water authorities and others, against that product's manufacturers who engaged in an illegal market allocation agreement. The Court approved a settlement worth nearly all of the class's single damages and remarked that the case had been "skillfully handled."
- Urethanes (Polyether Polyols): Mr. Johnson serves as co-lead counsel in In re Urethane Antitrust Litigation (D. Kan.), on behalf of a certified class of direct purchasers of several types of chemicals who were overcharged as a result of a nationwide price-fixing and market allocation conspiracy. In the litigation, multiple defendants collectively settled for over $130 million, and a jury verdict of $1.1 billion was secured against Dow Chemical, the final defendant, in 2013. Dow ultimately settled for $835 million while the case was on appeal before the Supreme Court, bringing the total recovery to $974 million – nearly 250% of the damages found by the jury.
- Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan: Mr. Johnson serves as co-lead counsel in The Shane Group, Inc. v. Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan (E.D. Mich.), representing a class of purchasers of hospital services against Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan for agreeing to MFN provisions in its contracts with hospitals throughout Michigan that required those hospitals to charge other insurers as much or considerably more for services provided to class members. - Drywall: Mr. Johnson serves as co-lead counsel in In re Domestic Drywall Antitrust Litigation (E.D. Pa.), representing a class of direct purchasers of drywall against drywall manufacturers for price-fixing. The Court has preliminarily approved a settlement of $40 million with a major defendant, and denied summary judgment to four defendants. The case is ongoing.
- Automotive Parts: In In re Automotive Parts Antitrust Litigation (E.D. Mich.), Mr. Johnson represents direct purchasers of wire harnesses, bearings and other automotive parts who were overcharged as a result of price-fixing and bid-rigging conspiracies by various sets of defendants throughout the automotive parts industry.

Prior to joining Cohen Milstein in 2009, Mr. Johnson practiced at one of the world's premier full-service global law firms, where he focused on antitrust litigation. Some of Mr. Johnson's matters included:

- Feesers, Inc. v. Michael Foods, Inc. and Sodexho, Inc. (M.D. Pa.): Mr. Johnson was a member of the successful trial team that represented Michael Foods, a manufacturer of processed egg products and refrigerated potato products, in a three week trial of a Robinson-Patman Act action brought by a broad-line distributor of food products.
- Dahl, et al. v. Bain Capital, et al. (D. Mass.): Mr. Johnson represented The Carlyle Group in a class action where plaintiffs alleged collusion among certain private equity firms and investment banks in specific going-private transactions in violation of Section 1 of the Sherman Act.

- In re Aftermarket Filters Antitrust Litigation (N.D. Ill.): Mr. Johnson represented Champion Laboratories, a manufacturer of aftermarket automotive filters, in a class action where plaintiffs alleged a conspiracy among manufacturers to fix prices in violation of Section 1 of the Sherman Act.
- National Laser Technology, Inc. v. Biolase Technology, Inc. (S.D. Indiana): Mr. Johnson represented Biolase, the country's largest manufacturer of lasers for dental applications, against Sherman Act claims brought by a competitor aftermarket dental laser support company. The matter resulted in a favorable settlement for the client.

Mr. Johnson also advised clients in the insurance, commodities exchange, chemical and energy industries in obtaining clearance of mergers, acquisitions and joint ventures from the Federal Trade Commission and the Antitrust Division of the Department of Justice in connection with premerger notification proceedings under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act.

Gary L. Azorsky

Gary L. Azorsky is a Partner at Cohen Milstein, and Co-chair of the Firm's Whistleblower/False Claims Act Practice. Mr. Azorsky joined Cohen Milstein in 2012, establishing the practice. In his role, Mr. Azorsky pursues whistleblower cases under the federal and state false claims act statutes in the health care, pharmaceutical, banking and defense contractor industries and other industries that conduct business with the government. Mr. Azorsky specializes in the complex, highly detailed process for filing and pursuing these cases. In his practice, he has helped right wrongs and to recover nearly $2.5 billion in defrauded funds for federal and state governments, including hundreds of millions of dollars for whistleblower clients.

Most recently, Mr. Azorsky served as co-lead counsel in the qui tam action against the pharmaceutical company Wyeth pending in the District of Massachusetts, in which more states joined to intervene along with the government of the United States than had ever before intervened in a qui tam action. (United States of America et al., ex rel. Lauren Kieff, v. Wyeth, No.1:03-CV-12366-DPW [D.Mass.].) The $784.6 million settlement was the seventh-largest False Claims Act recovery on record and the second-largest recovery in history involving a single class of drugs. Mr. Azorsky worked alongside Department of Justice attorneys and states Attorneys General throughout the 12-year pendency of the case.

Mr. Azorsky was actively involved in precedent-setting cases, such as the series of Ven-A-Care cases, which were among the first large FCA multi-state cases and laid the groundwork for much of the false claims act litigation that goes on today. Jeanne A. Markey

Jeanne A. Markey, is a Partner at Cohen Milstein and Co-Chair of the firm's Whistleblower/False Claims Act practice group. She has successfully represented whistleblowers in federal and state cases across the country. Ms. Markey has extensive experience in Qui Tam litigation in the health care, defense and education industries, and has represented whistleblower clients in the public housing sector.

Ms. Markey is co-lead counsel in United States of America et al., ex rel. Lauren Kieff, v. Wyeth, a high-profile whistleblower case against pharmaceutical giant Wyeth (recently acquired by Pfizer). The lawsuit alleges that Medicaid, the healthcare program for the poor which is jointly funded by the federal and state governments, was defrauded when Wyeth falsely inflated the price of the acid suppression drug Protonix Oral from 2001 through 2006. Thirty-six states and the District of Columbia have joined with the United States to intervene in the Wyeth case – more states than have ever intervened in any other U.S. Qui Tam case.

She also served as the primary attorney representing the putative class in Benzman v. Whitman, a class action in Manhattan and Brooklyn against the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency. The claims were based on class members' exposure to contaminants contained in World Trade Center interior dust resulting from the 9/11 attacks.

Ms. Markey is admitted to practice law in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, the Eastern District of Pennsylvania and to the First Circuit Court of Appeals, Second Circuit Court of Appeals, and Eleventh Circuit Court of Appeals. Christopher J. Cormier

Christopher J. Cormier is a Partner at Cohen Milstein and a member of the Antitrust practice group. In this role, he has tried cases and obtained settlements and judgments for his clients in excess of $1 billion. He is a member of the Antitrust practice group's New Case Committee as well as a member of the group's Client Committee.

Currently, Mr. Cormier is litigating the following notable matters:

- Anadarko Basin Oil and Gas Lease Antitrust Litigation: Co-lead counsel for plaintiffs in class actions alleging that Chesapeake Energy, SandRidge Energy and a former executive of both companies conspired to rig bids for leases of land held by private landowners in parts of Oklahoma and Kansas. This litigation follows the U.S. Department of Justice's early 2016 indictment of a co-founder and former CEO of Chesapeake Energy for allegedly participating in this bid-rigging conspiracy. Plaintiffs allege that Defendants illegally conspired to stabilize and depress the price of royalty and bonus payments paid to landowners in the Anadarko Basin oil and gas province — a massive geological formation holding natural gas and oil deposits that includes large parts of Oklahoma and Kansas. Pursuant to this conspiracy, Plaintiffs allege that Defendants communicated about and agreed on prices, allocated particular geographic areas between themselves, and rigged bids for leases of land, lowering acquisition prices across the region and thereby harming the proposed class of landowners.
- Dental Supplies Antitrust Litigation: Cohen Milstein was recently appointed interim co-lead counsel for a proposed class of dental practices and dental laboratories. The case alleges that Defendants Henry Schein, Inc., Patterson Companies, Inc., and Benco Dental Supply Company — the three largest dental supply and dental equipment distributors in the United States — fixed price margins on dental equipment, jointly pressured manufacturers to squeeze out competitors, and agreed not to "poach" each other's employees, in violation of federal antitrust law. As a result of the alleged conspiracy, dental practices and dental laboratories may have paid artificially inflated prices for many kinds of dental supplies and dental equipment, from consumables like gauze and cement to big-ticket equipment like chairs and x-rays. Mr. Cormier is one of the members of the Cohen Milstein team co-leading this case.
- Ductile Iron Pipe Fittings Antitrust Litigation: Cohen Milstein, as co-lead counsel, represents a putative class of direct purchaser plaintiffs in a price-fixing case against the three largest manufacturers of ductile iron pipe fittings — McWane Inc., Sigma Corporation, and Star Pipe Products — and a monopolization case against McWane for excluding significant competition in the domestic ductile iron pipe fittings market. Settlements of $9 million have been reached with two of the defendants, Sigma and Star. Currently, Mr. Cormier and his team are in the midst of fact discovery and taking depositions of numerous party and non-party witnesses across the country.

- Cast Iron Soil Pipe & Fittings Antitrust Litigation: Cohen Milstein, as co-lead counsel, represents a putative class of direct purchaser plaintiffs against the two largest soil pipe and fittings manufacturers in the country (McWane Inc. and Charlotte Pipe & Foundry) and the trade association they control (Cast Iron Soil Pipe Institute) in a lawsuit alleging that the defendants engaged in a nationwide price-fixing conspiracy. Mr. Cormier and his team are concluding fact discovery, and have taken a significant number of depositions of party and non-party witnesses across the country.

- Urethanes (Polyether Polyols) Antitrust Litigation: Cohen Milstein is co-lead counsel for direct purchaser plaintiffs in an antitrust class action alleging a nationwide conspiracy to fix the prices of chemicals used to make polyurethane foam, a basic component of ubiquitous everyday products such as bed mattresses, car seat cushioning and furniture cushioning. Four defendants — Bayer, BASF, Huntsman, and Lyondell — settled for a total of $139.5 million, while the case against the fifth manufacturer, Dow Chemical, went to trial. After a four-week jury trial, in which Mr. Cormier was a member of the trial team, the jury returned a $400 million verdict for the plaintiffs, which the district court trebled under federal antitrust law to more than $1 billion. This was the largest verdict in the country in 2013, as reported by the National Law Journal. The U.S. Court of Appeals for the Tenth Circuit affirmed the judgment, which is currently on appeal before the United States Supreme Court.
- Plasma-Derivative Protein Therapies Antitrust Litigation: Cohen Milstein was co-lead counsel for direct purchaser plaintiffs alleging a conspiracy to reduce the supply and increase prices of IVIG and Albumin — life-saving therapies derived from blood plasma. Mr. Cormier and his colleagues at Cohen Milstein represented named plaintiff The University of Utah Health Systems as well as the remaining class members in this matter. The defendants were CSL Ltd., CSL Behring, Baxter Healthcare and the Plasma Protein Therapeutics Association (the trade association the manufacturer defendants controlled). Mr. Cormier played an integral role in the investigation and filing of the first complaint in the country in this matter. Following numerous depositions across the globe and the filing of plaintiffs' opening class certification motion and expert report, Mr. Cormier and his team obtained settlements with all defendants totaling $128 million.

Mr. Cormier earned a B.A. at the University of Virginia and attended American University Washington College of Law, graduating magna cum laude. He interned with the Hon. Judge Deborah K. Chasanow, U.S. District Court for the District of Maryland, and with the U.S. Department of Justice, National Criminal Enforcement Section, Antitrust Division. He is the author of numerous scholarly articles on antitrust law. Benchmark Plaintiff has named him an Antitrust Litigation Star three consecutive years, from 2013 to 2015 and Super Lawyers named him a "Rising Star" in 2016.

Robert W. Cobbs

Robert W. Cobbs is an Associate at Cohen Milstein, and a member of the Antitrust practice group.

Currently, Mr. Cobbs is litigating the following notable matters:

- Anadarko Basin Oil and Gas Lease Antitrust Litigation: Co-lead counsel for plaintiffs in class actions alleging that Chesapeake Energy, SandRidge Energy and a former executive of both companies conspired to rig bids for leases of land held by private landowners in parts of Oklahoma and Kansas. This litigation follows the U.S. Department of Justice's early 2016 indictment of a co-founder and former CEO of Chesapeake Energy for allegedly participating in this bid-rigging conspiracy. Plaintiffs allege that Defendants illegally conspired to stabilize and depress the price of royalty and bonus payments paid to landowners in the Anadarko Basin oil and gas province — a massive geological formation holding natural gas and oil deposits that includes large parts of Oklahoma and Kansas. Pursuant to this conspiracy, Plaintiffs allege that Defendants communicated about and agreed on prices, allocated particular geographic areas between themselves, and rigged bids for leases of land, lowering acquisition prices across the region and thereby harming the proposed class of landowners.

- Dental Supplies Antitrust Litigation: Cohen Milstein was recently appointed interim co-lead counsel for a proposed class of dental practices and dental laboratories. The case alleges that Defendants Henry Schein, Inc., Patterson Companies, Inc., and Benco Dental Supply Company — the three largest dental supply and dental equipment distributors in the United States — fixed price margins on dental equipment, jointly pressured manufacturers to squeeze out competitors, and agreed not to "poach" each other's employees, in violation of federal antitrust law. As a result of the alleged conspiracy, dental practices and dental laboratories may have paid artificially inflated prices for many kinds of dental supplies and dental equipment, from consumables like gauze and cement to big-ticket equipment like chairs and x-rays.

Prior to joining Cohen Milstein, Mr. Cobbs clerked for the Hon. Pierre N. Leval, United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit; and for the Hon. J. Rodney Gilstrap, United States District Court for the Eastern District of Texas.

Mr. Dolce brings to his work the insight of a survivor who is determined to use his understanding and ability to communicate exactly what crime and injury victims go through, and what they need in their difficult and courageous healing processes. Among his noted work, in 2009, he achieved a jury verdict on behalf of a child abuse victim, totaling over $19.2 million, that was named by "Verdict Search" one of the top 100 verdicts nationwide that year.

In 2010, Mr. Dolce's six-year crusade in Florida's legislature culminated in the passage of sweeping legislation that repealed all statutes of limitation for civil and criminal prosecution of child sexual battery, overcoming a powerful and well-financed opposition. That victory was fueled by Mr. Dolce's testimony numerous times before legislative committees, which one major newspaper reported left senators "captivated" and "spellbound." His effort was supported by a grassroots organization of some 200 survivors that he led as the chair of the political committee, Protect Our Kids First, Inc., a campaign he formed to amend the state's Constitution on Election Day. His precedent-setting strategy worked to compel the Legislature to ensure that never again will a child in Florida be turned away from any civil or criminal court due to the passage of time. And no predator can ever again take comfort in the ticking of a clock after threatening a child into silence.

Mr. Dolce's work has gained him national recognition with awards from both fellow attorneys and crime victim advocates, including the National Center for Victims of Crime, the Florida Council Against Sexual Violence and the Florida Justice Association. Mr. Dolce is a sought-after speaker, having addressed conferences of many of the largest child abuse survivor organizations in the world, including the Survivors Network for those Abused by Priests. Recently, he was invited to join the Sexual Violence Focus Group of the Office of the Florida State Courts Administrator; the group will work over the next year on several sexual violence projects, including updating the Florida Sexual Violence Bench Book and developing a strategic plan for sexual violence projects. His work has been cited across the nation by law professors and judges, including the North Carolina Supreme Court.

Mr. Dolce graduated with a Bachelor of Arts, summa cum laude, from Lynn University and received his J.D. from Stetson University.

Currently, Mr. Dolce is litigating the following notable matters:

- Jane Doe v. Florida Sheriffs Youth Ranches: Mr. Dolce represents a teenaged sex abuse victim who was abused in a residential childcare facility by an adult resident of the facility. This civil suit against the facility follows a successful criminal prosecution of the abuser, asserting that the facility failed to maintain proper child safety procedures and policies.
- Rose, Fitzsimons and Davis v. The Devereux Foundation, Inc.: Mr. Dolce represents adult survivors in three related lawsuits, asserting child physical and sexual abuse at a licensed therapeutic group home perpetrated by several staff members.
- Jane Doe v. Seagate Hotel and Spa: Mr. Dolce represents an adult in this action against a resort hotel asserting that she was sexually assaulted by a massage therapist. The suit alleges that the hotel negligently hired the therapist who had been discharged just two months earlier by his prior employer for similarly sexually assaulting a guest.

- Harris v. William Degray: Mr. Dolce represents an adult survivor of domestic violence who suffered substantial physical and mental health injuries, including Battered Woman Syndrome.

Some of his past successes include:

- Jane Doe vs. Tim Crowe: Mr. Dolce represented a child sex abuse survivor in a direct action against the perpetrator, resulting in a $19.2 million compensatory damage verdict, named one of the Top 100 verdicts nationwide in 2009 by The National Law Journal/Verdict Search.
- Hollins v. Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of New York, Inc.: Mr. Dolce represented an adult survivor of child sexual abuse against his former church (Jehovah's Witnesses), resulting in a confidential settlement.

- Jane Doe v. James Byrne and Linda Byrne: Mr. Dolce represented a mentally disabled child in an action against a neighbor who sexually abused her over a two-year period and against the abuser's wife, on a theory that she failed to protect the child after finding evidence of ongoing abuse. The jury awarded damages of $3.5 million, ordering both defendants to pay.

The case was resolved in a settlement in excess of $1 million.
- Hauser v. Rice Insulation: Mr. Langino represented the Hauser family in a product liability lawsuit alleging that Rice Insulation, an insulation contractor, installed foam insulation incorrectly in the plaintiff's house, resulting in the house burning to the ground. Mr. Langino managed all aspects of the litigation.

Baylines Inc.:* Mr. Langino represented the Palmer family in catastrophic injury and product safety lawsuit in which a truck driver fell asleep at the wheel and crashed into a vehicle carrying the Palmers, resulting in the death of Mrs. Palmer. Joel P. Laitman

Joel P. Laitman is Of Counsel at Cohen Milstein and a member of the Securities Litigation & Investor Protection Practice Group. Mr. Laitman has served as lead counsel in five of the firm's major mortgage-backed securities class actions brought on behalf of pension funds and other institutional investors against major investment banks. These cases alleged that the underlying mortgages failed to comply with the underwriting standards described in the Offering Documents.

Besides initiating these cases and directing and leading discovery with his partner Chris Lometti, Mr. Laitman argued all motions and conducted all hearings both before the District Court and the Second Circuit. In just three of these cases that have settled to date, recoveries totaling $720 million were achieved for the benefit of injured investors: $335 million in the RALI MBS case brought against Goldman Sachs, UBS and Citigroup; $275 million in the Harborview MBS case brought against RBS; and $110 million in the HEMT MBS case brought against Credit Suisse.

The settlements achieved in these cases have been commended by Courts and by legal publications. Commenting on the Harborview litigation, Judge Loretta A. Preska, of the U.S. District Court, Southern District of New York, noted that the case brought on behalf of the plaintiffs was "interesting and different" and that settlement on their behalf "was a job well done." Judge Fallia, in approving the RALI Settlement, commended the firm for prosecuting the case for seven years and "never giving up" despite substantial obstacles.

The litigations and settlements have garnered awards from the leading legal publications. In 2014 and 2015, the National Law Journal cited the Harborview and RALI MBS in designating the firm an Elite Trial Law Firm and placing the firm on the Hot List; Law360 cited the RALI and Harborview cases in designating the firm one of "The Most Feared Plaintiffs Firms" in 2015, the third year in a row that Cohen Milstein received the designation; and in 2015, Law360 selected Cohen Milstein as the sole plaintiff firm to be chosen in two "Practice Groups of the Year" categories and one of only five class action law firms to be recognized, singling out the RALI and Harborview cases in the award.

In addition, Mr. Laitman has argued a number of seminal cases before the Second Circuit in the securities field including: Teamsters Local 445 Freight Div. Pension Fund v. Dynex Capital, Inc., 531 F.3d 190 (2d Cir. 2008) (addressing corporate scienter under Section 10 (b)); Teamsters Local 445 Freight Div. Pension Fund v. Bombardier, Inc., 546 F.3d 196 (2d Cir. 2008) (addressing standard for establishing market efficiency in certification of Section 10(b) claims); N.J. Carpenters Health Fund v. Royal Bank of Scotland Group, PLC, 709 F.3d 109 (2d Cir. 2013) ("NovaStar") (reversing dismissal of Securities Act claims); Wyo. State Treasurer v. Moody's Investors Serv. (In re Lehman Bros. Mortgage-Backed Sec. Litig.) ("Lehman"), 650 F.3d 167 (2d Cir. 2011) (addressing rating agency liability under the Securities Act); and N.J. Carpenters Health Fund v. RALI Series 2006-QO1, 477 Fed. Appx. 809 (2d Cir. 2012) ("Harborview/RALI", addressing class member knowledge as grounds for denial of class certification).

A member of Phi Beta Kappa, Mr. Laitman is a graduate of Columbia University, with a B.A., magna cum laude, and earned his law degree at Georgetown University Law Center.

Stephan A. LeClainche

Stephan A. LeClainche is Of Counsel at Cohen Milstein, and head of the firm's Medical Malpractice group. In his role, Mr. LeClainche represents victims and the families of victims of all types of medical negligence. His practice specializes in medical malpractice, but also includes medical device litigation, automobile negligence, sexual abuse and other serious injury and wrongful death cases.

Mr. LeClainche is an experienced trial attorney, whose recent admission to the prestigious American College of Trial Lawyers attests to his reputation among peers as an outstanding trial lawyer. He understands, however, that legal skill in a courtroom is only a part of the qualifications that a good attorney brings to the practice in representing the victims of negligence. Equally important is the empathy an attorney must possess in counseling and guiding these victims and their families. The best attorneys are advisers and advocates, compassionate yet aggressive—a partner to clients, making them part of the team. These are traits that Mr. LeClainche brings to each of his cases.

Prior to joining Cohen Milstein in 2015, Mr. LeClainche was a name partner in a boutique trial law firm based in West Palm Beach. A Florida Board-Certified Civil Trial Lawyer since 1996 with more than three decades of experience litigating civil lawsuits, Mr. LeClainche is both a veteran attorney and a seasoned investigator, investing the time necessary to unearth and analyze every potentially relevant facet of a case. Many of his cases represent the cutting edge of both medicine and law, and grow out of the evolution of medicine and its practice. The cases may be different, but the complexities, challenges and stakes are always high, requiring attention to detail – and dedication to a client's needs and concerns.

Some of Mr. LeClainche's litigation and trial successes include the following notable matters:

- A confidential settlement reached in a medical malpractice case against an interventional cardiologist regarding his controversial practice of using a stent in the mid-popliteal artery to treat arterial occlusion. The case involved the off-label use of a medical device and a surgeon acting outside the scope of his practice.
- A $40 million verdict recovered for a child in a wrongful death case.
- A $5 million settlement reached during trial in a medical malpractice case.
- Verdicts of $1.7 million and $10 million in two separate cases involving sexual abuse of minors.
- A $2.3 million verdict for personal injuries suffered during a fall at an amusement park.
- A $2.8 million verdict for a death and personal injuries suffered by husband and wife in a motor vehicle accident.
- Co-lead of the trial team of lawyers who, after years of costly litigation, successfully recovered $27 million on behalf of 10 victims of child abuse in a case brought in Federal Court in New York.

Mr. LeClainche currently represents clients in a diverse variety of medical malpractice cases, including:

- Several lawsuits involving injuries arising from laparoscopic and open gall bladder surgery.
- A case involving a military reservist suffering from deep vein thrombosis (a clot in the veins of the leg), who was misdiagnosed and as a result suffered a pulmonary embolus and died just as he was being discharged from the hospital.
- A routine colonoscopy that resulted in a perforated colon and the subsequent death of the client.

- Misdiagnosis on colonoscopy resulting in the client being given a clean bill of health only to be subsequently diagnosed with Stage 4 colon cancer.

In addition to his recent admission to the American College of Trial Lawyers, Mr. LeClainche's accomplishments over the years have enabled him to achieve an AV-Preeminent rating from Martindale-Hubbell, the highest rating available for ethics and legal ability from the nation's oldest guide to lawyers and law firms.

Mr. LeClainche attended Florida International University, graduating magna cum laude with a B.A. in Political Science, and earned his J.D. from the University of Florida College of Law. Mr. LeClainche was born and raised in Kingston, Jamaica.

Scott Lempert

Scott M. Lempert is Of Counsel at Cohen Milstein and a member of the firm's Employee Benefits (ERISA) Practice Group. He joined the firm in 2016 and represents the interests of employees, retirees, and plan participants and beneficiaries in ERISA cases in the district court and on appeal.

Mr. Lempert is currently engaged in litigating a number of so-called "church plan" lawsuits. These cutting-edge legal cases assert that many non-profit health care systems in the United States wrongfully claim their benefit plans are exempt from ERISA regulation under the church plan exemption. Currently, Cohen Milstein serves as lead or co-lead counsel in 12 separate cases in various jurisdictions throughout the U.S.

Mr. Lempert has over 20 years of experience litigating complex commercial class actions on behalf of employees, retirees and consumers in retiree benefits, employment, consumer protection and antitrust matters. Prior to joining Cohen Milstein he worked on many high-profile matters, including:

- In re: Unisys Corp. Retiree Medical Benefits ERISA Litig. – a series of cases involving representation of thousands of retirees, both as class actions and individually, seeking restoration of lifetime retiree medical benefits unlawfully terminated after retirement. These cases successfully achieved multiple settlements and court judgments providing lifetime retiree medical benefits for some and a continuing stream of payments to pay for medical benefits for other retirees.
- Raetsch v. Lucent Technologies – 36 million dollar settlement involving unlawful transfer of excess defined benefit pension funds to an account to pay for retiree medical benefits.
- Mehling v. New York Life Insurance Co. -- 14 million dollar settlement challenging excessive fees charged to New York Life employees and the company's pension plan for Plan assets invested in New York Life owned mutual funds.
- Stagi v. National R.R. Passenger Corp. – Gender discrimination class action alleging unlawful disparate impact on female union employees resulting from enforcement of an Amtrak employee policy that blocked union employees from promotion to management. Settlement provided Amtrak employees compensation for denial of opportunities for promotion and the striking of the unlawful employment policy.

Mr. Lempert graduated Phi Beta Kappa from the University of Delaware with a B.A., magna cum laude, in Psychology, and received his J.D., from the University of Pennsylvania Law School. During law school, he served as Vice President of the Law School Government and was a Morris Fellow.

Christopher Lometti

Christopher Lometti is Of Counsel in the Securities Litigation & Investor Protection Practice Group, having joined Cohen Milstein in 2009. In this role, Mr. Lometti has litigated some of the most significant mortgage-backed securities (MBS) class action lawsuits to emerge from the financial crisis.

Mr. Lometti, together with Joel Laitman, his fellow Partner in the Securities Litigation Practice, initiated the Bear Stearns, Harborview, RALI, Lehman and HEMT MBS litigation at their named firm prior to joining Cohen Milstein. The lawsuits were high-risk matters involving novel claims on behalf of their Taft-Hartley pension fund clients injured by the dramatic downgrades of their MBS holdings from AAA to junk status. The MBS litigations have earned Cohen Milstein's Securities Litigation Practice numerous accolades from the National Law Journal, Law360 and American Lawyer.

Mr. Lometti's successes include the following notable matters:

- Bear Stearns MBS Litigation: $500 million settlement with JPMorgan Chase. Cohen Milstein was lead counsel in a class action lawsuit alleging Bear Stearns violated securities laws in selling toxic mortgage-backed securities that failed to meet the bank's own underwriting standards and that contained false and misleading information as to the appraised values of the underlying mortgages. Mr. Lometti was one of the key litigators in the case, developing strategy and conducting extensive fact discovery into the 22 offerings backed by approximately 71,000 largely Alt-A mortgages that Bear Stearns sold to investors from May 2006 to April 2007.

- RALI MBS Litigation: $335 million settlement with Citigroup, Goldman Sachs and UBS. Cohen Milstein was lead counsel in a class action litigation alleging RALI and its affiliates sold shoddy MBS securities that did not meet the standards of their underwriters. Mr. Lometti was one of the senior litigators on the class action, conducting fact discovery, deposing economic experts and preparing witnesses.

- Harborview MBS Litigation: $275 million settlement with Royal Bank of Scotland. Cohen Milstein was lead counsel in a complex case, in which presiding Judge Loretta A. Preska, of the U.S. District Court, Southern District of New York, commented on the "job well done" by the Cohen Milstein team of which Mr. Lometti was a senior litigator.

- HEMT MBS Litigation: $110 million settlement with Credit Suisse. Cohen Milstein was lead counsel in a case alleging Credit Suisse and its affiliates sold toxic securities to pension fund investors. The suit, filed in 2008, was one of the first class action cases involving mortgage-backed securities to be filed.

- Lehman Litigation: $40 million settlement. Cohen Milstein was lead counsel in a class action lawsuit against individuals affiliated with the bankrupt firm, the largest bankruptcy in U.S. history. Mr. Lometti was a senior litigator on the lawsuit, developing strategy.

- Dynex Litigation: $7.5 million settlement. Cohen Milstein was lead counsel in class action lawsuit involving the asset-backed securities. Mr. Lometti was a central member of the team to litigate this seminal lawsuit involving hybrid securities. In the litigation, the U.S. District judge issued one of the first decisions certifying an investor class pursuing fraud claims in connection with the sale of asset-backed securities. The Dynex litigation laid out a road map that could be followed in litigating an asset-backed security.

Currently, Mr. Lometti is litigating the following matters:

- NovaStar MBS: Cohen Milstein is lead counsel in litigation alleging that RBS, Wells Fargo (formerly Wachovia) and Deutsche Bank sold toxic mortgage-backed securities in investors. The litigation is one of the last outstanding class action MBS lawsuits. The Second Circuit Court of Appeals reversed an earlier dismissal of the lawsuit, paving the way for prosecution of the case.

- Volaris Litigation: Cohen Milstein is lead counsel in a class action lawsuit alleging that the Mexican airline Volaris Aviation Holding Co. withheld financial information regarding revenue recognition from investors before the company's $235 million initial public offering. Soon after the IPO, the news came to light and the stock fell roughly 15%. The case is ongoing.

- Braskem Litigation: Cohen Milstein represents shareholders in a class action suit alleging that the Brazilian petrochemical company lied to investors in its American Depository Receipts about its role in a bribery scheme involving Petrobras, Brazil's giant oil producer. The case is ongoing.

Mr. Lometti received a Bachelor of Arts from Fordham College in 1983, and his J.D. from Fordham Law School in 1986.

Prior to his arrival at Cohen Milstein, Mr. Lometti played a substantive role in litigating and settling the massive class action suit against WorldCom, one of the largest bankruptcies in history, representing significant stakeholders in the telecom's bond offerings. The lawsuit resulted in a settlement of $6.15 billion.

He has served as a non-industry arbitrator for the New York Stock Exchange and National Association of Securities Dealers helping to resolve disputes, and as a mediator for the New York State Court System.

Diana L. Martin

Diana L. Martin is Of Counsel at Cohen Milstein, and a member of the firm's Catastrophic Injury & Wrongful Death, Consumer Protection, Managed Care Abuse, and Unsafe & Defective Products practice groups. She concentrates her practice on appellate litigation involving complex product liability, consumer class, mass tort and managed care litigation by not only handling appeals for the firm in these areas, but also by providing appellate support at the trial stage. In that role, she drafts and argues complex and case dispositive motions, handles jury instruction charge conferences and assists trial counsel in preserving and protecting the record in the event of an appeal.

Of notable interest is Ms. Martin's success in achieving justice for injured workers who have been wrongfully denied medical care and treatment by their employer or their employer's workers' compensation carrier, resulting in the employee suffering injuries in addition to those suffered in the workplace accident. While many attorneys refuse to litigate such cases given the difficulty of navigating around the legal immunity afforded to defendants by Florida law, Ms. Martin has gotten many of these cases past the motion to dismiss and summary judgment stages, resulting in settlement of the workers' claims prior to trial.

Currently, Ms. Martin is helping the firm litigate the following matters:

- United States of America, et al. v. AIDS Healthcare Foundation, Inc.: Cohen Milstein represents three former managers of the AHF in a Federal and Florida State Whistleblower Act claims against the nation's largest provider of HIV/AIDS medical care for illegal patient referral kickbacks. Ms. Martin has been involved in all aspects of the litigation. The case is ongoing.

- HCA: Cohen Milstein is lead counsel in a class action lawsuit alleging that four Florida plaintiffs and others like them were billed inflated and exorbitant fees for emergency radiology services, in excess of the amount allowed by law, covered in part by their mandatory Florida Personal Injury Protection insurance. When the district court struck plaintiffs' class claims, Ms. Martin successfully petitioned the Eleventh Circuit Court of Appeals to accept immediate appellate review.
- Wal-Mart Employment Discrimination Litigation: Ms. Martin assisted the firm's Civil Rights and Employment practice group in a regional gender bias case in the Southern District of Florida alleging that Wal-Mart discriminates against women in pay and promotion decisions. After settlement agreements were reached on behalf of the individual plaintiffs, Ms. Martin has taken the lead role in appealing to the Eleventh Circuit Court of Appeals the district court's order dismissing as time-barred the plaintiffs' class claims, which originated from the seminal case of*Dukes v. Wal-Mart*.
- Adams v. Palm Beach County Sheriff's Office: Cohen Milstein is lead counsel in an excessive force and wrongful death action against the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Office and one of its detectives, who shot and killed the unarmed Seth Adams while he was on family property. Having provided legal support throughout the district court proceedings, Ms. Martin is currently handling the appellate proceedings in which the officer has appealed to the Eleventh Circuit Court of Appeals the district court's denial of his motion for summary judgment based on qualified immunity.

Some of her past successes include:

- Mincey v. Takata: Cohen Milstein was is lead counsel in a lawsuit brought on behalf of Patricia Mincey and her family, a Florida woman who sustained catastrophic injuries that rendered her a quadriplegic in 2014 when the driver's side airbag in her Honda Civic deployed too aggressively during a collision due to a product defect. Patricia Mincey passed away in early 2016 due to complications from her quadriplegia. The suit charged that Takata, the manufacturer of the airbag system, knew of the airbag defect and hid the problem from consumers. When the defendants removed Ms. Mincey's case to federal court in an attempt to have it bogged down in multi-district litigation, Ms. Martin successfully had the case remanded to Florida state court, where it is was resolved in July 2016.

Prior to joining the firm in 2014, Ms. Martin served as appellate counsel to Leopold Law, P.A., in Palm Beach Gardens, FL. Before that, she clerked for three years for the Honorable Martha C. Warner in Florida's Fourth District Court of Appeal. Ms. Martin attended Flagler College, graduating summa cum laude and being awarded Departmental Honors in Philosophy/Religion. She earned her J.D. from the University of Florida Levin College of Law, graduating with High Honors and achieving admission to the Order of the Coif.

Ms. Martin currently serves as President of Florida Legal Services, serves as Audit Committee Chair of Families First of Palm Beach County, and sits on the board of the Florida Bar Foundation. She has written numerous legal articles, which have been published in a variety of journals, including Trial Magazine, The Florida Bar Journal, and the Florida Justice Association Journal. Ms. Martin also co-authors Florida Insurance Law and Practice, an annual publication by Thomson/West.

Douglas J. McNamara is Of Counsel at Cohen Milstein, and a member of the firm's Consumer Protection practice group. In that role, Mr. McNamara specializes in litigating complex, multi-state class action lawsuits against manufacturers and consumer service providers such as banks, insurers, credit card companies and others. - Symantec Litigation: Cohen Milstein is lead counsel in Khoday et al. v. Symantec Corp. et al., a nationwide class action battle involving the marketing to consumers of a re-download service in conjunction with the sale of Norton software. Mr. McNamara was involved in all aspects of the case, from managing the litigation to overseeing a staff of contract attorneys to settlement discussions.
- Rooms to Go Litigation: Cohen Milstein represents a putative class in *Hankinson et al. v. R.T.G. - Caterpillar Litigation: Cohen Milstein is lead counsel in Salud Services, Inc. v. Caterpillar, Inc., a class action lawsuit against Caterpillar alleging that bus engines designed to meet 2002 federal emissions standards are failing, leaving passengers stranded and bus companies eating the costs of countless repairs and towing fees. The Firm succeeded in beating back the defendant's argument that the Clean Air Act preempted the plaintiff's claims since the claims related to emissions standards. Mr. McNamara was the architect of that opposition and is involved in all aspects of the product liability litigation.

Prior to joining Cohen Milstein in 2001, Mr. McNamara was a litigation associate at an international law firm, specializing in pharmaceutical and product liability cases. He started his career at New York City's Legal Aid Society, defending indigent criminal defendants at trial and on appeal.

Counsel for Indirect Purchaser Plaintiffs

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT

NORTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

OAKLAND DIVISION

IN RE: LITHIUM ION BATTERIES ANTITRUST LITIGATION	Case No. 13-MD-02420 YGR (DMR) MDL NO. 2420
This Document Relates to: ALL INDIRECT PURCHASER ACTIONS	DECLARATION OF KATHERINE VAN DYCK IN SUPPORT OF INDIRECT PURCHASER PLAINTIFFS' MOTION FOR AN AWARD OF ATTORNEYS' FEES AND REIMBURSEMENT OF EXPENSES ON BEHALF OF [CUNEO GILBERT & LADUCA, LLP

I, Katherine Van Dyck, declare:

1. I am a partner of Cuneo Gilbert & LaDuca, LLP ("CGL"), Counsel for Indirect Purchaser Plaintiffs ("IPPs" or "Plaintiffs") in this action. I submit this declaration in support of IPPs' Motion for an Award of Attorneys' Fees and Reimbursement of Expenses. I make this declaration based on my personal knowledge and if called as a witness, I could and would competently testify to the matters stated herein.

2. My firm has served as counsel to Matt Bryant and Patrick McGuinness and as counsel for IPPs throughout the course of this litigation. The background and experience of CGL and its attorneys are summarized in the curriculum vitae attached hereto as Exhibit A.

3. CGL has prosecuted this litigation solely on a contingent-fee basis and has been at risk that it would not receive any compensation for prosecuting claims against the defendants. While CGL devoted its time and resources to this matter, it has foregone other legal work for which it would have been compensated.

4. During the pendency of the litigation, CGL performed the following work: Research and preparation of various briefs and legal memoranda and assistance with discovery, including the preparation of class representative interrogatory responses, compilation of class representative documents responsive to requests for production, preparation for class representative depositions, coordination of lengthy forensic searches of class representative electronic devices, and review of documents produced by defendants.

Counsel for Indirect Purchaser Plaintiffs

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT

NORTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

OAKLAND DIVISION

IN RE: LITHIUM ION BATTERIES ANTITRUST LITIGATION	Case No. 13-MD-02420 YGR (DMR) MDL NO. 2420 DECLARATION OF KATHERINE VAN DYCK IN SUPPORT OF INDIRECT PURCHASER PLAINTIFFS' MOTION FOR AN AWARD OF ATTORNEYS' FEES AND REIMBURSEMENT OF EXPENSES ON BEHALF OF CUNEO, GILBERT & LaDUCA, LLP
This Document Relates to: ALL INDIRECT PURCHASER ACTIONS

I, Katherine Van Dyck, declare:

1. I am a partner of Cuneo, Gilbert & LaDuca, LLP ("CGL"), Counsel for Indirect Purchaser Plaintiffs ("IPPs" or "Plaintiffs") in this action. I submit this declaration in support of IPPs' Motion for an Award of Attorneys' Fees and Reimbursement of Expenses. I make this declaration based on my personal knowledge and if called as a witness, I could and would competently testify to the matters stated herein.

2. My firm has served as counsel to Matt Bryant and Patrick McGuinness and as counsel for IPPs throughout the course of this litigation. The background and experience of CGL and its attorneys are summarized in the curriculum vitae attached hereto as Exhibit A.

3. CGL has prosecuted this litigation solely on a contingent-fee basis, and has been at risk that it would not receive any compensation for prosecuting claims against the defendants. While CGL devoted its time and resources to this matter, it has foregone other legal work for which it would have been compensated.

4. During the pendency of the litigation, CGL performed the following work: Research and preparation of various briefs and legal memoranda and assistance with discovery, including the preparation of class representative interrogatory responses, compilation of class representative documents responsive to requests for production, preparation for class representative depositions, coordination of lengthy forensic searches of class representative electronic devices, and review of documents produced by defendants.

5. Attached hereto as Exhibit B is a billing summary of CGL's total hours and lodestar, computed at current billing rates, from June 1, 2013 to February 28, 2017. Counsel for Plaintiffs are not seeking attorneys' fees for any time billed prior to the appointment of lead counsel. See Order dated May 17, 2013 (ECF No. 194). The total number of hours spent by CGL during this period of time was 381.20, with a corresponding lodestar based on current rates of $226,436.00. The lodestar amount reflected in Exhibit B is for work assigned by Lead Counsel, and was performed by professional staff at my law firm. This summary was prepared from contemporaneous, daily time records regularly prepared and maintained by CGL.

6. Attached hereto as Exhibit C is a list of the various billing rates each attorney and staff member at my firm has billed at in this case.

7. Attached hereto as Exhibit D is a compilation of my firm's detailed records at historical billing rates. The entries in Exhibit D have been redacted per the Court's Order in ECF No. 1803.

8. Attached hereto as Exhibit E is a summary of the expenses CGL has incurred during the couurse of this litigation. CGL expended a total of $52,392.03 in unreimbursed costs and expenses in connection with the prosecution of this case. These expenses were incurred on behalf of IPPs by CGL on a contingent basis and have not been reimbursed. The expenses reflected in Exhibit E were prepared from expense vouchers, receipts, and bank records, and thus represent an accurate recordation of the expenses incurred.

9. I have reviewed the time and expenses reported by CGL in this case which are included in this declaration, and I affirm that they are true and accurate.

I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the United States that the foregoing is true and correct.

Executed on May 23, 2017 at Washington, District of Columbia.

Our Firm

Emerson Scott, LLP ("ES") has a national class action legal practice with offices in Houston, Texas, and Little Rock, Arkansas.

The Firm and its team of experienced attorneys and paralegals, handles complex commercial litigation with a concentration on cases that involve violations of federal antitrust statutes, violations of federal and state consumer protection laws, securities laws, and violations of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 ("ERISA"). ES has prosecuted numerous antitrust class action cases, consumer class action cases, securities fraud, and shareholder derivative cases representing consumers, damaged companies, and investors around the country and abroad. ES and its predecessor firms have been active in many class action and individual cases of note. In the class action litigation area, ES and its predecessor firm have represented plaintiffs in well over 100 class action or other complex litigation cases.

In antitrust, ES is currently a member of the Plaintiffs' Counsel Steering Committee in the Aluminum Warehousing Antitrust Litigation representing first level purchasers in this Multi-District Litigation ("MDL"), 13 MDL 2481 (KBF), which was pending in the Southern District of New York and is currently on appeal in the U.S. Court of Appeals for the 2nd Circuit. ES has represented plaintiffs in the Compact Disc Antitrust Litigation filed against the music industry in the United States, and plaintiffs in the High Pressure Laminates Antitrust Litigation in the direct purchaser case. ES has been or is currently involved in the following antitrust cases: Lithium Ion Batteries Antitrust Litigation, CRT (Cathode Ray Tube) Antitrust Litigation, Flash Memory Antitrust Litigation, GPU (Graphics Processing Units) Antitrust Litigation, Ocean Shipping Antitrust Litigation, TFT-LCD (Flat Panel) Antitrust Litigation, Trans-Pacific Airline Surcharge Litigation, Domestic Airlines Antitrust, Liquid Aluminum Sulfate Antitrust Litigation, and Bridgestone Anti-Vibration Rubber Parts Antitrust Litigation, among other cases.

In privacy and data breach, ES is actively involved prosecuting cases for aggrieved consumers in the following pending MDL cases: In re: Anthem Healthcare Data Breach Litigation, MDL No. 2617 (N.D. Cal.); In re: Premera Healthcare Data Breach Litigation, (D. OR.) MDL No. 2633; In re: Medical Informatics Engineering Data Breach Litigation, MDL No. 2667 (N.D. Ind.); In re: Office of Personnel Management Data Breach Litigation (D.D.C.) MDL No. 2664; In re: Experian Data Breach Litigation (C.D.CA.) MDL No. 2676 in which nearly half of the named plaintiffs in the consolidated amended complaint are clients of ES, and In re: Vizio, Inc., Consumer Privacy Litigation (C.D.CA.). ES is also actively involved in prosecuting two data breach cases in Arizona, In re: Banner Health Data Breach Litigation and In re: Valley Anesthesiology Data Breach Litigation.

In other consumer protection cases, ES currently represents numerous corn farmers in the United States in consolidated actions in the MDL In re: Syngenta AG MIR162 Corn Litigation (MDL 2591) pending before Judge John W. Lungstrum in the District of Kansas. In September, 2016, this case was certified as a national class and eight states had classes certified including the state of Arkansas where ES represents the designated Arkansas bellwether trial plaintiff and many other Arkansas corn farmers. John Emerson of Emerson Scott was a leader in the MDL baby bottle action captioned In Re: Bisphenol-A (BPA) Polycarbonate Plastic Products Liability Litigation in the United States District Court for the Western District of Missouri. John Emerson of Emerson Scott was Co-Lead Counsel in the Webb et al. v. Carters Inc. et al. class action litigation in the United States District Court for the Central District of California concerning Carter's line of tag-less baby clothing; in the Montanez et al. v. Gerber Childrenswear, Inc., et al. class action litigation in the United States District Court for the Central District of California concerning Gerber's line of tag-less baby clothing.

ES's predecessor firm served as Co-Lead Counsel in several MDL cases involving product liability and consumer protection issues. In 2004, Emerson Scott's predecessor firm was appointed by the Honorable Stephen P. Friot as Plaintiffs' Co-Lead Counsel in In re: Farmers Insurance Co., Inc. FCRA Litigation, which was settled in the Western District of Oklahoma. This case was litigated on behalf of a certified class of Farmer's current and past customers who were charged more than the lowest premium for insurance based upon information in a consumer report, and received certain "adverse action" notices that willfully failed to conform to the Fair Credit Reporting Act. The case resolved in late 2011 and provided class members with about $100 million in cash and other relief. ES's predecessor firm represented numerous long-grain rice farmers in Arkansas and other states, in the MDL action In re: Genetically Modified Rice Litigation (the "Rice MDL Action"). The Rice MDL Action sought damages for long-grain rice producers in Arkansas, Missouri, Mississippi, Louisiana, and Texas for defendants' contamination of the United States' rice supply with genetically modified rice as revealed by Bayer and the USDA in August 2006. This MDL action was settled for over $750 million in cash relief for American rice farmers. ES's predecessor served as Co-Lead Plaintiffs' Counsel in an MDL case transferred to the Honorable Richard D. Bennett of the District of Maryland captioned In Re: Tyson Foods, Inc. Chicken Raised Without Antibiotics Consumer Litigation. The case involved false advertising claims associated with the sale of Tyson Foods' chicken as being raised without antibiotics, when in fact the chicken was raised with antibiotics. The action was settled for $5 million in cash and other relief for class members who purchased the chicken products at issue.

The Firm has been active in prosecuting cases seeking to improve corporate governance in public companies through its involvement in shareholder derivative litigation. Finally, John Emerson of ES served on the Enron ERISA Litigation Plaintiffs' Counsel Steering Committee. This case settled in the United States District Court, Southern District of Texas, Houston Division in 2005.
